Mr. W. W. SMITH. Mr. President, I have the honor to represent the eighth district of Pennsylvania, in which is situated the Frandford Arsenal, one of the largest Federal institutions in this State. This bill gives the National Government permission to purchase additional ground there, on which to erect buildings for the finishing, manufacture and preparation of munitions of war. It is absolutely necessary that the State of Pennsylvania gives this permission before the National Government can take title, but I have a few notes here which may help the passage of this measure. Personally I do not think there is any doubt about its passage but when you take into consideration that there has been an appropriation of $125,000 for the ground, and $750,000 for the erection of buildings, it means where there are at present employed three thousand people an additional two thousand. There has been authorized an appropriation of $10,000,000 for the manufacture of small munitions, which means work for these people for an additional four years. I feel we are entitled to ask the vote of every man in this Senate. I trust this measure will receive it.

And the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

The yeas and nays were taken agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution and were as follows, viz:

BILL ON THIRD READING AND FINAL PASSAGE.

Mr. SPROUL. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do now resume the consideration of Senate Bill No. 397 (House Bill No. 432), on third reading postponed for the present, entitled

An Act to amend section one of an act entitled "An act providing that in all counties having more than five hundred thousand inhabitants advertisements and notices required by law or rules of court to be published in newspapers of general circulation unless dispensed with by special order of court shall be published in the legal newspaper issued at least weekly of the proper county designated by rules of court for the publication of court or other legal notices" approved the third day of May Anno Domini one thousand nine hundred and nine so as to cause advertisements and notices required by law or rules of court to be published in newspapers of general circulation unless dispensed with by special order of court to be published in the legal newspaper issued at least weekly of the proper county designated by rules of court for the publication of court or other notices in counties having a population of one hundred and fifty thousand inhabitants or more instead of five hundred thousand inhabitants as required by the first act

Mr. KLINE. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. WEAVER. Mr. President, this comes on me rather suddenly, and I am not absolutely certain that this is the bill to which my attention has been called several times by a number of publishers of Westmoreland County. Does this bill provide for the publication in legal journals in counties having over 150,000?

Mr. SPROUL. Mr. President, for the information of the Senator from Westmoreland, I will say that the bill does provide that in counties of over 150,000 people that by a special order of court all legal advertising shall be inserted in the legal publication. I understand that this is true in most counties by order of court anyhow, but this is simply to legalize it.

Mr. WEAVER. Mr. President, we have this situation in Westmoreland County at the present time: I think at the last census our population was something over 231,000. Some time ago there was an effort made to have not only the judge of the orphans' court but the judges of the common pleas and quarter sessions to make an order enforcing publication in a law journal which we have in that place in the Borough of Greensburg. Under the rule of the judge of the orphans' court the publication is made, but the judges of the common pleas court have refused to make an order of that kind and gave their reasons for doing so. I have received protests from almost all the newspapers in Westmoreland County protesting against this for the reason that they feel it will be absolutely inimical to their interests. Of course there is a provision in the bill that it might be dispensed with by special order of court, but that puts the attorney in this position, that he is bound to ask the court in every particular case to make the rule dispensing with the publication in that particular case, and this becomes exceedingly troublesome under these circumstances. I would like very much to vote for this bill if it were not for that fact, and had I not received so many protests from my friends among the publishers.

Mr. SPROUL. Mr. President, to enlighten the Senator further, I am the publisher of two daily papers, and I do not see anything inimical to my interests in the passage of this bill. If the court is opposed to the including of the law journal in the list of publications required, the people who have advertising of that class do not have to put it in the law journal. It requires an order of the court just the same.

Mr. WEAVER. Mr. President, I do not understand that one general order will dispense with the necessity for publication. If I were satisfied of that, I know the Judges of the Court of Common pleas in our county would promptly do it. I am fearful that a special order would have to be made in every particular case, but that would be a nuisance to the attorneys, to say nothing of the court.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

NAYS—2.

Tompkins, Weaver,

A majorty of all the Senators having voted "aye" the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present said bill to the House of Representatives for concurrence.

REPORT OF AUDITOR GENERAL CALLED FOR BY CONCURRENT RESOLUTION.

The Chair cleared his table and laid before the Senate communication in writing from the Auditor General of the Commonwealth, which was read as follows:

The Officers and Members of the General Assembly:

In response to the concurrent resolution of March 20th, 1917.

There are no items in the accounts of the Auditor General's Department which fail to balance.

The receipts from sums appropriated to the Department, exactly balance the expenditures therefrom and the cash in hand.

Assuming, however, that by the "Accounts of the Auditor General" is meant the "Accounts of the Commonwealth" which the Auditor General is required to keep, I answer that the accounts of the Commonwealth from the first Tuesday of May, 1913, to date, show no items which fail to balance; providing the various departments, officers, etc., have in their hands the cash balance with which they are charged on our books. And each and all of them are bonded to more than the balance charged.

The State Treasurer is the officer charged with the handling of the cash of the Commonwealth.

The receipts and the disbursements of the Commonwealth, and the State Treasurer's affidavit of the cash on deposit in the various State depositories also balance exactly.

At the beginning of the business on Tuesday, May 6th, 1913, the State Treasurer was charged on the books of the Commonwealth with having in his hands cash in the total sum of $8,930,424 45

At the close of business on February 28, 1917, the books of the Commonwealth as kept by this Department charged the State Treasurer with having received from May 6, 1913, to February 28, 1917, ...	$134,200,817 51
The books of the Commonwealth on the said February 28, 1917, credited the State Treasurer with having paid out over his signature, between said dates		$135,909,016 55
He was therefore chargeable upon the books of the Commonwealth as kept by the Auditor General's Department, with the difference, or balance, ...		7,222,225 41
	$143,131,241 96	$143,131,241 96
And as his sworn statement of moneys on deposit in the various State depositories as of date of February 28, 1917, showed the same figure, he was charged with that amount as a cash balance for the beginning of the month of March	$7,222,225 41

The Auditor General's office has never, since the first Tuesday of May, 1913, been permitted to close, nor the bookkeepers to leave the cage unless a balance was struck. The rule is, "balance or stay," and when a balance is struck in the Auditor General's office, it is the duty of the State Treasurer and all other Departments, Bureaus and Commissions of the State Government, to balance therewith.

Because certain unknowing and, at present, irresponsible people have not realized this was the condition of the accounts of the Commonwealth, the General Assembly, both by its General and Appropriation Laws, provided that the Auditor General might choose, and the Auditor General has chosen, and still chooses to prove that fact by the audit and certificate of disinterested, responsible and reputable firms of Certified Public Accountants.

The appropriation of $25,000.00 made in the General Appropriation Act of 1915 for the payment of extra clerks, etc., showed a balance unexpended on February 28, 1917, of $4,073.14 and the expenditures had been vouched in detail, approved by the State Treasurer and paid by him.

The Deficiency Appropriation, $25,000.00, carried in the General Deficiency Bill of 1917, was not approved until March 8th, 1917, and no expenditures have been made therefrom for the compensation of expert accountants to this date.

As to the other matters, I have the honor to assure the General Assembly that the books of the Department are open and the vouchers are on file subject to examination by any responsible citizen of the Commonwealth and especially by any member of the General Assembly, in accordance with my tender laid upon the desk of each member at the opening of this session. They will remain open until the first day of May, 1917, at 12 o'clock, noon, at which time I shall turn them over to my successor duly elected by the people of the Commonwealth, accompanied by the certificates of two responsible audit companies as to their condition.

If in any further way I may be able to serve the General Assembly, or any member thereof, as a representative of the people of his district, I shall be glad to do so. And I specifically reserve the right to present the certificate of the said Certified Public Accountants to the General Assembly and further answer the resolution.

Respectfully submitted,

A. W. POWELL,
Auditor General.

State of Pennsylvania,
County of Dauphin, ss:

Before me, the undersigned, personally came H. L. Brindle, who being duly sworn according to law, deposes and says:

That he is the Chief Bookkeeper in the Auditor General's Department of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, and has been continuously employed as a bookkeeper in said Department for about ten years last past.

That at the beginning of business May 6th, 1913, the State Treasurer, was chargeable with a balance in cash of $8,930,424.45.

That the books of the Department from May 6th, 1913, to February 28th, 1917, charge the State Treasurer with duly countersigned receipts in the sum of $134,200,817.51, or a total charge of $143,131,241.96.

That the books of the Department credit the State Treasurer with payments duly made in the sum of $135,909,016.55. The books therefore showed him chargeable with a balance as of the close of business February 28th, 1917, in the sum of $7,222,225.41.

That the affidavit of the Treasurer as to moneys on deposit in the various banks as of the date of February 28, 1917, showed the same figure, and the Treasurer was therefore charged with that sum as a balance at the beginning of business on March 1st, 1917.

CONCURRENT RESOLUTION FOR SPREADING OF REPORT OF AUDITOR GENERAL ON JOURNALS OF SENATE AND HOUSE.

Mr. VARE. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to offer a resolution in connection with the report just read, at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. VARE offered the following resolution, which was twice read:

In the Senate, March 26, 1917.

Resolved (if the House concur), That the reply of the Auditor General of Pennsylvania to the joint resolution of March 20, 1917, requiring of him certain information relative to the accounts of the Commonwealth and the adminisration of his Department, which said reply is as follows:

The Officers and Members of the General Assembly:

In response to the concurrent resolution of March 20th, 1917.

There are no items in the accounts of the Auditor General's Department which fail to balance.

The receipts from sums appropriated to the Department, exactly balance the expenditures therefrom and the cash in hand.

Assuming, however, that by the "Accounts of the Auditor General" is meant the "Accounts of the Commonwealth" which the Auditor General is required to keep, I answer that the accounts of the Commonwealth from the first Tuesday of May, 1913, to date, show no items which fail to balance; providing the various departments, officers, etc., have in their hands the cash balance with which they are charged on our books. And each and all of them are bonded to more than the balance charged.

The State Treasurer is the officer charged with the handling of the cash of the Commonwealth.

The receipts and the disbursements of the Commonwealth, and the State Treasurer's affidavit of the cash on deposit in the various State depositories also balance exactly.

At the beginning of the business on Tuesday, May 6th, 1913, the State Treasurer was charged on the books of the Commonwealth with having in his hands cash in the total sum of $8,930,424 45

At the close of business on February 28, 1917, the books of the Commonwealth as kept by this Department charged the State Treasurer with having received from May 6, 1913, to February 28, 1917, ...	$134,200,817 51
The books of the Commonwealth on the said February 28, 1917, credited the State Treasurer with having paid out over his signature, between said date, ...		$135,909,016 55
He was therefore chargeable upon the books of the Commonwealth as kept by the Auditor General's Department,

with the difference, or balance, ...	7,222,225 41
	$143,131,241 96	$143,131,241 96
And as his sworn statement of moneys on deposit in the various State depositories as of date of February 28, 1917, showed the same figure, he was charged with that amount as a cash balance for the beginning of the month of March	$7,222,225 41

The Auditor General's office has never, since the first Tuesday of May, 1913, been permitted to close, nor the bookkeepers to leave the cage unless a balance was struck. The rule is, "balance or stay," and when a balance is struck in the Auditor General's office, it is the duty of the State Treasurer and all other Departments, Bureaus and Commissions of the State Government, to balance therewith.

Because certain unknowing and, at present, irresponsible people have not realized this was the condition of the accounts of the Commonwealth, the General Assembly, both by its General and Appropriation Laws, provided that the Auditor General might choose, and the Auditor General has chosen, and still chooses to prove that fact by the audit and certificate of disinterested, responsible and reputable firms of Certified Public Accountants.

The appropriation of $25,000.00 made in the General Appropriation Act of 1915 for the payment of extra clerks, etc., showed a balance unexpended on February 28, 1917, of $4,073.14 and the expenditures had been vouched in detail, approved by the State Treasurer and paid by him.

The Deficiency Appropriation, $25,000.00, carried in the General Deficiency Bill of 1917, was not approved until March 8th, 1917, and no expenditures have been made therefrom for the compensation of expert accountants to this date.

As to the other matters, I have the honor to assure the General Assembly that the books of the Department are open and the vouchers are on file subject to examination by any responsible citizen of the Commonwealth and especially by any member of the General Assembly, in accordance with my tender laid upon the desk of each member at the opening of this session. They will remain open until the first day of May, 1917, at 12 o'clock, noon, at which time I shall turn them over to my successor duly elected by the people of the Commonwealth, accompanied by the certificates of two responsible audit companies as to their condition.

If in any further way I may be able to serve the General Assembly, or any member thereof, as a representative of the people of his district, I shall be glad to do so. And I specifically reserve the right to present the certificate of the said Certified Public Accountants to the General Assembly and further answer the resolution.

Respectfully submitted,
A. W. POWELL,
Auditor General.

be spread upon the Journals of the Senate and House of Representatives.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the resolution?

Mr. McNICHOL. Mr. President, I would like to have one thing in my mind settled. As I understand the reading of the report of the Auditor General there is still $4,000 of the $25,000 contingent fund left as a balance in the State Treasury to the credit of the Auditor General. There is also remaining untouched the $25,000 of the deficiency fund appropriated by the House and Senate within the last ten days. If I am not correct, I would like to be corrected.

Mr. VARE. Mr. President, I do not see why any money in connection with the month of March applies to this report in any way. This report covers the period from the time the Auditor General took office until the 28th of February last, the last time the books were balanced. Therefore the question the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. McNichol, asked is irrelevant to this report.

Mr. McNICHOL. Mr. President, I would ask whether my information is correct, whether there is a balance in the hands of the Auditor General in these two funds.

The report of the Auditor General was read by the Clerk a second time.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the resolution?

Mr. EYRE. Mr. President, I move to amend the resolution by referring the report to the Committee on Appropriations and printed copies be furnished to the members of the Senate.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Vare, accept the amendment?

Mr. VARE. Mr. President, the reason for having this spread on the records is this: When we passed that resolution, requesting this report from the Auditor General, that resolution that we passed goes on the statute books. The Auditor General, no matter who he is or what he is, if he is on the level, at least is entitled to have this go on the records, so that people can see that when he was asked for a report he furnished it. He certainly is entitled to have this go on the record. I therefore do not accept the amendment.

The PRESIDENT. The amendment offered by the Senator from Chester, Mr. Eyre, does not appear to be seconded.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the resolution?

Mr. McNICHOL. Mr. President, I am rather in the dark as to the purport of this second resolution. If it is for the purpose of certifying by the action of this chamber our acquiescence in the management of the Auditor General's office at this particular time, then I would like to have that fully explained to this Senate, because, if I am going to place a certificate of character upon the Auditor General's report, which is in such an indefinite form as to its conclusions, I would like to know if that is the purport of this particular resolution.

Mr. VARE. Mr. President, that is not the purport of this resolution. The original resolution was printed on the statute books by reason of it passing this Senate and the House, and this is simply a report from the Auditor General in answer to the former resolution and this resolution is for the purpose of having printed the Auditor General's report. There certainly can be no harm in that; that does not harm anybody. When we ask for a report and the Auditor General makes it, then it certainly ought to go on the record. That is all. It does not say the office is right or it does not say it is wrong. It just says what the Auditor General's report is. That certainly could not harm the state or anyone in the state.

Mr. McNICHOL. Mr. President, if the resolution is for the mere spreading of the report on the record I will vote for the resolution.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the resolution?

It was agreed to.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the House of Representatives for conference.

PRINTING OF REPORT OF AUDITOR GENERAL.

Mr. EYRE. Mr. President, I move that the report be referred to the Committee on Appropriations, and that one hundred copies of the report be printed and placed on the desk of every member of the Senate.

Mr. McNICHOL. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The PRESIDENT. The Chair desires to inform the Senator from Chester, Mr. Eyre, that under the resolution which has just been adopted, the report will be spread at length in the Legislative Journal, so that every member will have it before him for his information.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion,

Mr. EYRE. Mr. President, it will be in much more concrete form if it is prnited in pamphlet form and put on the desks of the Senators.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

It was agreed to.

HOUSE CONCURS IN SENATE BILL NO. 190.

The Clerk of the House of Representatives being introduced returned to the Senate, Senate Bill No. 190, entitled

An Act specifying additional securities in which trustees or directors of savings banks, savings institutions and provident institutions chartered under general or special acts of Assembly may invest moneys deposited therein.

He also returned to the Senate Senate Bill No. 191, entitled

An Act to amend an act, entitled "An Act authorizing companies incorporated under the laws of any other state of the United States for certain purposes to erect and maintain buildings and manufacturing establishments and to take, have and hold real estate necessary and proper for such purposes," approved the thirteenth day of May, Anno Domini one thousand nine hundred and fifteen and to extend the same to companies formed for the purpose of manufacturing and selling coal tar and its products or roofing felt, roofing materials and building papers or products and by products of coal and asphalt.

with the information that the House has passed the same without amendment.

BILLS ON SECOND READING.

Agreeably to order,

The rule requiring bids to be considered in commitee of the whole being in this case dispensed with,

The Senate proceeded to the second reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 109, entitled

An Act for the better protection of wild animals and birds and game within this Commonwealth; requiring non-residents to procure a license before hunting in this Commonwealth; providing penalties for violation of any of its several provisions and prescribing the disposition of license fees and penalties received.

The first section of the bill was read as follows and agreed to:

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That from and after the passage of this act it shall be unlawful for any person residing outside of this Commonwealth to hunt for wild birds or wild animals of any kind found in the fields in the forests or on the waters of this Commonwealth with firearms or with a device of any kind propelling with force a leaden or metal pellett or bullet or through the use of traps or except in the defense of person or property to shoot at or kill or pursue with intent to take kill or wound any such wild birds or wild animals thus found within this Commonwealth without first securing a license to so do in accordance with the provisions of this act

The second section of the bill was read as follows:

Section 2 Every non-resident of this Commonwealth except as otherwise provided by the laws of this Commonwealth such person being a citizen of the United States upon application made verbally or in writing to any county treasurer or to the secretary of the Game Commission at Harrisburg and the presentation of proof that he is a citizen of the United States and the payment of ten dollars to said county treasurer or secretary of the Game Commission shall be entitled to what is herein designated as a "Non-Resident Hunter's License" and a tag with the number of the license thereon and said license and tag shall not be transferable

For services rendered in issuing such license and tag each county treasurer shall be entitled to retain five per centum of all license fees received and shall at least once a month forward to the State Treasurer for purposes hereinafter designated all balences from such fees in his hands and shall at the end of each week forward to the secretary of the Board of Game Commissioners at Harrisburg a statement upon a form provided for such purpose by the Game Commission giving the names of the parties receiving non-resident licenses during that week together with their place of residence their age as stated in the license and the number of such licenses issued to them

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the section?

Mr. EYRE. Mr. President, I move to amend section 2, page 2, line 26, by striking out after the word "their" the word "place" and inserting in lieu thereof the word "places"; also line 27 by striking out the word "age" before the word "as," and inserting in lieu thereof the word "ages;" also by striking out after the word "the" where it first appears the word "license" and inserting in lieu thereof the word "licenses;" also by striking out after the word "the" where it appears the second time the word "number" and inserting in lieu thereof the word "numbers."

Mr. DAIX. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the amendment?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the section as amended?

It was agreed to.

The third and fourth sections of the bill were read as follows and agreed to:

Section 3 Said license shall be issued on a form prepared and supplied by the Board of Game Commissioners at the cost of the Commonwealth and shall bear a description of the person applying for the same with the date of its issue and shall authorize the person named therein to use legal fire-arms or traps for the purpose of hunting and killing any of the wild animals or birds either game or otherwise of this Commonwealth under the restrictions and requirements of existing laws during that year the date of which is inscribed thereon Said certificate shall become void upon the thirty-first day of December next following the date of issue The Game Commission shall also furnish free of charge and the county treasurer shall issue with each license a tag bearing the license number in figures at least one inch in height which tag such licensee shall at all times while either hunting or going to or coming from such hunt have attached to his outer garment either at the back of the sleeve between the shoulder and elbow or on his back where the figures thereon can be readily seen

Section 4 Possession of a gun or the setting or control of a trap of any kind in the fields or in the forests or on the waters or on the highways of this Commonwealth by non-residents of this Commonwealth without having secured the license required by this act duly issued in his or her name shall be prima facie evidence of a violation of its provisions and shall render such person liable to display his license tag as aforesaid and to show his non-resident hunter's license to any officer of this Commonwealth whose duty it is to protect the game and wild birds of the Commonwealth or upon demand by the owner or the lessee or by the employe or representatives of such owner or lessee upon whose lands such person may be found in this Commonwealth and for failure to display the license tag as provided for by this act or for refusing or neglecting to comply with such request such person neglecting or refusing to display his license tag as aforesaid and exhibit his non-resident hunter's license or in any manner violating any provision of this section shall be liable to the penalties imposed by this act for hunting without a license

The fifth section of the bill was read as follows:

Section 5 Jurisdiction for summary conviction for violation of any of the provisions of this act is hereby specifically given to all aldermen magistrates and justices of the peace

Any person who shall be convicted summarily by any alderman magistrate or justice of the peace of the county of a violation of any of the provisions of this act shall be sentenced to pay a penalty as follows

If the defendant has violated any of the provisions of this act but has not killed or captured any game or wild animal nor resisted arrest nor refused to go with the arresting officer nor interfered with the arresting officer the fine shall be twenty-five dollars for each offense and each day he may have so hunted contrary to the provisions of this act shall be considered a separate offense

In addition to the foregoing fine the defendant shall pay a penalty as follows

If the defendant has killed or wounded an elk the penalty shall be two hundred dollars with six months imprisonment If he has shot at an elk but has not wounded or injured same the fine shall be one hundred dollars

Ordered, To be transcribed for a third reading.

Agreeably to order,

The rule requiring bills to be considered in committee of the whole being in this case dispensed with,

The Senate proceeded to the second reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 121, entitled

An Act creating a reward or bounty for the destruction of certain noxious animals killed within the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania; providing a method for the payment of the same, and providing the method of furnishing evidence of said destruction and penalties for the violation of the several provisions hereof.

The first section of the bill was read as follows and agreed to:

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That a reward or bounty shall be paid by this Commonwealth for the killing within the Commonwealth only of the following noxious animals For each Canada or Bay lynx commonly called bobcat or wild-cat the sum of ten dollars for each fox the sum of two dollars for each weasel the sum of one dollar and fifty cents and for each mink the sum of one dollar

The second section of the bill was read as follows:

Section 2 It shall be the duty of any person who having killed within this Commonwealth one or more of the animals named in section one of this act and being desirous of securing the reward or bounty named for such killing as fixed by section one of this act to produce such slain animal or animals or the entire pelt thereof before any game protector or special deputy game protector or any other person authorized to administer oaths within this Commonwealth and to make affidavit that he or some member of his family naming such person killing the same naming it stating clearly the approximate time of such killing that it was killed in a wild state that the place where such animal was killed naming it was within the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania and that such animal was not reared in captivity

Upon the production of such animal or pelt before any person authorized to take affidavits under the provisions of this act such official shall prepare his statement in accordance with the provisions of this and such official shall include in one affidavit all claims for bounty that may be made by one person at one time not to exceed five and shall excepting in the case of a salaried game protector receive in full for services rendered a fee of twenty-five cents where but one animal is named in such affidavit Where more than one animal is named in one affidavit the fee shall be fifty cents such fee in all cases to be paid by the claimant for bounty The affidavit shall preferably be made upon forms to be provided by the Board of Game Commissioners on demand made by any person authorized to take affidavits within this Commonwealth and all affidavits of this character shall in all cases clearly set forth the name of the animal killed for which a bounty is claimed the name of the person killing same the approximate time when such animal was killed that it was killed in a wild state giving as nearly as possible the name of the place and county within this Commonwealth where same was killed and that such animal was not reared in captivity Upon the completion of such affidavit and the payment of the fee as above stated the game protector or other person administering the oath shall deliver said affidavit and skin or pelt brought before him to the claimant for bounty who shall as soon as may be forward such affidavit and the skin or pelt of the animal or animals for the killing of which a bounty is claimed and named in such affidavit to the secretary of the Board of Game Commissioners at Harrisburg

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the section?

Mr. C. A. SNYDER. Mr. President, I move to amend section 2, page 2, line 11, by striking out after the word "person" the word "killing" and inserting in lieu thereof the word "killed"; also page 3, line 11, by inserting after the word "this" the word "act."

Mr. DAIX. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the amendment?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the section as amended?

It was agreed to.

The third, fourth, fifth and sixth sections of the bill were read as follows and agreed to:

Section 3 Upon the receipt of such affidavit and skins or pelts in proper form the secretary of the Board of Game Commissioners being satisfied that the skins or pelt presented to him are the skins or pelts of animals for the killing of which a bounty is offered by this act and that such claims are in all respects legitimate shall as quickly as may be forward his check to the claimant for the amount found to be due and shall return all such skins or pelts at the expense of the bounty fund to such address as the owner may direct and shall at least once a month render an accounting to the Auditor General in such form as he may prescribe of all claims paid giving the name and address of the payee the number of the check given and the amount so paid

For the purposes of this authority the secretary of the game commission is hereby empowered to make requisition upon the fund in the State Treasury designated by law as the bounty fund and to secure through a warrant of the Auditor General such an amount monthly from such fund as may be considered necessary to meet the demands that may be made for bounty during the succeeding month The bond of the secretary of the game commission shall be in such an amount as to cover the amount of cash in his hands at any time

Section 4 The Auditor General upon presentation to him of the requisition of the secretary of the Board of Game Commissioners shall draw his warrant upon the State Treasurer against the fund hereinafter designated received from the hunters' license fees fines penalties and other laws of this Commonwealth as set out in the third section of this act of Assembly and hereinafter designated "fund for the payment of bounties"

Section 5 Pursuant to section twelve of the act of April seventeen one thousand nine hundred and thirteen (Pamphlet Laws eighty-five) providing for the licensing of hunters which provides "It being specifically provided that fifty per centum of any fund returned to the State through or because of the provisions of this act or so much of said fifty per centum as may be needed shall be applied by the Legislature at its biennial sessions to the payment of bounties" one-half of the said sum hereafter received from all hunters' license fees fines and penalties under the provisions of this act of Assembly and all other fines and penalties set apart under any other laws of this Commonwealth for the payment of bounties are hereby directed to be placed by the State Treasurer in a separate and special fund to be designated and known as "fund for the payment of bounties" and all of the moneys placed in said fund are declared to be available as soon as paid into the State Treasury and are hereby specifically appropriated for the payment of the bounties as provided by this act and the Auditor General shall charge against the said fund all the warrants drawn by him for the payments of bounties and the State Treasurer is directed to pay out of said fund all of the warrants so drawn by the Auditor General in favor of the Secretary of the game commission Provided That the office expenses clerk hire postage et cetera necessary to the performance of the extra duties imposed by this act upon the Board of Game Commissioners shall be a charge against the fund created by this act and shall be paid upon requisition of the secretary of said board and in the same form and manner as requisitions for bounty are paid Provided further That any moneys so placed in this fund and not needed under the provisions of this act shall be used solely for the purpose of wild bird and game protection under the supervision of the Board of Game Commissioners to be appropriated by the Legislature in the same manner as other moneys held separate and apart for such use.

Section 6 The game protectors and special deputy game protectors of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania are hereby authorized and empowered to administer the oath necessary to the proving of the claims made as provided by section two of this act but no charge for administering such oath is to be made by any salaried game protector

The seventh section of the bill was read as follows:

Section 7 It shall be unlawful for any person at any time to claim or to receive a bounty for the killing of any animal named in this act the front of the face of which is split before presentation to the persons authorized to take affidavits under the provisions of this act or to at any time collect or attempt to collect a second bounty for the killing of any animal under the provisions of this act or to collect or attempt to collect such bounty through the presentation of the skin or carcass or any part thereof of on animal not named in this act or through deception of any character or to present for the purpose of securing the bounty provided for by this act the skin or carcass or any part thereof of an animal that has been reared in captivity or the skin or carcass or any part thereof of any animal killed or captured outside of this Commonwealth Every person who shall wilfully or fraudulently collect or attempt to collect any reward or bounty provided for by this act to which he or they are not legally entitled under the provisions of this act or shall aid or abet or assist in any capacity official or otherwise in an attempt to defraud the State through the collection or payment of any reward or bounty provided for by this act shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall in addition to the penalty that may be imposed for perjury where a false affidavit is made be sentenced to pay to the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania a fine of not less than one hundred dollars or more than five hundred dollars or in default of the payment thereof with costs shall suffer an imprisonment in the common jail of the county in which the affidavit is made for a period of one day in jail for each dollar of fine imposed and unpaid

On the question,

PRAYER.

The Rev. Henry W. A. Hanson of Harrisburg offered the following prayer:

Our dear Heavenly Father, we thank Thee as the quiet of evening shadows are gathering about us and about those we love who are scattered over this great State of ours. As we turn our minds to those duties that are at our hand may we realize that all work is Thy work; may we realize that only as we look to Thee for light, for guidance and for strength can we ever live up to those great ideals that have brought our nation into being and have kept it true and steadfast. May we ever have that guidance of Thine that will keep us ever true to those high and wonderful standards of righteousness and truth, and may Thy benediction rest upon our body and our nation, we ask for Jesus' sake. Amen.

NAYS—2.

Black,	Chestnut,

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Mr. GEARY. Mr. Speaker, I desire to call up at this time House Bill No. 738, File Folio 1013, on page 9 of to-day's calendar, bills on third reading postponed.

Agreeably to order,

The House resumed the consideration on third reading of House Bill No. 738, entitled

An Act vesting in the persons appointed by the county commissioners of the several counties of this Commonwealth to inspect and repair county roads improved and maintained by such counties the power and authority now vested by law in the constables of the several cities, boroughs and townships of this Commonwealth for the preservation of the peace in and along such roads and for the enforcement of acts of Assembly regulating the speed of automobiles and other vehicles thereon and for the enforcement of the rules and regulations governing the use of such roads, designating such persons county road caretakers and providing for badges evidencing their authority.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. GEARY. Mr. Speaker, I might just say a word on this bill. It was drafted and presented at the request of the commissioners of Allegheny County. There they have about seven hundred miles of improved road—that is macadam and brick road—and in looking after the roads they employ somewhere around two hundred men, styled caretakers, each man having from two to five miles of road to look after,—the removing of glass and obstructions and fixing poles, etc. This bill gives these men the right to have the power of a constable only during the time they are employed on the county roads. They have the power to make arrests for the violation of the traffic laws. In Allegheny County last year the coroner's office showed that there were two hundred and seventy deaths caused by accidents due to automobiles, and the commissioners feel that if these men had this power that this great big death rate would be greatly reduced. There is nothing gained by the men, by the caretakers. They do not get anything extra in the way of fines or costs, only their salaries. There is nothing absolute about the bill, any county can put it in force as they see fit.

On the question recurring?

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz:

NAYS—2.

Barner,	Stofflet,

Ordered, That the Clerk return the same to the Senate with the information that the House of Representatives has passed it without amendments.

RECONSIDERATION OF VOTE ON HOUSE BILL NO. 412.

Mr. RAMSEY. Mr. Speaker, I move that the vote by which House Bill No. 412, File Folio 1085, entitled was defeated on third reading on Tuesday, March 20th, be reconsidered.

An Act prohibiting any officer, member or employe of any department or bureau having charge of police and fire protection of any city of the first class in this Commonwealth from taking any active part in politics, political movements or elections, from canvassing election precincts or from interfering with elections or from using his office to influence politics, political movements or elections and providing penalties for violations thereof.

Mr. SINCLAIR. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. McNichol. Mr. Speaker, this is the bill that was defeated last Tuesday morning on third reading. You, gentlemen who read this bill saw that it applies to Philadelphia only. There were statements made on this floor during the discussion that preceded the defeat of the bill on last Tuesday, and some of those statements would lead you to be disposed to believe that the police were used against certain of your fellow members. In order to satisfy myself as to the truth of that statement made by my colleague from Philadelphia, Mr. Stern, I called at the City Commissioner's office to-day and I got a copy of the official returns of the primary election at which the police opposed Mr. Stern. Now, you gentlemen who served in this House with the late lamented Charles J. Roney know that he was a man of honor and of no mean attainments. You recognize in his candidacy a formidable one, but, notwithstanding, his attributes the returns of the Fifth Ward with the police opposing Mr. Stern as he wishes you to believe, Mr. Crosby received 1,735 votes; Mr. Stern received 1,763; and Charles J. Roney received 70 votes. How do you reconcile a return of that character to the statement that the police were active in that contest? Now, gentlemen, this is a fight, I might say, confined entirely to the Philadelphia delegation. It is a factional fight that the men throughout this State have absolutely no concern in, and I submit for the consideration of you men, to recognize it as a factional fight and that it is not fair that you men should be dragged and bullyragged into changing your attitude that you assumed last Tuesday. This is not good legilsation because there is sufficient legislation on the statute books to-day covering the questions relating to police and firemen in Philadelphia. There is a charge that might be preferred if a fireman or policeman would do as some of my friends in the Philadelphia delegation have led you to suppose they did. They could be prosecuted for intimidating voters and interfering in the carrying on of quiet and orderly election. Read the provisions of this bill, gentlemen, and you will see that it is nothing more or less than an attempt made to show the power of certain gentlemen in the control of this legislative body. They say what will be done and what they will do if you are not good. There have been statements made on this floor relative to men of the Philadelphia delegation that they will be found always opposing good legislation. That statement is unfair and is untrue as it is unfair. We do not care what the charge may be that is preferred if it is founded on truth we are men who have had the courage to raise our voice in support or in opposition to a bill, and we have the courage of our convictions and will stand up and let you men judge whether we are fair or whether we are sincere. Much pressure has been brought to bear on this legislation. Why? Why should men out in the interior part of this State, in the outlying counties of Pennsylvania, come to the assistance of this legislation that was defeated after deliberate consideration by you men last Tuesday? If this was a measure that applied to every part of the State of Pennsylvania then they could very appropriately come to you and ask your support, but it is a matter that applies only to Philadelphia County and I am going to ask you men who stood up last Tuesday and maintained the courage you then displayed that by your vote to-night you repeat and drive off the floor of this House the factional politics that has been interjected and has consumed so much of your time on what has applied particularly to Philadelphia County. You can see that it is upon the merits of this bill irrespective of any interference; you can read this bill and know that it is absolutely unfair when it provides that a man can be sent to prison or fined if he asks his neighbor to vote for a worthy candidate—a prison sentence staring him in the face. You know that this bill has no more merit to-night than it did last Tuesday and I hope that the manhood of this House will manifest itself to-night and I hope that you will put an end to this petty squabbling that has already taken too much of the time of this House.

Mr. BEYER. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. McNichol.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. McNichol, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. McNICHOL. Mr. Speaker, I am always glad to have a conversation with my friend on any subject.

Mr. BEYER. Mr. Speaker, I would like to know from the gentleman whether or not the mayor of Philadelphia is personally opposed to this bill?

Mr. McNICHOL. Mr. Speaker, I will state that being an humble citizen of Philadelphia and not the keeper of the mayor's thoughts or confidence, I know not. I never consulted the gentleman and I know of no man who is in a position to speak for the mayor any more than the gentleman who represents his district in this House, Mr. Hecht.

Mr. BEYER. Mr. Speaker, I desire to further interrogate the gentleman and ask whether the director of the department of public safety of Philadelphia is opposed to this bill?

Mr. McNICHOL. Mr. Speaker, I answer in like manner. I don't spend my time in Philadelphia running around in the city hall finding out how men think. I do my own thinking on the floor of this House.

Mr. BEYER. Mr. Speaker, I desire to further interrogate the gentleman.

Mr. McNICHOL. Mr. Speaker, I will be glad to go on answering if he don't keep me here too late tonight.

Mr. BEYER. Mr. Speaker does the gentleman know of any political organization in the City of Philadelphia that is opposed to this bill?

Mr. McNICHOL. Mr. Speaker, I will state to this House that I do not know of any political organization of the City of Philadelphia that is either in favor of it or opposed, and even if they were in favor of it if it was bad legislation, notwithstanding their being in favor of it, I would still oppose it.

Mr. BEYER. Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House, I am glad that my distinguished friend has answered a few interrogations that I have been permitted to make, in the manner in which he has seen fit to do. You may therefore take it for granted that there appears to be no one interested, so far as the administration of Philadelphia is concerned, no one appears to be either directly or indirectly concerned in this bill by reason of the fact that the eminent sponsor who has just taken his seat, who apparently represents whatever of hostility there is to this measure becoming a law, does not personally know anything concerning the attitude of the Mayor or his Police Director in the City of Pihladelphia. We may further take it for granted that whatever of contest has arisen over this bill has been needlessly made, primarily, for the purpose of drawing factional lines at a time when factional lines ought not to be drawn. I say to you candidly, as a member of this House, that I personally, when I spoke upon this measure last week, had had no interview either with the Mayor or his Director or with any political factor on either side of the political differences in our City and State concerning this bill. When I spoke in support of this bill I did so because I knew that a party of eminently respectable citizens in Philadelphia, who have taken an active part in political affairs for years in our city, known as the Committee of Seventy, stood behind this bill and asked its introduction in this House; that it was at their request that the bill was introduced; and notwithstanding all that may be said concerning any man in this chamber as to what he represents or what he does not represent politically, I had the absolute freedom of speaking in the manner I did last week out of the full sincerity of my conscience because I believe the measure to be in accordance with the character of reform which the citizenship at large, outside of all political powers, wanted enacted into a law for the benefit of a pure ballot. Unfortunately, the measure went to defeat by reason of the absence at the time from this chamber of many men who were not here to vote upon it and also because of the injection into the discussion at the time of factional reports, which they had no right to do, that divided the House. Personally, I cannot see why my own good friend and his friends should not vote with equal sincerity for this bill as I do and as those who will follow me in support of this bill. This bill is not directed at the Mayor of Philadelphia and it is not directed at his Director of Police. I want to say, speaking for myself, that I enjoy with both of them the closest relations of harmony and friendship notwithstanding anything that there may be of a factional contest from time to time in the City of Philadelphia. Unfortunately this factional talk was injected into the bill and men voted against it because they thought they were simply grinding an axe for one faction or the other in the City of Philadelphia. Now this bill is a worthy measure; it is a worthy measure because it enables the doing of something which under existing law cannot be done. Under the Shern Bill, which this apparently supplants, all that can be done is for the head of a department to send for the officer who commits the breach, suspend him from service pending investigation and perhaps expel him afterwards from the police force and that, as I told you last week, is very rarely done. This bill puts into the hands of the citizen that sovereign power which the law says he shall have to call into question the factor of wrong doing of any public servant. It puts into the hands of the citizens of the Commonwealth the right to go before a magistrate and issue a warrant for the violation of the law and see that he who violates this law is justly punished, and it don't wait for the director or head of any department to make up his mind whether or not to take advantage of the wrong which has been done. It puts in the hands of an independent power the discretion they may not want to exercise because a superior perhaps has given the orders which he carried to the people at large. This bill is a reform measue and has no more of a label for one side of the House than for the other. Unfortunately, the very defeat of this bill has been heralded as a victory for some faction in the City of Philadelphia when it ought not to have been. It is a bill, as will be readily seen, backed entirely by the reform organization of the City of Philadelphia as part of their own general plan among a number of bills which will come before the House hereafter for the purification of our city government and the State government and is a line of work which is needed not only in this Commonwealth but many of the cities and States of the country. I feel that as so many members of this chamber were absent when the vote was taken on this measure on final passage last week that I would be glad to vote for this reconsideration. I sincerely believe that justice has not been done on this bill and I see no reason for the unjust reflection upon the bill being a factional bill. It seems to me that if this proposition was fairly presented both sides would support this bill. If it does injury to one it would likely do injury to another. I take it for granted that it cannot do injury anywhere except where the law is openly violated. All this talk about denying the policeman or fireman the exercise of his franchise in buncomb and thrown out to prejudice your mind against this bill. All this bill seeks to stop is the pernicious interference of the police and firemen with the orderly conduct of the election. This refers to Philadelphia, of course, because as a city of the first class, with thousands of policemen and firemen, it is a mighty army in itself that needs to be controlled by some good legislation of this character; and it is all wrong to appeal to the prejudices of men outside of the City of Philadelphia and say to them, it is unfair to you to ask you to reconsider the bill because it does not appeal to you in person because it is not directed to your own city or district that you happen to come from. I therefore trust that every man will vote for the reconsideration of this bill in order, if there is anything too drastic in it, as suggested by those who voted against it, we may have it referred back to the committee and strike out the objectionable features with regard to the sentence to be imposed by the court and see if we cannot come to some common understanding on the subject.

Mr. McNICHOL. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Philadelphia (Mr. Beyer).

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia (Mr. Beyer) permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. BEYER. Mr. Speaker, I will if the gentleman don't keep me out too late.

Mr. McNICHOL. Owing to the intimate relationship existing between you and the Mayor and the Director of Public Safety, have they expressed an opposition to this bill?

Mr. BEYER. Mr. Speaker, they have not.

Mr. McNICHOL. And the bill emanates from reform quarters?

Mr. BEYER. The Committee of Seventy.

Mr. McNICHOL. How long have you been a reformer?

Mr. BEYER. Mr. Speaker, I desire to answer that question. I have never been what might be termed a chronic reformer because I believe that too much reform at times begins to stink; but I believe that there are times when either the Democratic Party or the Republican Party can make up its mind to pass a worthy measure without being a chronic reformer.

Mr. McNICHOL. Then, Mr. Speaker, I am surprised at the gentleman trying to butt into good society.

Mr. FLYNN. Mr. Speaker, I feel that the members of the House are fully informed on this measure. We had it debated most thoroughly on last Tuesday, and again on this motion of reconsideration we have heard it expounded by two of the ablest gentlemen in this House. I feel that under the circumstances, it would be a wise thing to move the previous question, so that we can——

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will probably not have to move the previous question.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the motion?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. Glass and Mr. Milner and were as follows:

SENATE MESSAGE.

HOUSE BILL CONCURRED IN BY SENATE.

The Clerk of the Senate being introduced, returned bill from the House of Representatives numbered and entitled as follows, viz:

House Bill No. 3.

An Act giving the consent of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania to the purchase by the United States of land contiguous to the Frankford Arsenal in Philadelphia County for arsenal purposes and ceding jurisdiction over said land and providing for the retention of concurrent jurisdiction by the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania with the United States on said land for the service of legal processes thereupon.

with information that the Senate has passed the same without amendments.

BILL RECOMMITTED.

Mr. BEYER. Mr. Speaker, I move you that House Bill No. 412, File Folio 1085, entitled

An Act prohibiting any officer, member or employe of any department or bureau having charge of police and fire protection of any city of the first class in this Commonwealth from taking any active part in politics, political movements or elections, from canvassing election precincts or from interfering with elections or from using his office to influence politics, political movements or elections and providing penalties for violation thereof.

which a few moments ago was placed on the postponed calendar, known as the "Police and Firemen's Bill" be referred back to the Committee on Judiciacy Special for the purpose of amendment.

Mr. BAKER. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

BILL ON THIRD READING.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 499 (Senate Bill No. 57), entitled

An Act authorizing cities of the third class to appropriate money annually for music in public parks and in other public places.

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz:

NAYS—1.

Lewis,

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk return the same to the Senate with information that the House of Representatives has passed it without amendment.

MR. RAMSEY IN THE CHAIR.

BILL ON THIRD READING.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 424 (Senate Bill No. 9), entitled

An Act to provide for the change of object of the corporate existence and authorizing and providing a mode for the dissolution and surrender of charters of fire companies.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. WALTER. Mr. Speaker, I should like to know if someone in this body is able to explain the provisions of this bill. It is a Senate bill, but I think the House should know something about it.

Mr. DITRICH. Mr. Speaker, I would say that I am not thoroughly familiar with all the provisions of this bill, but I think I could explain it. Provision is made for paid fire departments, having superseded the volunteer fire departments now in existence in a great many parts of the State, for retaining the corporate entity of those several volunteer fire organizations.

Mr. BOYD. Mr. Speaker, I should like to interrogate the gentleman from Pittsburgh, Mr. Dithrich.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Pittsburgh, Mr. Ditrich, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. DITRICH. Mr. Speaker, I will.

Mr. BOYD. Mr. Speaker, how does this apply to those companies that are semi-paid? Is there any bearing on that? There are many volunteer fire companies that receive compensation from the borough or city and still maintain a volunteer membership.

Mr. DITRICH. Mr. Speaker as I understand it, this applies only to purely volunteer fire organizations, and not to semi-paid organizations.

Mr. WALTER. Mr. Speaker, this bill might work some harm to the general public as distinguished from the members of volunteer fire organizations. I do not know how volunteer fire organizations are conducted in all parts of the Commonwealth, but I have some personal knowledge of our own, and I apprehend the situation is not materially different in different towns in the State. The money always comes from the public, at least to a great extent, by means of fairs and festivals, voluntary contributions and often money is voted by the municipal authorities. I do happen to know of one case which arose in the Borough of Bethlehem a good many years ago, where when a fire organization was dissolved, the borough intervened in court and had the funds accumulated decreed to the members. Now, if it is the effect of this bill to place contributions, given by the public, in the hands of those members of the fire companies who happen to maintain their membership, and I see they are described in the bill "those who are under the by-laws of the company entitled to vote," it would not be a very good practice to devote those accumulations to the benefit of the membership of the company. As I understand this bill from a brief and cursory reading of it, it permits the accumulations in volunteer fire companies to be turned over to the members of the company, and the public which contributed to the fire companies is left out of it altogether. If the members of the House think that is a fair proposition, why then the bill ought to be passed, but the public rights under this bill would be absolutely sacrificed. Virtually, when you contribute to a fire company you look upon it as a charitable contribution, and you do not expect that money to go into the pockets of the individual members, even if a paid fire department be established.

Mr. RICH. Mr. Speaker, this bill says, "that may be desirous of continuing or maintaining their corporate existence for literary, charitable, benevolent or loan and trust purposes whatever." That "loan or trust purposes," would that give the fire company the right to go into the banking business with the funds they would have on hand?

BILL POSTPONED.

Mr. McCAIG. Mr. Speaker, I move the further consideration of this bill be postponed for the present.

Mr. MEARKLE. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

BILLS ON THIRD READING.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 510 (Senate Bill No. 126), entitled

An Act for the relief of indigent war veterans and their families and imposing certain powers and duties upon poor authorities, organizations composed of war veterans and the officers thereof.

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

COMMONWEALTH OF PENNSYLVANIA

Legislative Journal.

Session 1917 — 122nd of the General Assembly

VOL. 4. HARRISBURG, PA., TUESDAY, MARCH 27, 1917. No. 29.

SENATE.

TUESDAY, March 27, 1917.

The Senate met at 11 o'clock A. M.

The PRESIDENT PRO TEMPORE (Mr. E. E. Beidleman) in the Chair.

The Chaplain, Rev. Thomas W. Davis, offered the following prayer:

Almighty God, we thank Thee for the magnificent struggle by means of which the great Russian Empire broke the shackles of intellectual, political and religious slavery. Having eminated from the dark and slavish conditions in which they were situated they have placed themselves alongside of the great republics of the world. Grant, Dear Heavenly Father, that this nation may see the right time, if such time arrives, to enter into this great struggle for the inalienable rights of humanity. Be with us here in all our deliberations. We ask in our Saviour's name. Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVED.

The PRESIDENT. A quorum of the Senate being present, the Clerk will read the Journal of the preceding session.

The Clerk proceeded to read the Journal of the preceding session, when, on motion of Mr. HOMSHER, the further reading was dispensed with, and the Journal was approved.

Jenkins,

A majority of all the Senators having voted "aye" the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk return said bill to the House of Representatives with information that the Senate has passed the same with amendments in which the concurrence of the House is requested.

Agreeably to order,

The Senate resumed the consideration of Senate Bill No. 470, as follows:

An Act to provide transportation to and from Vicksburg Mississippi for all surviving soldiers of those organizations which participated in the Siege of Vicksburg Mississippi in June and July One thousand eight hundred and sixty-three to enable them to unite in participation of a National Memorial Reunion and Peace Jubilee to be held in the National domain within the Vicksburg National Military Park October sixteenth seventeenth eighteenth and nineteenth one thousand nine hundred and seventeen and making an appropriation for said transportation and providing for the expenses of the Commission appointed under the provisions of this act

Whereas A memorial celebration and peace jubliee was held at Gettysburg Pennsylvania on the fiftieth anniversary of the battle fought at that place during the Civil War in July nineteen hundred and thirteen and such celebration gave to the veterans of the Union Army known as the Army of the Potomac and the Confederate Army known as the Army of Virginia an opportunity of meeting in such a gathering of peace and unity and

Whereas Coincidently with that battle and equally important event to this country occurred in July eighteen hundred and sixty-three in the siege and defense of Vicksburg the survivors of the Armies of the Tennessee and of the Mississippi who participated in that siege now desire to join in a National Memorial Reunion and peace Jubilee to commemorate the half century of peace and prosperity to the American nation and further to strengthen the fraternal ties of brotherly amity in a United Nation of States and

Whereas The United States Congress in sixty-fourth Congress passed an Act approved September eighth one thousand nine hundred and sixteen appropriating the sum of one hundred and fifty thousand dollars to provide and furnish under the direction and management of the Secretary of War the necessary supply of water sewerage sanitation and hospital service for the health and accommodation of the attending veterans and to provide and furnish all necessary tents and garrison equipment together with the required rations and supplies properly prepared and served to such veterans as may attend the National Memorial Reunion and Peace Jubilee to be held in the National domain within the Vicksburg National Military Park October sixteenth seventeenth eighteenth and nineteen nineteen hundred and seventeen Now therefore

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That there shall be provided and furnished at the expense of the Commonwealth to all surviving honorably discharged soldiers resident in Pennsylvania at the date of the passage of this act and whose names are borne upon the rolls of the Forty-fifth Fiftieth Fifty-first and One Hundred Regiments of Pennsylvania Volunteers and Durell's Battery of Pennsylvania which organizations participated in the Siege of Vicksburg transportation to cover distance from the railway station in Pennsylvania at which such soldier lives or from the railway station in Pennsylvania nearest to their places of residence by the shortest and most convenient route to Vicksburg Mississippi and return and it shall be so arranged as to terms of passage that the said transportation shall be good for at least twenty days

Section 2 That the Adjutant General of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania be and is hereby directed authorized and empowered to provide transportation for said soldiers as aforesaid to and from Vicksburg Mississippi For such transportation he is authorized to pay such sums of money as shall be agreed upon and the Adjutant General is further authorized to provide such blanks and establish such rules for the reception of application and the issuance of orders for transportation as may be deemed proper and shall give publicity to the provisions of this act in order that all soldiers entitled to transportation under the same may avail themselves of its benefits

Section 3 That any person who shall impersonate any soldier entitled to the provisions of this act to secure transportation under it or use or attempt to use the transportation provided for such soldiers or any soldier who having procured such transportation and who shall sell barter trade or dispose of such transportation in any manner whatsoever to any other person shall be guilty of misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be fined not more than fifty dollars or imprisonment not more than one month or both at the descretion of the court

Section 4 That the sum of ten thousand dollars or so much thereof as may be necessary is hereby appropriated out of any money in the Treasury not otherwise appropriated to defray the expense of transportation provided for in this act Said appropriation to be paid on the warrant of the Auditor General upon the requisition of the Adjutant General drawn in the usual manner The Adjutant General shall within ninety days after the close of the National Memorial Reunion and Peace Jubilee file with the Auditor General itemized vouchers showing the disbursements for said transportation

Section 5 That the Governor shall appoint three commissioners members of the Grand Army of the Republic Department of Pennsylvania who need not necessarily be members of the organizations which participated in the Siege of Vicksburg The duty of said commissioners shall be to make all necessary arrangements for the comfort of the representatives of the regiments aforesaid including Durell's Battery while in attendance at said reunion The sum of six hundred dollars or so much thereof as may be necessary is hereby appropriated out of any money in the Treasury not otherwise appropriated to defray the expenses of the said commission Said appropriation to be paid by warrant of the Auditor General upon the requisition of the Adjutant General who shall file with the Auditor General within ninety days after the close of the National Memorial Reunion and Peace Jubilee itemized vouchers showing the disbursements of said commission for said expenses

VIII The time if agreed upon when the contribution of each limited partner is to be returned

IX The share of the profits or the other compensation by way of income which each limited partner shall receive by reason of his contribution

X The right if given of a limited partner to substitute an assignee as contributor in his place and the terms and conditions of the substitution

XI The right if given of the partners to admit additional limited partners

XII The right if given of one or more of the limited partners to priority over other limited partners as to contributions or as to compensation by way of income and the nature of such priority

XIII The right if given of the remaining general partner or partners to continue the business on the death retirement or insanity of a general partner and

XIV The right if given of a limited partner to demand and receive property other than cash in return for his contribution

(b) File for record the certificate in the office of the recorder of deeds of the county in which the principal place of business of the limited partnership shall be located

(2) A limited partnership is formed if there has been substantial compliance in good faith with the requirements of paragraph (1)

(3) The recorder of deeds shall record the certificate and the acknowledgment thereto at large in a book to be kept for that purpose open to public inspection

Section 3 (Business which may be carried on) A limited partnership may carry on any business which a partnership without limited partners may carry on

Section 4 (Character of limited partner's contribution) The contributions of a limited partner may be cash or other property but not services

Section 5 (A name not to contain surname of limited partner exceptions) (1) The surname of a limited partner shall not appear in the partnership name unless

(a) It is also the surname of a general partner or

(b) Prior to the time when the limited partner became such the business had been carried on under a name in which his surname appeared

(2) A limited partner whose name appears in a partnership name contrary to the provisions of paragraph (1) is liable as a general partner to partnership creditors who extend credit to the partnership without actual knowledge that he is not a general partner

Section 6 (Liability for False Statements in Certificates) If the certificate contains a false statement one who suffers loss by reliance on such statement may hold liable any party to the certificate who knew the statement to be false

(a) at the time he signed the certificate or

(b) Subsequently but within a sufficient time before the statement was relied upon to enable him to cancel or amend the certificate or to file a petition for its cancellation or amendment as provided in section twenty-five (3)

Section 7 (Limited Partner Not Liable to Creditors) A limited partner shall not become liable as a general partner unless in addition to the exercise of his rights and powers as a limited partner he takes part in the control of the business

Section 8 (Admission of Additional Limited Partners) After the formation of a limited partnership additional limited partners may be admitted upon filing an amendment to the original certificate in accordance with the requirements of section twenty-five

Section 9 (Rights Powers and Liabilities of a General Partner) (1) A general partner shall have all the rights and powers and be subject to all the restrictions and liabilities of a partner in a partnership without limited partners except that without the written consent or ratification of the specific act by all the limited partners a general partner or all of the general partners have no authority to

(a) Do any act in contravention of the certificate

(b) Do any act which would make it impossible to carry on the ordinary business of the partnership

(c) Confess a judgment against the partnership

(d) Possess partnership property or assign their rights in specific partnership property for other than a partnership purpose

(e) Admit a person as a general partner

(f) Admit a person as a limited partner unless the right so to do is given in the certificate

(g) Continue the business with partnership property on the death retirement or insanity of a general partner unless the right so to do is given in the certificate

Section 10 (Rights of a Limited Partner) (1) A limited partner shall have the same rights as a general partner to

(a) Have the partnership books kept at the principal place of business of the partnership and at all times to inspect and copy any of them

(b) Have on demand true and full information of all things affecting the partnership and a formal account of partnership affairs whenever circumstances render it just and reasonable and

(c) Have dissolution and winding up by decree of court

(2) A limited partner shall have the right to receive a share of the profits or other compensation by way of income and to the return of his contribution as provided in sections fifteen and sixteen

Section 11 (Status of Persons Erroneously Believing Himself a Limited Partner) A person who has contributed to the capital of a business conducted by a person or partnership erroneously believing that he has become a limited partner in a limited partnership is not by reason of his exercise of the rights of a limited partner a general partner with the person or in the partnership carrying on the business or bound by the obligations of such person or partnership provided that on ascertaining the mistake he promptly renounces his interest in the profits of the business or other compensation by way of income

Section 12 (One Person both General and Limited Partner) (1) A person may be a general partner and a limited partner in the same partnership at the same time

(2) A person who is a general and also at the same time a limited partner shall have all the rights and powers and be subject to all the restrictions of a general partner except that in respect to his contribution he shall have the rights against the other members which he would have had if he were not also a general partner

Section 13 (Loans and Other Business Transactions with Limited Partner) (1) A limited partner also may loan money to and transact other business with the partnership and unless he is also a general partner receive on account of resulting claims against the partnership with general creditors a pro rata share of the assets No limited partner shall in respect to any such claim

(a) Receive or hold as collateral security any partnership property or

(b) Receive from a general partner or the partnership any payment conveyance or release from liability if at the time the assets of the partnership are not sufficient to discharge partnership liabilities to persons not claiming as general or limited partners

(2) The receiving of collateral security or a payment conveyance or release in violation of the provisions of paragraph (1) is a fraud on the creditors of the partnership

Section 14 (Relation of Limited Partners Inter Se) Where there are several limited partners the members may agree that one or more of the limited partners shall have priority over other limited partners as to the return of their contributions as to their compensation by way of income or as to any other matter If such an agreement is made it shall be stated in the certificate and in the absence of such a statement all the limited partners shall stand upon equal footing

Section 15 (Compensation of limited partner) A limited partner may receive from the partnership the share of the profits or the compensation by way of income stipulated for in the certificate provided that after such payment is made whether from the property of the partnership or that of a general partner the partnership assets are in excess of all liabilities of the partnership except liabilities to limited partners on account of their contributions and to general partners

Section 16 (Withdrawal or reduction of limited partner's contribution) (1) A limited partner shall not receive from a general partner or out of partnership property any part of his contribution until

(a) All liabilities of the partnership except liabilities to general partners and to limited partners on account of their contributions have been paid or there remains property of the partnership sufficient to pay them

(b) The consent of all members is had unless the return of the contribution may be rightfully demanded under the provisions of paragraph (2) and

(c) The certificate is cancelled or so amended as to set forth the withdrawal or reduction

(2) Subject to the provisions of paragraph (1) a limited partner may rightfully demand the return of his contribution

(a) On the dissolution of a partnership or

BILL ON THIRD READING.

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 595, entitled

An Act regulating the practice and procedure of the sheriff or deputy sheriff under writs of inquisition, condemnation, inquiry of damages, lunacy or habitual drunkard proceedings, partition proceedings or by virtue of any other writ or process issued by the court of this Commonwealth wherein the existing laws require the sheriff to be present in person.

And said bill having been read at length the third time,

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill?

Mr. KLINE. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to amend the title, page 1, line 2, by striking out the word "or" and inserting in lieu thereof the word "of.'

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

The amendment was agreed to.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on third reading as amended?

It was agreed to.

Ordered, That the bill as amended be printed for the use of the Senate.

REPORT FROM COMMITTEE.

Mr. KLINE. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to make report from committee at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. KLINE, from the Committee on Judiciary General, reported as committed Senate Bill No. 643 (House Bill No. 384), entitled

An Act to amend an act approved the fifth day of May, one thousand nine hundred and eleven, entitled "An Act to amend the first section of an act approved the tenth day of May, Anno Domini one thousand nine hundred and seven, entitled 'An Act to fix the salaries of the clerk, deputy clerk, court clerks, and employes in the office of clerk of the court of oyer and terminer and quarter sessions of the peace of any county of this Commonwealth having a population of one million or over,' so as to make it apply to counties having a population of one million four hundred thousand or over.

BILL INTRODUCED.

Mr. KLINE. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to read a bill in place at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. KLINE read in his place and presented to the Chair Senate Bill No. 698, entitled

An Act to prevent the incorporation of societies and associations not for profit with names, styles or title identical with or similar to the names, styles or titles of State boards, commissions or other activities and the use by such societies and associations already incorporated of such names, styles or titles, where such identity or similarity is calculated to result or has resulted in a confusion in the public mind between the recommendations and operations of such societies and associations, and those of said State boards, commissions or other activities.

Which was committed to the Committee on Judiciary General.

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE.

Mr. TOMPKINS. Mr. President, I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Cambria, Mr. Tompkins, will state his question of personal privilege.

Mr. TOMPKINS. Mr. President, I just want to make a statement in regard to Senate Bill No. 19, abolishing capital punishment. I want to say this bill is the handiwork of John Francies, warden of the Western Penitentiary, and that the work that has been done in this body and the House of Representatives is largely credited to Representative Wells, of Philadelphia, and Representative Hess, of Lancaster.

BILL ON THIRD READING AND FINAL PASSAGE.

Mr. P. W. SNYDER. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do now proceed to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 121, entitled

An Act creating a reward or bounty for the destruction of certain noxious animals killed within the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania; providing a method for the payment of the same and providing the method of furnishing evidence of said destruction and penalties for the violation of the several provisions hereof.

Mr. C. A. SNYDER. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 121, as follows:

An Act creating a reward or bounty for the destruction of certain noxious animals killed within the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania; providing a method for the payment of the same, and providing the method of furnishing evidence of said destruction and penalties for the violation of the several provisions hereof

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That a reward or bounty shall be paid by this Commonwealth for the killing within the Commonwealth only of the following noxious animals For each Canada or Bay lynx commonly called bobcat or wild-cat the sum of ten dollars for each fox the sum of two dollars for each weasel the sum of one dollar and fifty cents and for each mink the sum of one dollar

"Where a turnpike toll-road or toll-bridge company or other private corporation shall own or control the whole or any part of a road route or bridge forming all or any portion of a State highway as hereinafter described and defined it shall be the duty of the State Highway Commissioner for and in behalf of the Commonwealth by amicable agreement to purchase said turnpike toll-road or such part thereof or toll-bridge owned by such company or corporation and if a fair and reasonable price which shall be approved by the Governor for said road or part thereof or toll-bridge cannot be agreed upon it shall then be lawful for the State Highway Commissioner to petition the court of quarter sessions of the county in which the State highway or any part thereof owned or controlled by said turnpike company bridge company or other private corporation is located setting forth that such turnpike or toll-road or part thereof or toll-bridge is a State highway within the designation and description of this act and that no agreement as to price or damage can be reached and thereupon said court shall appoint a jury of view consisting of five reputable citizens of the county in which the road or part thereof or toll-bridge is located and the said jury having been sworn or affirmed to perform their duties faithfully justly and impartially shall after due notice to the company or corporation and the State Highway Commissioner view and condemn the said turnpike toll-road or part thereof or toll-bridge as a State highway or part thereof and shall appraise and report the damages which the owner or owners shall be entitled to receive therefor And for the purpose of appraising the damages as aforesaid the said jury shall first hear evidence on the part of the said owner or owners and afterwards shall hear evidence on the part of the State Highway Commissioner after which evidence shall be heard in rebuttal and in sur-rebuttal as prescribed for trials at law Said report shall be presented for confirmation nisi at the term of said court next succeeding said appraisement and view unless by order of said court the same be continued to a later term and if no exceptions are filed thereto said report shall at the expiration of thirty days after confirmation nisi be confirmed absolutely and an appeal therefrom by the Commonwealth or the company or corporation shall lie to the court of common pleas of said county within thirty days after confirmation absolute and upon issue framed by the court of common pleas the damages shall then be ascertain as in similar cases subject to an appeal to the Superior or Supreme courts as the case may be The said court of quarter sessions may in its discretion appoint a competent stenographer to keep a faithful record of all proceedings before the viewers and to furnish a full copy of his notes to be attached to and form a part of the record And the said stenographer shall be allowed the same compensation as that paid in their respective county to court stenographers and each viewer shall be allowed the sum of two dollars and fifty cents for each day necessarily employed which together with the compensation allowed the said stenographer shall be taxed as part of the costs of the proceeding and be paid as hereinafter provided Immediately upon agreement reached or upon completion of any court proceedings and acceptance of the appraisement or verdict by the Commissioner the damages so determined or awarded shall be paid by the Commonwealth together with the costs and expenses of proceedings in condemnation and the said turnpike toll-road or part thereof or toll-bridge shall become a State highway or part thereof free from tolls Provided That if the amount of damages as finally awarded shall be deemed excessive by the State Highway Commissioner he may refuse to accept the appraisement or verdict and may then omit said turnpike or toll-road or part thereof or toll-bridge from the aforesaid route of State highway and all court costs and costs of jury proceedings shall thereupon be paid by the State Highway Department and by necessary divergence therefrom he may select and adopt the next best and most suitable and convenient route or road in order to connect up and complete a continuous State highway and thereafter such diverged route or road shall be taken and remain and be as much a part of the State highways of the Commonwealth as though otherwise particularly described in this act Provided further That at any time during the proceedings in condemnation after the filing of the original petition of the State Highway Commissioner the said Highway Commissioner with the consent and approval of the Governor may after ten days' written notice to the owner or owners of said turnpike toll-road highway or toll-bridge present to the said court of quarter sessions of the proper county a declaration of his intention to immediately enter upon and take the said turnpike toll-road or part thereof or toll-bridge and to pay or cause to be paid to the said owner or owners such amount of damages as shall be assessed in the manner provided for by this act and all costs and expense of the said proceedings which declaration shall contain a certificate of State Highway Commissioner that sufficient funds to pay all possible damages costs and expenses of said proceedings have been appropriated by the Legislature and are available for this specific purpose and upon presentation of said declaration the said court shall mark the same filed of record in said proceedings whereupon the funds in the hands of the State Highway Commissioner or in the State Treasury and specifically appropriated to the use of the State Highway Commissioner shall be pledged and deemed as security for all damages done or suffered or which shall accrue by reason of the taking of said turnpike toll-road or part thereof or toll-bridge and the said turnpike toll-road or part thereof or toll-bridge shall immediately become a State Hiighway or part thereof free from tolls and the same may then be improved and maintained by the State Highway Commissioner in the manner provided by this act and upon completion of the proceedings in condemnation the State Highway Commissioner shall accept the appraisement and verdict and the damages so determined or awarded shall be paid by the Commonwealth together with the costs and expenses and in case the said damages and costs and expenses are not paid within thirty days from the final adjudication and judgment thereon the owner or owners of said turnpike toll-road highway or toll-bridge may enforce the same by payment of the same by writ of mandamus which shall be issued by the court of common pleas of the county in which the seat of government is or may be located and shall be proceeded in as provided by law And provided further That where an existing turnpike or toll-roads or parts thereof or toll-bridges owned by turnpike or toll-bridge companies or private corporations shall be or form any part of any State highway hereinbefore designated described or defined the same are not hereby immediately taken over for improvement or repair but the purchase thereof shall be deferred by the State Highway Commissioner and the same shall remain and be operated and controlled by the owners thereof as heretofore until such time as the work of improvement of all other State highways and parts or portions thereof shall have been completed And provided further If in the judgment of the State Highway Commissioner local or special conditions of any of said turnpikes or toll-roads or any part or parts thereof or toll-bridges are such as tend to interfere with or inconvenience travel thereon and shall sooner require the purchase improvement and control thereof by the State then upon the approval of the Governor such turnpike or turnpikes toll-road or toll-roads or part or parts thereof or toll-bridge or toll-bridges so affected by such local or special conditions shall be taken over On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the title as amended?

It was agreed to.

And said bill having been read at length the second time, and agreed to,

Ordered, To be transcribed for a third reading.

Agreeably to order,

The rule requiring bills to be considered in committee of the whole being in this case dispensed with,

The Senate proceeded to the second reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 650, as follows:

An Act making an appropriation to A K Cassel for services rendered as Deputy Commissioner in the Dairy and Food Division of the Department of Agriculture

Whereas Pursuant to the provisions of an act approved the twenty-sixth day of May one thousand eight hundred and ninety-three (Pamphlet Laws one hundred fifty-two) entitled "An Act to enlarge the powers of the State Board of Agriculture to authorize the said Board to enforce the provisions of the act entitled 'An Act for the protection of the public health and to prevent adulteration of dairy products and fraud in the sale thereof' approved May twenty-one Anno Domini one thousand eight hundred and eighty-five and of other acts in relation to dairy products to authorize the appointment of an agent of the said board who shall be known as the 'Dairy and Food Commissioner' and to define his duties and fix his compensation being supplementary to an act entitled 'An Act to establish a State Board of Agriculture' approved May eighth Anno Domini one thousand eight hundred and seventy-six" That one A K Cassel was appointed Deputy Commissioner in the Dairy and Food Division of the Department of Agriculture on the first day of September one thousand eight hundred and ninety-three at a salary of one hundred and twenty-five dollars ($125.00) per month and traveling expenses and immediately entered upon the discharge of his duties and

Whereas By the fifty-second quarterly report of the Pennsylvania Board of Agriculture Institute Essays one thousand eight hundred and ninety-four pages nine to sixteen it appears that the money for the payment of certain expenses had been advanced by the said A K Cassel and other parties with the expectation that the next legislature would appropriate money to reimburse these necessary expenditures and

Whereas A part of such moneys advanced was raised by the issuance of "Loan Fund Certificates" issued by the Dairymens National Protective Association and

Whereas Numbers thirty fifty-six and fifty-seven of said certificates were issued in part payment for services rendered by the said A K Cassel to the Commonwealth and certificates numbers twenty-three twenty-four twenty-seven twenty-eight and twenty-nine were issued to one Luther S Kaufman in part payment for services rendered to the Commonwealth and these certificates were purchased by and duly assigned to said A K Cassel and

Whereas The amount of the moneys so advanced and expended by the said A K Cassel was four hundred dollars ($400.00) for which amount of moneys the said A K Cassel has never been reimbursed by the Commonwealth therefore

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That the sum of nine hundred and fifty-two dollars ($952.00) being the principal of four hundred dollars ($400.00) with interest to the amount of five hundred and fifty-two dollars ($552.00) is hereby specifically appropriated for the payments of the moneys advanced by the said A K Cassel as full and complete compensation for his services rendered as Deputy Commissioner in the Dairy and Food Division of the Department of Agriculture The above sum shall be paid to the said A K Cassel on a warrant of the Auditor General in the usual manner

And said bill having been read at length the second time, and agreed to,

Ordered, To be transcribed for a third reading.

HOUSE CONCURS IN RESOLUTION FOR PRINTING REPORT OF AUDITOR GENERAL IN JOURNALS OF SENATE AND HOUSE.

He also presented communication from the House of Representatives informing the Senate that the House has concurred in resolution from the Senate as follows:

In the Senate, March 26, 1917.

Resolved (if the House concur), That the reply of the Auditor General of Pennsylvania to the joint resolution of March 20, 1917, requiring of him certain information relative to the accounts of the Commonwealth and the administration of his Department, which said reply is as follows:

The Officers and Members of the General Assembly:

In response to the concurrent resolution of March 20th, 1917.

There are no items in the accounts of the Auditor General's Department which fail to balance.

The receipts from sums appropriated to the Department, exactly balance the expenditures therefrom and the cash in hand.

Assuming, however, that by the "Accounts of the Auditor General" is meant the "Accounts of the Commonwealth" which the Auditor General is required to keep, I answer that the accounts of the Commonwealth from the first Tuesday of May, 1913, to date, show no items which fail to balance; providing the various departments, officers, etc., have in their hands the cash balance with which they are charged on our books. And each and all of them are bonded to more than the balance charged.

The State Treasurer is the officer charged with the handling of the cash of the Commonwealth.

The receipts and the disbursements of the Commonwealth, and the State Treasurer's affidavit of the cash on deposit in the various State depositories also balance exactly.

At the beginning of the business on Tuesday, May 6th, 1913, the State Treasurer was charged on the books of the Commonwealth with having in his hands cash in the total sum of	$8,930,424 45
At the close of business on February 28, 1917, the books of the Commonwealth as kept by this Department charged the State Treasurer with having received from May 6, 1913, to February 28, 1917, ...	$134,200,817 51
The books of the Commonwealth on the said February 28, 1917, credited the State Treasurer with having paid out over his signature, between said date, ...		$135,909,016 55
He was therefore chargeable upon the books of the Commonwealth as kept by the Auditor General's Department, with the difference, or balance, ...		7,222,225 41
	$143,131,241 96	$143,131,241 96
And as his sworn statement of moneys on deposit in the various State depositories as of date of February 28, 1917, showed the same figure, he was charged with that amount as a cash balance for the beginning of the month of March	$7,222,225 41

The Auditor General's office has never, since the first Tuesday of May, 1913, been permitted to close, nor the bookkeepers to leave the cage unless a balance was struck. The rule is, "balance or stay," and when a balance is struck in the Auditor General's office, it is the duty of the State Treasurer and all other Departments, Bureaus and Commissions of the State Government, to balance therewith.

Because certain unknowing and, at present, irresponsible people have not realized this was the condition of the accounts of the Commonwealth, the General Assembly, both by its General and Appropriation Laws, provided that the Auditor General might choose, and the Auditor General has chosen, and still chooses to prove that fact by the audit and certificate of disinterested, responsible and reputable firms of Certified Public Accountants.

The appropriation of $25,000.00 made in the General Appropriation Act of 1915 for the payment of extra clerks, etc., showed a balance unexpended on February 28, 1917, of $4,073.14 and the expenditures had been vouched in detail, approved by the State Treasurer and paid by him.

The Deficiency Appropriation, $25,000.00, carried in the General Deficiency Bill of 1917, was not approved until March 8th, 1917, and no expenditures have been made therefrom for the compensation of expert accountants to this date.

As to the other matters, I have the honor to assure the General Assembly that the books of the Department are open and the vouchers are on file subject to examination by any responsible citizen of the Commonwealth and especially by any member of the General Assembly, in accordance with my tender laid upon the desk of each member at the opening of this session. They will remain open until the first day of May, 1917, at 12 o'clock, noon, at which time I shall turn them over to my successor duly elected by the people of the Commonwealth, accompanied by the certificates of two responsible audit companies as to their condition.

If in any further way I may be able to serve the General Assembly, or any member thereof, as a representative of the people of his district, I shall be glad to do so. And I specifically reserve the right to present the certificate of the said Certified Public Accountants to the General Assembly and further answer the resolution.

Respectfully submitted,

A. W. POWELL,
Auditor General.

be spread upon the Journals of the Senate and House of Representatives.

NOMINATIONS BY THE GOVERNOR.

REPORT FROM AUDITOR GENERAL.

The Speaker laid before the House the report of the Auditor General in response to the concurrent resolution of March 20th, 1917.

(For Report see Appendix.)

RESOLUTION FOR CONCURRENCE.

The Clerk of the Senate being introduced, presented the following extract from the Journal of the Senate, which was read as follows, viz:

In the Senate, March 26, 1917.

Resolved (if the House of Representatives concur), That the reply of the Auditor General of Pennsylvania to the joint resolution of March 20, 1917, requiring of him certain information relative to the accounts of the Commonwealth and the administration of his Department, which said reply is as follows:

REPORT FROM AUDITOR GENERAL.

The Officers and Members of the General Assembly:

In response to the concurrent resolution of March 20th, 1917.

There are no items in the accounts of the Auditor General's Department which fail to balance.

The receipts from sums appropriated to the Department, exactly balance the expenditures therefrom and the cash in hand.

Assuming, however, that by the "Accounts of the Auditor General" is meant the "Accounts of the Commonwealth" which the Auditor General is required to keep, I answer that the accounts of the Commonwealth from the first Tuesday of May, 1913, to date, show no items which fail to balance; providing the various departments, officers, etc., have in their hands the cash balance with which they are charged on our books. And each and all of them are bonded to more than the balance charged.

The State Treasurer is the officer charged with the handling of the cash of the Commonwealth.

The receipts and the disbursements of the Commonwealth, and the State Treasurer's affidavit of the cash on deposit in the various State depositories also balance exactly.

At the beginning of the business on Tuesday, May 6th, 1913, the State Treasurer was charged on the books of the Commonwealth with having in his hands cash in the total sum of	$8,930,424 45
At the close of business on February 28, 1917, the books of the Commonwealth as kept by this Department charged the State Treasurer with having received from May 6, 1913, to February 28, 1917, ...	$134,200,817 51
The books of the Commonwealth on the said February 28, 1917, credited the State Treasurer with having paid out over his signature, between said dates		$135,909,016 55
He was therefore chargeable upon the books of the Commonwealth as kept by the Auditor General's Department, with the difference, or balance, ...		7,222,225 41
	$143,131,241 96	$143,131,241 96
And as his sworn statement of moneys on deposit in the various State depositories as of date of February 28, 1917, showed the same figure, he was charged with that amount as a cash balance for the beginning of the month of March	$7,222,225 41

The Auditor General's office has never, since the first Tuesday of May, 1913, been permitted to close, nor the bookkeepers to leave the cage unless a balance was struck. The rule is, "balance or stay," and when a balance is struck in the Auditor General's office, it is the duty of the State Treasurer and all other Departments, Bureaus and Commissions of the State Government, to balance therewith.

Because certain unknowing and, at present, irresponsible people have not realized this was the condition of the accounts of the Commonwealth, the General Assembly, both by its General and Appropriation Laws, provided that the Auditor General might choose, and the Auditor General has chosen, and still chooses to prove that fact by the audit and certificate of disinterested, responsible and reputable firms of Certified Public Accountants.

The appropriation of $25,000.00 made in the General Appropriation Act of 1915 for the payment of extra clerks, etc., showed a balance unexpended on February 28, 1917, of $4,073.14 and the expenditures had been vouched in detail, approved by the State Treasurer and paid by him.

The Deficiency Appropriation, $25,000.00, carried in the General Deficiency Bill of 1917, was not approved until March 8th, 1917, and no expenditures have been made therefrom for the compensation of expert accountants to this date.

As to the other matters, I have the honor to assure the General Assembly that the books of the Department are open and the vouchers are on file subject to examination by any responsible citizen of the Commonwealth and especially by any member of the General Assembly, in accordance with my tender laid upon the desk of each member at the opening of this session. They will remain open until the first day of May, 1917, at 12 o'clock, noon, at which time I shall turn them over to my successor duly elected by the people of the Commonwealth, accompanied by the certificates of two responsible audit companies as to their condition.

If in any further way I may be able to serve the General Assembly, or any member thereof, as a representative of the people of his district, I shall be glad to do so. And I specifically reserve the right to present the certificate of the said Certified Public Accountants to the General Assembly and further answer the resolution.

Respectfully submitted,
A. W. POWELL,
Auditor General.

BILL ON THIRD READING.

Mr. SIMPSON. Mr. Speaker, I desire to call up from the calendar, Bills on Third Reading Postponed for the Present, House Bill No. 282, File Folio 267.

Agreeably to order.

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 282, entitled

An Act to amend section ten of an act, entitled "An Act creating the office of county controller in counties of this Commonwealth containing one hundred and fifty thousand inhabitants and over; prescribing his duties and abolishing the office of county auditor in said counties," approved the twenty-fourth day of June, Anno Domini one thousand eight hundred and ninety-nine

On the question,
Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

BILL POSTPONED.

Mr. SIMPSON. Mr. Speaker, I move that further consideration of this bill be postponed for the present, under Rule 68.

Mr. VICKERMAN. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

MR. WHITAKER IN THE CHAIR.

BILL ON SECOND READING (SPECIAL ORDER).

Agreeably to order,
The rule requiring bills to be considered in committee of the whole being in this case dispensed with,
The House proceeded to the second reading and consideration of House Bill No. 62, entitled

An Act to further regulate the granting of licenses for the sale of vinous, spirituous, malt or brewed liquors or any admixture thereof by permitting the electors of any county in this Commonwealth to determine by an election whether the granting of licenses for such sale therein shall be prohibited.

The first section was read as follows:

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That whenever a number of the qualified electors of any county equalling twenty-five per centum of the number of votes cast therein at the last preceding general election shall present a petition to the court of quarter sessions of the peace of that county verified by the affidavits of three of the petitioners praying for the holding of an election to determine whether license for the sale or furnishing of vinous spirituous malt or brewed liquors or any admixture thereof in said county shall be granted it shall be the duty of said court of quarter sessions of the peace to order an election to be held in the said county in not less than thirty days nor more than sixty days from the date of such order which election shall be held by the regular election officers at the usual place or places for holding elections in said county and the election shall be conducted in all respects and all election officers shall be governed by the directions and subject to the penalties and be compensated as now provided by law for the holding of general elections Notice of such election shall be given by the officers designated and in the manner provided by existing laws relating to county elections insofar as the same may be applicable and every such notice shall state (first) the question to be voted upon as hereinafter set forth (second) the day and place of holding said elections (third) that the polls shall be open between the hours of seven o'clock ante meridian and seven o'clock post meridian

On the question,
Will the House agree to the section?

Mr. SPANGLER. Mr. Speaker, I desire to offer the following amendments.

The SPEAKER. The amendments will be read by the Clerk.

The amendments were read by the Clerk as follows::

Amend section 1, page 1, line 4, by striking out "county" and inserting in lieu thereof "city, borough, town or township."
Amend section 1, page 1, line 12, by striking out "county" and inserting in lieu thereof "city, borough, town or township."
Amend section 1, page 2, line 3, by striking out "county" and inserting in lieu thereof "city, borough, town or township."
Amend section 1, page 2, line 6, by striking out "county" and inserting in lieu thereof "city, borough, town or township."

On the question,
Will the House agree to the amendments?

Mr. SPANGLER. Mr. Speaker, and gentlemen of the House, the purpose of introducing these amendments to the present bill is to make the context of the bill correspond to the label. It is for the purpose of reducing the unit from a county to a city, borough, town or township. I contend that local option means the option of the locality. When you make your units in your local option too large, you destroy local option principles. So far as local option is concerned, we might on the same principle as for a county local option bill, extend that principle of local option to the State and to the Nation, and still call it local option. But a local option measure should have the proper classifications unified into a single unit, and that is the purpose of these amendments, it is to make a local option measure a real local option measure, it is to give the cities, it is to give the borough, it is to give the township, and it is to give the town, if it believes in local opton, or the elmination of liquor within the boundaries of that particular classification, the right to say, "We can abolish it."

Now, in the event that this amendment is adopted, it does not mean that you cannot have county local option. The boroughs and townships and the cities of your respective counties can all join together as one unit or successively in the demand for local option at their individual and local polls. A county unit local option measure has not been tried in any of the great Northern States. In the State of New York and the State of New Jersey, where local option was considered within the last year, they did not consider a county measure, but they considered a local city or borough measure, and I understand that even a city and a borough measure was defeated in both New York and in New Jersey. My purpose in offering these amendments is merely to give the smaller units of each individual county the right to say whether or not, in the opinion of that individual community, local option is desirable, the abolition of lquor is desirable, within the smaller communities. The city and the township differ materially in their interest.

There is one consideration which I wish to bring to the attention of this House, and that is the fact that in the event we pass the county local option bill, we members who live in the city do not actually have local option, because we can be out-voted by the county. For example, I live in the City of York, a city of a little over 50,000 inhabitants, and assuming that the city would cast 8,000 votes at a local option election, and the county of York 15,000 votes at such an election—the population of the county is 90,000 inhabitants and the population of the city is 50,000 inhabitants—assuming that the vote of the city would be 5,000 for wets, and 3,000 for dry, that would give the county 6,000 for wets and 9,000 for dry. The result of the election would be that the county of York would go dry by 1,000 majortiy, carrying the city of York with it, although the city itself voted wet by 2,000 majority. In other words, we would have the city wet 5,000 and the county wet 6,000; the city dry 3,000, the county dry 9,000 or 11,000 wet as against 12,000 dry. That is merely a calculation and the calculation might be theory, but it all goes to show that you can have a county local option bill, that will be fair to the city, that will give the city districts the right to say for themselves through their majorities, whether or no they desire local option. And therefore, gentlemen of this House, I say that in the event you desire to pass a local option bill here this morning, let us pass one that is fair, one that is logical, one that will meet the individual requirements of the unit, and one that will be a credit to the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

Mr. RAMSEY. Mr. Speaker, and gentlemen of the House, I trust that at the very beginning of this very big and heavy question, that both those representing license and those representing no-license, will stand together as a unit and defeat this amendment

On the question recurring,
Will the House agree to the amendments?

They were not agreed to.

On the question recurring,
Will the House agree to the section?

It was agreed to.

The second and third sections were separately read and agreed to as follows

Section 2 The ballots at any election held under the provisions of this act shall be printed distributed and furnished and in such quantities and of the form provided by existing laws relating to general elections Upon such ballots shall be printed the question "Shall the granting of license for the sale of intoxicating liquors be prohibited" followed by the words "Yes" and "No" with a square of sufficient size at the right of each said words in which to give the elector an opportunity clearly to designate his choice by a cross mark (X) placed in one of the said squares

Section 3 Each qualified elector receiving a ballot provided for by this act in accordance with existing laws may mark in the appropriate square a cross (X) opposite the answer he desires to give and all votes cast at said election held under the provisions of this act shall be counted and declared and a complete return of the same made in accordance with existing laws relating to elections

The fourth section was read as follows:

Section 4 Whenever it shall appear by the returns aforesaid that a majority of the votes cast at such election are in favor of prohibiting the granting of such licenses in the county in which said election shall have been held it shall thereupon become unlawful for said court of quarter sessions of the peace or other authority to which may hereafter be transferred the power relating to said subject now vested in said court of quarter sessions to issue or grant any license authorizing the sale or furnishing of any vinous spirituous malt or brewed liquors or any admixture thereof in said county at any time thereafter until at an election held as hereinafter provided a majority of the electors voting thereat shall vote against prohibiting the granting of such licenses therein

On the question,

Will the House agree to the section?

Mr. SPANGLER. Mr. Speaker I desire to offer the following amendment.

The SPEAKER. The amendment will be read by the Clerk.

The amendment was read by the Clerk as follows:

Amend section 4, page 3, line 12, by striking out "County" and in serting in lieu thereof "City, borough, town or township."

On the question,

Will the House agree to the amendment

Mr. SPANGLER. Mr. Speaker, in view of the fact that the first amendment was defeated, and it is the sense of this House that the amendments should be defeated, I withdraw the rest of the amendments to this bill.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the section?

It was agreed to.

The fifth and sixth sections and title were separately read and agreed to as follows:

Section 5 At any time after three years from the date of an election held under the foregoing provisions of this act another such election may be ordered and held as hereinbefore provided

Section 6 This act shall not be construed to repeal any special or local laws relating to the sale or granting of licenses to sell intoxicating liquors nor shall it be construed to prevent the granting or refusal of a license under the existing laws the same as if this act had not been passed in counties where the majority of the votes cast at an election held as hereinbefore provided are against prohibiting the granting of license to sell intoxicating liquors and in counties where no such election has been held

An Act to further regulate the granting of licenses for the sale of vinous spirituous malt or brewed liquors or any admixture thereof by permitting the electors of any county in this Commonwealth to determine by an election whether the granting of licenses for such sale therein shall be prohibited

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on second reading?

Mr. RAMSEY. Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House, I trust the members of this House will not agree to this bill on second reading. It is not my purpose, gentlemen, to delay a vote upon this question for any longer period than has been delayed at the present time. I believe that every man who sits in his seat this morning is as perfectly able to vote upon this question now as he will be when we have finished the discussion of the points at issue. And for that reason I am not going to tire you with any lengthy discussion upon the question. I want to say again that I hope this House will defeat this bill on this reading. Why? In the first place I might say that the gentleman from York, Mr. Spangler, has made possibly a good explanation of the inability of this bill to carry out its provisions. In the very title of the act it is construed to be an act to "further regulate the sale of liquor in Pennsylvania." To my mind it does everything but regulate the sale of liquor in Pennsylvania. Pennsylvania to-day—and I know this is a time-worn statement, but one that is absolutely true and tried—Pennsylvania to-day has, to my mind, a better local option act than the one on which you are called upon to pass to-day. I have only to recall to your mind recent acts of the courts in several sections of this Commonwealth to prove to you that the judges upon the bench recognize the present Brooks Law as a good, substantial regulation for the liquor question in Pennsylvania. Our friends who are opposed to license tell us that this bill places in the hands of the people and takes out of the hands of the judiciary the granting of licenses.

My friends, it does nothing of the sort. It does say that in the event of a special election being called in a county and the majority of votes are recorded against license, then it does take out of the hands of the court the granting of liquor licenses for the space of three years. But if, mark you, gentlemen, if the votes of that given county should decide that they want license, then the matter refers back to the judiciary. And it is their contention that they want to take it away from the courts. Therefore you see it does, if there is no license voted, but if it is a license vote, then they are satisfied with the present regulation known as the Brooks Law. Therefore, my friends, I feel that even the bill itself—not to mention at all the principle perhaps—the bill itself does not do as they claim it does, make a local option bill. And then further, the bill itself is not construed to mean that it in any way changes any special laws that now exist. Does that give to the people of the State of Pennsylvania the opportunity of voting upon this question in their districts? Then, too there have been several arguments advanced that we as members of this House, are not to consider this act from the standpoint of sectional ideas, that it is a Statewide proposition. It means that all the State is interested, but with you and me, members of this House, this particular act refers to our county, because a vote in Philadelphia county has nothing to do with a vote in Delaware county, except that they might dispense liquor under license in Philadelphia and they might not have the privilege of doing it in Delaware county. But it is a sectional proposition, and you and I are here this morning to vote upon this as we feel our several communities and several sections want us to vote upon it. Then they tell us that this proposition will take out of politics the liquor question. Why, my friends, those who advocate license have never entered the political questions, except when they have been forced by the other side. I want to say without contradiction that there is not a man in this House this morning who sits here as a representative, if he represents to-day the granting of licenses under the Brooks Act was not forced by the opposition at the last election to either declare in favor of no-license or he was branded by the opposition as being in favor of license. Therefore I say to you that the political question is injected into it every time by the so-called local option people. And they say they want to clean and purify the bench, and to-day in every county of Pennsylvania where there is a judge to be elected at the coming primaries, the anti-saloon and no license league have a special candidate for judge of their own. Are they putting the question into judiciary politics? Gentlemen, this bill has been here so long and so many times that Pennsylvania is satisfied as has been proven time and again with the present Brooks Law, the granting of licenses, that I am going to ask each of you —I am going to ask every man of you, to vote against the passage of this act at this time so that we might allow the present law allow those who we feel are capable of dispensing license and are capable of revoking licenses when there is a violation of law to still continue business at the old stand.

Mr. VICKERMAN. Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House. In discussing the merits of this bill, I am not going to spend any time portraying the evils of the liquor traffic nor in denouncing those engaged in this business. The day has long since passed when anyone rises to defend it. The bill before you at this time is presented because of an increasing demand for such a law by the people of this Commonwealth. Under the provisions of this bill our present law would be changed, taking the deciding power to grant licenses from the judge and giving it to the people. This bill provides that at a special election called by petition signed by not less than twenty-five per cent. of the voters of a county, said voters shall decide whether any license shall be granted in that county. If the majority vote for license, then the present law remains in force in that county, and the judge determines how many licenses shall be granted and where located. If the majority vote against license, then the Court shall have no power to grant a license in that county. It will not revolutionize court procedure; it will make no change save the transfer of authority from judge to people.

The county is placed as the unit because it is the largest civic division within the State. Taxes are levied and collected with the county as the unit.

Courts are maintained and have jurisdiction in this way.

Recent decisions of the Superior and Supreme Courts of Pennsylvania make it clear that the granting of licenses is clearly a question for the judge to decide according to his own personal opinion or prejudice.

The various municipalities of this State, under laws made by the Legislature, have the right to hold elections and vote themselves into debt by creating bond issues for various public improvements. When this Legislature enacts general laws of that kind it does not necessarily pass upon the wisdom or foolishness of these municipalities in incurring indebtedness. We take it for granted that the voters know what they want better than we do, and that under certain general restrictions and limitations they should be given the opportunity to say what they want. If they make mistakes in judgment, they must pay the penalty, but it is not for this Legislature to curb and prevent improvements which are conducive to the progress of our various municipalities, especially in matters that pertain to the health of the people and the education of the young.

If Phialdelphia comes here, as they always do every session (for it can be truly said of them that they carry out the scriptural injunction of asking largely), seeking legislation, that will enable the voters of that city to incur large indebtedness in order to build rapid transit lines; if the City of Pittsburgh comes asking for legislation which will enable them to build a subway or a trunnel, the members of this Legislature from other sections of the State are glad to give these citizens the privilege which they desire. On the other hand, when scores of representatives from rural counties come before this body session after session and ask that their counties shall have the privilege of determining the license question by popular vote of the people, this Legislature has repeatedly refused them that privilege. You gentlemen who represent the cities of this Commonwealth are very insistent that you should have local self-government, but when we propose to ask for the same general privilege in up-state counties, the city members line up almost unanimously and say "No." I insist that this is an unfair attitude for any member of this Legislature to take.

This question of county option has been before the people of the State for many years and the demand for this legislation, especially from the rural counties, is very insistent. I am frank to concede that such legislaiton will not in the least affect such cities as Philadelphia, Pittsburgh, Scranton and Wilkes-Barre, but on the other hand, I cannot see how there is to be any justice and any recognition of mutual rights so long as these cities refuse the rural counties the right of suffrage on the license question.

This same condition existed for a number of years in the state of Nebraska. The members of the legislature from the cities of Omaha and Lincoln lined up with the liquor interests and steadfastly refused to give the county districts a county local option law. What happened? the voters of the state last November rose up in their indignation and elected a legislature that not only gave the county districts local option but also put the state dry, and let me say right here and now that the liquor interests of this state will see the folly of their present course in fighting to defeat the local option bill. Pennsylvania is one of the only two states in the Union in which local option in some form has not been granted the voters. The present increasing sentiment indicates that the people will soon demand more than local option.

We like to think of Pennsylvania as a progressive state, and we are in some matters, for we have changed and adjusted the laws on our statute books to suit the advanced sentiment of the times upon almost every other question than the regulation of the liquor traffic. For thirty years we have made no change in these laws, not since the Brooks License Law was passed in 1887.

One of the most noted jurists of this state in discussing this question not long since declared that the result of the Brooks law was to drag the judiciary down to the level of the bar-room and every right thinking man in the state deplores that result.

Under the present system, in many of our counties, when a judge is to be elected, the only question asked is "Is he wet or dry?" The candidate's fitness for the office or whether he is learned in the law, is not considered, as he is chosen solely on the question as to whether or not he will grant licenses, and I submit to you that this system is wrong and is not good for our courts, nor creditable to the responsible law-makers who have forced our courts into such a position.

A bill has been introduced in this Assembly to amend the law by taking the power to grant licenses out of the hands of the judges and transfer it to the county commissioners. We are thoroughly in accord with the idea that the determination of whether a county shall be wet or dry should no longer rest upon the shoulders of the judges, but that it should be transferred directly to the people themselves. If by their vote, they desire to continue the license system, then the judge when he grants license shall know to a certainty that he is obedient to the dictates of the people whom he serves. If, on the other hand, the people declare by ballot that they do not want the licensed saloon, then the responsibility is lifted from the shoulders of the judge. If grave evils result, as some of the gentlemen on the other side claim they will, the responsibility is not upon the judge but upon the people themselves, where it belongs.

At the present time we have eleven counties in this State which are dry. They have been put dry by the arbitrary action of their judges. In every one of these counties there is a considerable number of people who are dissatisfied with this condition. If those counties had been made dry by a majority vote of the people, they would bow in submission, recognizing the right of the majority to rule. But their contention is that the present policy in these eleven counties is the arbitrary opinion of one man or as is the case in some counties where there are associate judges, the opinion of two men or possibly three.

I have been told that in one county in this State there is a distiller who favors local option. He says he is an American citizen before he is a distiller and that the right to settle this question should be in the hands of the voters themselves, and not in the hands of the court; and that if a majority of voters should put him out of business he is willing to yield to the will of the majority.

At the hearing before the Law and Order Committee last Tuesday, the speakers opposed to this bill made the statement that the friends of this measure were not consistent. Now let us see how consistent the liquor dealers are. In the campaign up in the State of Maine, when the State Prohibition Law was up for adoption, it would have brought tears to your eyes to have heard the paid speakers, sent all over that State by the National Liquor Dealers' Association, pleading with the people that prohibition never was a success and that local option was the best and only method of regulating the drink evil and that it ought to be submitted to the voters of the various counties. Strange, is it not, that local option is a good thing in the State of Maine, but not good in Pennsylvania?

On the last day of February, the House of Representatives at Washington passed the Senate bill making the District of Columbia dry. This measure passed both the House and Senate by a practically two-thirds vote. Up until the time that bill finally passed the House, the agents of the liquor interests in Pennsylvania were continually on the job at Washington, arguing for a referendum to the voters. They insisted that it was grossly unfair for the Congress to close up the District of Columbia without first submitting the question to a vote of the people. They argued this in the face of the fact that the District of Columbia has no election machinery, and moreover that the great majority of its voters hold their franchise back in the States and that they would forfeit that franchise in the States if they should go into an election in the District. Immediately after the District of Columbia Bill was passed and out of the way, these agents and servants of the organized liquor interests of Pennsylvania transferred their headquarters to Harrisburg and they have been humming around here like a hive of bees ever since. And I call your attention to the fact that the same men who argued for local self-government in Washington City are here to defeat local self-government in the State of Pennsylvania. That fact itself shows the insincerity of the forces that are opposing local option.

There are some men allied with the liquor business who are far-sighted enough to see that the liquor dealers should not oppose a measure of this kind, for in so doing they will bring upon them more stringent laws. Let me read you a statement from the liquor dealers' attorney in the State of Wisconsin, where a local option bill was before the Legislature for consideration during the present month and which was being opposed by the brewery interests of the State but supported by the wholesale liquor dealers and distillers who believed their cause bad been injured by opposition to local option. Mr. T. Mahon, attorney for the State Liquor Dealers' Association, in a signed statement, said:

"From developments in the last five years resulting in the establishment by legislation of a constitutional amendment of prohibition of the manufacture and sale of intoxicants in many of our States, I am led to the conclusion that the liquor interests in those States were grossly mistaken as to methods.

"I believe the representatives of the liquor interests in some States injured their cause in the past by opposing the right of the people to vote upon the question, and thereby they lose the friendship of fair-minded men who stand for substantial justice to every one.

"We feel that the question has become of sufficient importance to demand the attention of the individual voter, and that he is entitled to the right to cast his vote according to the dictates of his own conscience guided by calm judgment as to right or wrong."

It would seem from this statement that the Liquor Dealers of Wisconsin have seen the handwriting on the wall and are prepared to accept local option—and why not?

Local option is a legal, deliberate and unified declaration of judgment as to what will and what will not conserve the general good of a community.

Local option is safe, because it secures that for which it asks only on principles of equity and full consideration of the rights of others.

Local option coerces no one, interferes with no one's private judgment nor with any religious or political preferences.

Local option is just, because it accords to its opponents all the privileges it claims for its advocates. It never violates either social or ethical conditions.

Local option is distinctively American in conception and practice because it acknowledges not only the propriety but the absolute necessity of majority rule.

Mr. Gladstone, that great English statesman, said: "Local option has been found to be practical and effective wherever adopted."

The late Associate Justice Harlan, of the United States Supreme Court, said: "Local option is the basic principle of our government."

Let us study some of the election returns of last November in the light of this question. Some very interesting results have taken place. In Indiana the voters of that State defeated two United States Senators and fourteen Congressmen who had voted wet in the previous session of Congress and then elected enough members of the Legislature to put the State dry on February 2nd of the present year, and in the State of Utah, where the liquor interests had gained such control of the Republican party organization under the leadership of United States Senator Smoot that they would not permit any temperance legislation to be passed. Year after year the people of the State appealed to the Legislature for some restrictive laws controlling the liquor business, but the party leaders refused and last November the people not only defeated Reed Smoot for United States Senator, electing a Democrat his successor, but also elected a Democrat to every seat in the Legislature, and all dry but one. And what happened? Why, on February 1st the Legislature passed a State-wide prohibitory law, which goes into effect August 1st, 1917.

Now let us look at a strong Democratic State in the South—Florida. The Democratic bosses, controlled by the liquor interests, succeeded in putting on the ticket a candidate for Governor who was very objectionable to the temperance people of the State. What happened? Why, the voters of that overwhelming Democratic State turned in a majority for the Republican nominee for Governor because he stood on a dry platform. These are days when the voters are doing their own thinking and party lines do not stand in the way when important moral issues are under consideration. The star speaker for the liquor interests two years ago at the local option hearing here in Harrisburg, Congressman Barchfield, of Pittsburgh, has been consigned to the political scrap heap, by the voters of his district electing a Democrat in an overwhelming Republican district. There are members of this House who, by their vote against this measure, will end their political careers. The man who gauges the sentiment upon this question by the past, makes a great mistake, for he should take into consideration the great tidal wave against the saloon that has swept from the West through the South and Middle States into Pennsylvania and which sentiment recently crystalized in Congress passing the bone-dry legislation, and the law making the District of Columbia dry.

Our United States Senator, Philander C. Knox, in a recent interview said: "Without attaching any political significance to the statement, I believe that National Prohibition will be a keen issue in 1920. Even a blind man can see that from the present trend of sentiment."

And our recently retired United States Senator, Honorable George T. Oliver, of Pittsburgh, has for years been a strong advocate of local option and recently voted "dry" on the bill to make the District of Columbia dry.

It is a well known fact that the present Chief Executive of this Commonwealth, Honorable Martin G. Brumbaugh, was elected on a personal platform committed to local option.

It would seem the part of wisdom, in view of the increasing demand for such a law, for this Legislature to pass this bill. The Republican party is in control of this body and will be held responsible for the passage or defeat of this measure. The people have been calling long and loud for such a law, but for years the party bosses have turned a deaf ear to their call and now I want to sound note of warning that the citizenship of this State will not long submit to evasive promises. I therefore appeal to you to pass this Local Option Bill at this session.

Mr. FLYNN. Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House, this so-called local option bill has been before this House for years, and each and every one of us who are members here have found it necessary to face this issue in our elections to this House. Session after session the majority of members unfavorable to the passage of this local option bill have been elected, and I maintain, Sir, that there must be a very good reason for that. In the first place, I would say, Sir, that I don't believe that all of the virtue in the world is vested in the advocates of local option, and many right-thinking men who believe in temperance, as I do, Sir, are opposed to local option as we have it now before us. We do not believe that this local option bill is a good temperance measure; we do not believe that it would be successful in a great industrial state like Pennsylvania. Pennsylvania, with her large industries, her large centres of population, seems to require a strong regulation of the liquor traffic, and we believe that we have that in the present Brooks law. It may not be the most perfect measure in the world, but we believe that it is the best thing that has been discovered up to the present time for the regulation of the liquor traffic.

Now Mr. Speaker, in the bill before us, we do not have a fair bill for the reason that it only permits a vote on this question in districts which are now wet. In the districts that are dry under special acts of the Legislature, —and we have many such in Pennsylvania,—the people in those districts, if you please, are not permitted to vote on this important question, which only goes to show the hypocrisy and insincerity which underlies this bill.

The constituency which I represent believes in temperance, but we do not believe that a county local option bill would promote temperance. We do believe that the Brooks Law is good, honest and fair regulation of the liquor traffic, and where it is enforced we believe that conditions are the best that they can be made. So long as the people desire to purchase liquor they should be permitted to do so in a legal manner.

Mr. SNYDER. Mr. Speaker, we are hesitating to-day on the threshold of a new era. Whether we shall cross over into the promised land with all its golden opportunities and manifold blessings or wander back again into the wilderness of sin and corruption is the question before us for decision.

> "There is a tide in the affairs of men,
> Which taken at its flood leads on to fortune,
> Omitted, and all the voyage of their lives
> Is bound in shallows and miseries."

Such a crisis we are facing. "We are living, we are dwelling in a grand and awful time." The eyes of the entire nation are upon us. Great are the responsibilities, momentous is the occasion. Are we ready and willing to listen to the voice of duty and stand for the things that are noblest and best? Will we quit ourselves like men?

When Alexander the Great was a small boy his father placed him under the care and supervision of the great philosopher and logician, Aristotle. For a number of years he sat at the feet of that celebrated master drinking in his words of wisdom and admonition. When relating his experiences in after years he was wont to say: "My father, Philip, gave me life, but Aristotle taught me how to make the most of life." How to to make the most of life is the most important question that can confront any youth as he sails out upon life's tempestuous sea. How to make the most of life is the most important question that can confront any individual as he is tossed to and fro by the foaming, pitiless waves upon life's stormy voyage. And the chief aim and goal of every nation ought to be to so govern and guide its people, to so environ and educate them that they not only may but actually will make the most of life —that they actually will make the most of life.

When we see the experts in pedagogy and criminology taking the wayward, backward boys and in a few months changing and transforming them into the brightest and best of pupils, the pride of the school; when we see the evangelists and slum workers picking the besotted wretches up out of the ditch and as if at the wave of a magic hand changing and transforming them into noble, Christian citizens, then we know, we know absolutely, that there is within each and every normal individual an innate power of becoming a true, noble, upright, Christian citizen, and every wreck along the sands of time is conclusive evidence that some one, somewhere, has failed and miserably failed in the performance of his duty, and usually, aye, perhaps in every case an investigation will reveal the fact that the state has been guilty of the grossest negligence in the performance of its duty toward that individual.

If then it be the duty of the state to so govern its people that it may shield them from the deadly snares and pitfalls of evil and make it easy to do right and hard to do wrong, if it be the duty of the state to so govern its people that they actually will make the most of life, then it becomes important to inquire—Does the liquor traffic contribute to the weal or woe of the state? Does it contribute to the happiness, the prosperity and purity of its people or to their suffering, adversity and degradation? And the decision of that question will make our duty plain, so plain that he who runs may read and understand.

More than a century ago the slavery traffic was enthroned as the goddess of controversy. Again and again for a number of years some of America's most gifted orators burst forth in impassioned floods of eloquence in defense of that traffic. A bloody, disastrous war was waged over it, but when the smoke of battle had cleared away and the bitter hatreds and prejudices had died out and we were permitted to look back upon those stormy scenes, calmly and impartially, we were amazed, we marveled that any one at any time should have raised his voice in defense of that iniquitous traffic.

But, however little may be said in defense of the slavery traffic, I say to you—there is nothing, absolutely nothing, that can be said in behalf of the liquor traffic. There is nothing, absolutely nothing, that can be said in defense of that pernicious traffic. Its history is written in tears and blood. Along its slimy trail are strewn the wrecks of thousands and tens of thousands of victims. It has ruthlessly trampled upon everything that is good and pure and holy. To accomplish its diabolical ends every law, divine or human, is constantly and arrogantly violated. Every right, no matter how sacred it may be, is insolently abused. It is the inveterate, remorseless foe of the church, breathing forth a spirit of infidelity and immorality and like a hideous octopus it entwines its arms about its victims, aye, in the very shadow of the pulpit. Wherever you may go it is wrecking and ruining the home. Under its baneful influence the loving father becomes a miserable brute, and the son a degraded wretch, a lothsome degenerate. It disgraces and debauches the daughter and sends her down, down into a life of sin and shame, down, down into the black darkness of woe and despair, and the poor, loving, long-suffering mother, the holiest creature upon God's earth, it cruelly drags down, mercilessly drags down, heartbroken and disconsolate, into an untimely grave. And as we see the terrible havoc it is everywhere causing, we instinctively cry out with the martyr of old—"How long, O God, how long will these horrible atrocities be inflicted upon us?"

But more—like a malignant cancer it is eating at the very vitals of our nation. Under its sway that noble, sturdy manhood, without which no republic can long endure, rapidly deteriorates into criminals, idiots, degenerates and parasites upon the body politic. Vice in all its hideous deformity springs phoenix-like from its own ashes and is everywhere rampant. Bribery, perjury, slander and every other black, hellish agency are constantly employed to attain its ends. It has brazenly butted into every political activity, and every branch of government that comes in contact with it becomes contaminated, corrupt. At our elections its tainted lucre flows with a freedom and a corrupting power that has made them a disgrace in the eye of every law-abiding citizen. Again and again has the judicial ermine been bespattered and stained and soiled by its poisonous filth, and even some of our legislative bodies have listened to the siren voice of the treacherous seducer. Everywhere it produces corruption and crime, everywhere sin and iniquity, eveywhere suffering and starvation—so that I say to you, there is nothing, absolutely nothing, that can be said in behalf of this hell-born traffic. Do you say that I exaggerate? The half has not been told you. The trail of the serpent is over it all. If you would know its real influence take away the churches that are arrayed against it, take away the forces and organizations that are bitterly fighting it and there would brood over this fair land a gross, thick, black moral and religious darkness that would outdo Sodom and Gomorrah in days of old. Nay more, I believe it no exaggeration to say that hell on earth with all its indescribable horrors would be a ghastly reality. If then it be the duty of the state to so govern its people that they actually will make the most of life, can there be any excuse for your supporting that awful traffic?

But let us stop and examine this question more specificaly and concretely. Time and again have we seen young men start out in life each with a career before him as promising and rosy as the rarest morning in June. But ere long they are dragged down from their lofty ideals and aspirations into a helpless, hopeless slavery, dragged down into the black, putrid pit of vice and shame, dragged down into an ignominous grave, a drunkard's hell, for Holy Writ informs us that no drunkard can enter the Kingdom of Heaven. Nine thousand two hundred such young men are sacrificed each year in Pennsylvania. But of all terrible thoughts inflicted upon the mind of man the most terrible is this—that in order to recruit their ranks 9,200 sweet-faced children must be sacrificed; 9,200 "sweet, new blossoms of humanity fresh fallen from God's own home to flower on earth.' Tramp, tramp, tramp, on they are coming —methinks now I can almost hear their merry laughter and the patter of their little feet. Tramp, tramp, tramp, on they are coming, little dreaming of the fairful demons, the blear-eyed saloon keepers lurking in their pathway to entrap them. Tramp, tramp, tramp, on they are coming, little suspecting the horrible fate that awaits them, only to be shoved into the hopper—feed, feed, feed for the corrupting, damning saloon. Oh, the pity of it—oh, the shuddering horror of it—oh, the fiendishness, the hellishness of it all! Will you vote to sacrifice those children? God forbid. If I had the magical power to transform one of them in your presence into the hulking derelict, the raving maniac or the bloody murderer that the saloon will make him in a few years, you would rise up in your wrath and indignation and feel to tear me to pieces limb by limb. Will you vote to sacrifice those children?

Not long ago one of the teachers in a college in Armenia was exhibiting some pictures showing the hardships endured by his people. On the one side of one of these pictures was a great crowd of little children, on the other side was a company of Turkish soldiers. Part of these soldiers had just fired into that crowd of children. In fiendish glee the others were preparing to do so. Some of the children were lying on the ground in the throes of death, some of them were writhing in pain and agony; some of them were wringing their hands in frantic despair, knowing full well that in a moment bullets from the guns of the cruel Turks would go crashing through their brains, but here and there was a little child too small to realize the danger, fondly caressing its doll. My blood ran cold at the sight. That picture clung to my mind like a horrible nightmare. Oh, the terrible Turk. Oh, the brutal Turk! But you are asked to condemn 9,200 children to a fate far more heinous far more atrocious than that just described. Will you outdo the Sultan of the Ottoman Empire in cruelty and in brutality? Will you out-Herod Herod? The loathsome whiteslaver is endeavoring to entrap your daughter, but these fiendish vampires are scheming and struggling to debauch and ruin both your son and your daughter. Have you a boy or girl that you are willing to sacrifice? If you vote for this traffic you should be willing to contribute your share. But as for me—back in old Westmoreland there is a sturdy little boy and a blue-eyed, golden haired little girl that I would not sacrifice for all the damnable business on this side of hell. Will you vote to sacrifice those children? Woe unto him that causeth one of these little ones to stumble. It were better for him that a millstone were hanged about his neck and he drowned in the depths of the sea than that he should cause one of these little ones to stumble and fall.

But let us look at this from another angle. The awful effects of this infamous business falls heaviest upon the helpless women and children. The struggle against poverty and starvation is a losing one. The horrible artocities inflicted upon them are indescribable. One evening in December, 1914, at Youngwood, Pennsylvania, a little family had gathered about its fireside. The children were rehearsing their Christmas carols. Joy and happiness seemed to reign supreme. But suddenly a drunken fiend burst upon the scene. Without any provocation whatsoever he shot the top of the head off a little five-year old boy, and as his frantic mother picks up that bleeding, dying boy and carried him to a doctor with the blood streaming down over her it was, indeed, a grewsome, sickening sight. The funeral was Christmas Day and a sad day it was all due to the liquor traffic. Some years ago a woman came to my office carrying a tiny little child. In her youth she was one of those beautiful bunches of loveliness that is always a joy to behold. Some months prior to this visit her husband had beaten her head and shoulders almost into a jelly with the poker. He had cracked her skull, he had broken her arm, he had bent the poker and then the cruel fiend tramped her face with his hob nailed shoes. Such crimes and cruelties are an inseparable concomitant of the liquor traffic, and a negative vote to-day means your approval and permission for their continuance. There are thousands of oppressed women and children to-day begging that you drive out this terrible curse that is wrecking and ruining their homes.

Picture if you will 100,000, nay, 500,000 women and children their emaciated bodies clothed in tatters and rags, tears streaming down their haggard, disfigured faces, their long bony arms outstretched, pleading, beseeching, entreating you to take away this horrible curse that is blighting and blasting their lives. Will you turn a deaf ear to their entreaties? Is it nothing to you that these women and children are suffering and starving? Is it nothing to you that these women and children are being abused, cruelly murdered?

While his ancient capital was burning and his homeless people bewailing their loss, Nero sat contentedly in his palace and amused his savage soul with the music of his fiddle, and his name has come down in history as one of the most cruel monsters of all time. At the command of Weyler the Cubans were corralled and punished and starved until hundreds of them died, but at last the United States arose in its wrath and indignation and sent forth its embattled armies and victorious navies and set the enfeebled nation free. Will you with the heartlessness, the fiendishness of Nero and Weyler continue to legalize this nefarious business and thereby send forth daily thousands and thousands of cruel drunkards to wreak their demonical brutalities upon those helpless women and children? Oh, you hard hearts, you cruel law makers of Pennsylvania! Remember Holy Writ tells us that there will come a time when you will stand before the throne of God, the great white throne, and as a reply to the accusation of the Master you will ask: "When saw we Thee an hungered and gave Thee no meat? When saw we Thee naked and clothed Thee not?" And the Master will say: "In as much as ye did it not unto the least of one of these, ye did it not unto Me."

But listen to the startling revelations of the statisticians. They tell us that 210,000,000 of dollars are spent annually for drink in the State of Pennsylvania. Wasted—a thousand times worse than wasted. The figures are staggering, bewildering. No finite mind can really comprehend them. But one thing we do know and that is that this sum would be sufficient to build a million dollar Court House in every county in the State of Pennsylvania, pay every dollar of the appropriation to schools and colleges, hospitals and asylums, quadruple the Mothers' Pension Fund and in addition to all that pave with vitrified brick more than 1,000 miles of unimproved state road. Wasted a thousand times worse than wasted. Little wonder then that in Maine 85 per cent. of the people own their own homes while in Pennsylvania only 19 per cent. own their own homes. But that is not all. These same experts tell us that ten times that sum, 2,000 millions of dollars are lost in this state on account of the inefficiency and irresponsibility of the workmen; on account of the accidents, disasters and explosions. The law of the survival of the fitest applies to nations as well as to plants and animals. This nation then cannot hope to endure under the dominion of this ravaging, devastating agency. As the Prodigal Son came to grief so must this nation also come to grief if it continue to waste its substance in riotous living. Aye, we are clearly sowing to the wind and if we continue we must inevitably reap the whirlwind.

But more—each year we are building new insane asylums or making additions to the old buildings and yet we are told that we are now unable to take care of more than one-third of the insane at these institutions. Experts tell us that at the present rate of increase this nation will be a nation of idiots ere another century rolls by, and why? Experiments with animals show that 87 per cent. of the offspring of animals fed on alcohol are defective or in some way abnormal, while only 17 per cent. of those not so fed are defective. Investigations among the people show that 82 per cent. of the children of drunken parents are mentally or physically abnormal while but 12 per cent. of the children of total abstainers are abnormal. Clearly the sins of the parents are visited upon the children even unto the third and fourth generation. In addition to this think of the enormous number of people that are sent to insane asylums directly on account of drink. In this way we can easily account for the great increase in insanity in this country. But unless we put a stop to the liquor traffic we too will soon see the handwriting on the wall—"Weighed in the balance and found wanting." We too will soon see this nation reeling, staggering to its doom.

Furthermore, in Kansas there are three murders to every million people. In Pennsylvania there are 127 murders to every million of people. More than 40 times as many as in Kansas. The statement is appalling. Other crimes are in like proportion. In some of the counties in Kansas their jails have been empty for a number of years, while here our jails and penitentiaries are crowded to overflowing. 90 per cent. of the crimes in Pennsylvania are said to be due to the liquor traffic.

In Les Miserables the gifted author has one of his immortal characters tell us that the world is full of shadow, sin is committed therein, but the guilty one is not the person who commits the sin but the person who creates the shadow. If this be true, every one of you gives aid and comfort to the liquor dealers can truly say when you slink back home and see the drunkenness there—"I am the guilty one that caused it all." When you see the misery and whetchedness caused by drink you can say—"I am the cruel culprit that caused it all." When you see the many crimes committed through drink you can say—"I am the dastardly villian that caused it all." Nay more, ere the week shall have passed away the mark of Cain will be upon your brow for you too will be murderers. If then it be the duty of the state to so govern its people that they actually will make the most of life, clearly no one who loves his fellow man and the grand old flag, no one who is loyal to his country and the King of Kings can support this pernicious hell-born business.

It is true that in their ranks are found many apparently good citizens. Probably some of them are conscientious and believe they are right, but some business men are there simply for the trade it brings—that is their price. Some lawyers are there for the fees that are in it—that is their price. Some politicians are there simply for the support and influence, knowing full-well that is is wrong, absolutely wrong, indefensibly wrong—that is their price. For thirty pieces of silver Judas betrayed his Master into the hands of His enemies—that was his price. For a price Benedict Arnold undertook to betray the brave Colonists fighting for liberty. There is mighty little difference between furnishing aid and support to an enemy without and one within. The deadliest foe this country ever faced is now intrenched within our gates. If Nelson at Trafalgar had a right to say—"England expects every man to do his duty," so today America in this hour of peril has a right to expect every citizen to stand for the right.

The liberty which we enjoy was won at a terrible sacrifice. The history of the fierce persecutions suffered by our ancestors, the blood-drenched battlefields, the indescribable hardships and privations, bear grim testimony to this fact. That priceless heritage has been entrusted to our safe keeping. Will we guard it with jealous care and pass it on to posterity unstained and untrammeled or will we permit it to be wrested from us by these vampires or sell it for a mess of pottage? These are the questions before us, and such are the perils of the State and Nation. Oh, Pennsylvania, rum-ruled, rum-cursed, rum-enslaved Pennsylvania, would God that enough righteous men might yet be found to rise up and rescue you from this dreadful peril that you may yet be free.

Let us not haggle over methods and remedies. If a great host of rattlesnakes came down from the mountain and some got into your yard and some into your neighbor's yard and one of them into the room where your child was playing, you would not wait until all of these venomous reptiles could be killed, but would quickly dispatch the one which threatened to strike your child. So here let us strike this poisonous serpent, let us deal it a stunning blow whenever and wherever we can.

Prohibition is not a panacea for all the ills that humanity is heir to, but it will effect a gigantic transformation. Drive out the liquor traffic and the preface to a new and grander chapter in the history of this great Commonwealth will be indelibly written. Instead of the cries of pain and anguish songs of joy and rejoicing will rise like a grand, harmonious, ever-swelling anthem that will echo on Eternity's shores. Happiness and love will sway the scepter of royal dominion where now misery and wretchedness sit enthroned. Homes that are enshrouded in gloom and despair will be illuminated by the radiant glories of the true Shekinah. Humanity will be lifted into higher and purer realms of light and animated to grander and nobler achievements. And then as the great Ship of State sails on in majestic splendor we can proudly and triumphantly exclaim: "Hail, all hail, Pennsylvania. Hail, all hail thou great Keystone State, a glorious destiny is thine, thy mission truly is divine."

On the one side is light and life, on the other darkness and death. The choice is inevitable and unavoidable. Choose ye, then, this day whom ye serve. Ye cannot serve God and these hideous harpies of hell. And oh, brethren, on this momentous occasion dare to be brave, dare to be true, stand for the right and the Lord will be with you. Quit you like men.

Mr. GOODWIN. Mr. Speaker, the evil of intemperance is as old as the days of Noah, and has continued down through the centuries to the present time. The consideration of the question has increased as the years come and go until it has become not only a county question not only a State question, but a National issue; a world-wide subject of consideration. Never before has the political, the moral, the social, the economic, the religious and the scientific investigation of this question been so deep and profound as at present, and the investigators in all of these lines have come to practically the same conclusion—that alcohol is a narcotic—a poison, destructive to the moral sense, the intellectual faculties, and bodily functions.

Local option is not a new theory. It is a principle as old as the Declaration of Independence. Our forefathers in Independence Hall declared "That all men are created equal, that they are endowed by their Creator with certain unalienable rights, that among these are life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness. And they also declared, "That to secure these rights governments are instituted among men, deriving their just powers from the consent of the governed."

The provisions of this bill do not require that we vote licesnes up or down; it does not provide that we legislate intoxicating liquors in or out; it simply provides that we give the people in the several counties of this Commonwealth the right to vote on this question. It will not prevent the issuing of licenses where a majority of the voters want them; it will prohibit the sale of liquor only in these counties where a majortiy so declare by their vote. It does not prohibit a man from drinking liquor, neither does it question his right to drink. It relates entirely to the method of determining in what counties the court shall have the authority to grant licenses. This bill is the referendum. It would close the saloon where a majority of the voters were against it, but it would not interfere where the majority were in favor of it. This is self-government.

We hear a great deal from the opponents of local option about "Personal Liberty." The plea of personal liberty is the argument that has guided the hand of plunder and selfish ambition. It has thwarted the course of progress through all the ages.

There is a wide difference between personal liberty and civil liberty. Civil liberty is the cornerstone of all representative government. It is the restraining power that curbs the selfish ambitions of men. Personal rights and personal liberties end where the social rights and social liberties of the community begin.

But what about the Brooks High License Law interfering with personal liberty Its very object is to restrain and regulate the sale of intoxicating liquors. The judge, in his discretion, can grant the privilege where he deems it advisable or he can withhold it.

If this is not a regulating and restraining of personal liberty, how in logic or reason can it be construed that local option is a restraint of personal liberty.

It is a principle recognized by every government, by every State, and by every court, that the government has an inherent right to restrain and reglulate individuals as to their rights and privileges.

It is an undisputable principle that it is the right of the majority to enact laws to govern all. Therefore, local option is right in principle. It is the right of the majority of the voters of the county to regulate their government. And why should they not have this right? They are taxed for the support of the schools, the support of the poor, for all county expenditures, for building roads and bridges, and making all municipal improvements.

Under the Brooks high license law a Judge, at the bequest of twelve voters, may grant a license to sell intoxicating liquors in a county where a large majority of the voters are opposed to it. This is one of the most arbitrary powers granted to any official under our whole system of government. Yet if the moral sense of the community be outraged, there is no appeal. This is not right. No man or company of men should have the authority to foist such a thing upon a community against its will.

We hear much about the vested rights of those who are engaged in the liquor business. They say that local option would deprive them of their vested rights without due compensation. That is a fallacious argument. The right to sell liquor under the Brooks High License Law is not nor never has been a vested right. For nearly thirty years under that law it has been decided by our courts time and time again that the right to sell intoxicating liquor is simply a privilege granted by the court, and that privilege is only granted for the period of one year. It is entirely different from ordinary business. You may establish a dry goods store, a hardware store or any other ordinary business, and no one can question your right to carry on that business, but if you want to engage in the liquor business, you must proceed by a petition to the Court of Quarter Sessions. And if the prayer of your petition is granted it is only for the limited period of twelve months.

Under the operation of our present law, vested rights do not prevent our judges from refusing a license. Suppose a judge grants a license this year because he is satisfied that under the law it is necessary for the accommodation of the public. But suppose that next year that it is shown conclusively that the place is not necessary in that community. Would they argue for a moment, that under the Brooks High License Law, the judge would not have the right to refuse that license. Certainly not.

The Supreme Court of the United States, in Crowley vs. Chritianson, 137 U. S. Reports, page 86, held that "It is undoubtedly true that it is the right of every citizen of the United States to pursue any lawful trade or business under such restrictions as are imposed upon all persons of the same age, sex and condition."

Under our present high license law no one has a right to sell intoxicating liquors without a license therefor. Therefore when an applicant is refused a license he is not deprived of a vested right, but simply a personal privilege.

They say that local option would be inefficient because under its operation one county would be wet and the next one dry. But how is it under the Brooks High License Law? Our county of Venango has been dry for a number of years under that law. It is bounded on the north by one dry and one wet county on the east by two wet counties on the south by a wet county, and on the west by a dry county.

The great trend of modern day legislation is to give the people, more and more, the right to express their preferences in all matters relating to their govenment. This is a day of progress in most directions. The voters of the State have the right to express their choice as to who shall be President of the United States as to who shall represent this State in the Senate of the United States as to who shall represent them in the House of Representatives at Washington. They have the privilege of voting on the question as to who shall represent them in this legislative hall. They vote on questions of taxation and municipal improvements. But when it comes to the question of voting on the issue of determining whether intoxicating liquors shall or shall not be sold in their respective counties, the opponents of this bill hold up their hands and say no; this is a question about which the voters have no right to express their opinion. That is not right. That is not self-government.

Let us write this law upon our statute books, and we shall in a truer sense make this a government of the people, for the people, and by the people.

Mr. WILLIAM DAVIS. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I wish to express myself as against this bill. It would seem, from a remark made by one of the speakers, that a licensed landlord has no right or protection or guarantee. If he has ever heard of the right guaranteed him by the Constitution of this State and Nation he does know that he is guaranteed the right of property. He knows before he makes an application to his court for a license that he will be compelled to acquire a property and his personal qualifications as well as his qualifications of property will be inquired into carefully and conscientiously by the court in his community. Hence, he has a right under the Constitution of this State and Nation in property and to the protection of that property. We know that there are invested in this State of Pennsylvania and in this nation millions of dollars; the life earnings of some of the best men of our State, and will you tell me that when the court declines to recognize that proposition by reason of the direction of this House that he is not taking away from that man his right to his property as well as his property. I should dislike to be a party to this body of men, to this House, to this State, or to any other body of men to cast my ballot against that unfavorable proposition, knowing that the casting of that ballot eliminated that man from his business that he possesses and his right to take his business which he had built up during his entire life-time and followed in the footsteps of his father and the entire property would be cancelled by my voice in this House.

No, gentlemen, I have no belief nor no confidence in depriving American citizens or the citizens of this Commonwealth of Pennsylvania of their rights to property in this manner.

There is another thing I want to say a word about. The great proposition before your face and mine now and the face of the manhood of the world is revenue. How are you going to satisfy your constituents at home and the people of this great state of ours by the right kind of appropriations for the free institutions of the state, for the hospitals of the state, for the schools of the state, for the roads of the state, for the widows' pensions, for the soldiers' pensions, and the protection of all of our constituents who are crying for more revenue? I want to say to you, gentlemen, that the first thing that our friends ought to do would be to consider that we are deriving a revenue of about three hundred and fifty million dollars from the men engaged in this business and who own the property and are conducting their business according to the strict letter of the Brooks Law, which is a good law, a law recognized by the courts of this state and upheld ever since 1887. It is the duty of this House and the citizens of this state to look into that question of revenue and provide bills to produce revenue to take the place of the millions of dollars paid into our state and national treasury by reason of this business which is conducted under the law and by the letter of the law. Pass this measure and remove this business and who is going to pay the millions of dollars into this state treasury? We will be compelled, as a body of men, to legislate and compel you to increase your taxation, whether it be upon your real estate, per capita or some other thing that you will be compelled to pay it upon. I say, bring forth your bill, pass your measure providing the necessary revenue for the state treasury, and then come around and ask us to cancel these saloons; provide your bills to protect these people in the right of property under the Constitution; and when you have produced those two measures we will consider this bill.

The question of drinking and the drinking habit—that is your business and not mine. I have no right to dictate to you whether you shall wear wool, cotton or silk. There is a law that says you must wear something. I take the position, in a free country like this, that we have no right to dictate to one another. Ah, yes, they tell us that liquor is a narcotic; that it is a poison. Why, the doctors of your own home, your own family, are using poison as a narcotic to assist in the bringing about of some strength. I want my doctor to know that if I am in such a serious condition and need a stimulant I would rather risk a drink of good liquor than poison. How many hundreds and thouhands of people in this Commonwealth and in this country of ours that are receiving that as a stimulant at the hands of their own physicians in their insidiousness and in the lack of honesty and pure intent to revive his patients? How many men are accidentally injured and life nearly taken away from them? How many of our good women, in the absence of a physician at hand, have received a stimulant at the hand of the husband in the form of a little good whiskey; and how many doctors have said to the husband and wife when he landed, that was the proper thing to take some stimulant? What your stimulant is, is your own business. I do not care whether you drink beer or buttermilk, or whether you drink buttermilk and water. That is your business. I believe in temperance. The great trouble is that we eat too much. We eat too much and then that individual who eats too much takes a drink of liquor and dies—he dies from a drink of liquor, and that is the way it gets on the prohibition statistics, as having died from the use of alcohol. It reminds me of the old man who died at the age of one hundred and three years from the excessive drinking of liquor, and I saw that in a prohibition article. How far fetched it is?

We have other subjects, Mr. Speaker, facing this State to-day that are more important than the new issues they are attempting to bring about, and it is our duty to devote our time to secure more revenue and not to cancel revenue that we might be prepared to meet the issues facing this State and Nation at this day and this hour.

You talk about the habits and the customs and the result of men living in states that are dry. Why, when I read the article of a great fire over in Maine, the first order the mayor gave was to close the saloon. There is an incentive for the individual residing in a dry county and in a dry state to become a liar; to become a thief; to become a smuggler, often called bootlegger; and they are there in every dry state in this union, I care not where you name it or locate it. Is that the right kind of lesson to teach the young men of this State and Nation? Hadn't we better have it regulated so that you and I can be entertained by our bread and board and so if you need it you can get the liquor? If you do not need it you are not required to take it; it is not compulsory on any man. You have every possible license in the world now to govern and control that proposition. I have no use for the individual who takes more than he can carry; I have no use for the individual that drinks it to excess; I have no use for the individual that drinks enough of it to draw away from the right path of performing his daily duties or hourly duties and not knowing every moment what he is doing. We ought to know that we ought all to eat and drink so that we will be in condition to do our duty and do it well. (Applause.)

Mr. LANIUS. Mr. Speaker and getlemen of the House, I am sorry to say I am not equal to the occasion because of a sudden and severe attack of illness, and I will ask that my colleagues throughout the entire House who cannot hear me distinctly will kindly forbear. The gentleman who has just preceded me has spokne of constitutional rights. I call your attention, Mr. Speaker, and gentlemen of the House, to the fact that when licenses are revoked in this State by the courts of this State, there is nothing said about constitutional rights, because the Constitution, as I understand it, says no man shall be deprived of his property, except by due process of law. If a law is written here in Pennsylvania that a license is to be revoked by the vote of the people, then, Mr. Speaker, I take it that that is "due process of law," and the provisions of the Constitution have been fulfilled. Mr. Speaker, the gentlemen who preceded me spoke of compensation. What has been the compensation for the men of this State whose licenses have been revoked? They have that like men, and have made no complaint. And yet their brethren who pretend to be sympathetic with them would come here and ask that they be taken care of when they made no attempt to get any compensation for the men whose licenses were lost. Mr. Speaker, I take it when we speak of compensation, we are treading upon dangerous ground. We passed the Child Labor Bill; we cast out the children of this State from earning a livelihood, and we did not provide any other means for them to earn a livelihood. Mr. Speaker, when the men of Pennsylvania marched away in 1860 to liberate the slaves in the South, there was not one word about compensation for those people down South who believes that business was right. Let us stop talking about compensation in Pennsylvania. It is dangerous, more than dangerous. It brings back the rattle of the drum and fife of 1860. Below the Mason and Dixon Line, the men stood their loss like men, and that is the reason perhaps a compensation argument did not stand in a good place when they made the South thoroughly prohibition. Mr. Speaker, from the standpoint of revenue, what does it cost this Nation to make up for the use and abuse of liquor? What is charged against the State by reason of the inmates in the State hospitals, local hospitals, county almshouses, county jails and State penitentiaries?

Mr. Speaker, is any thing taken into consideration for the loss of the talent, and for the loss of the manhood? Every prohibition state in the United States shows an increase of finance rather than a decrease. It shows that this must be a progressive move, or that a great West, which has been so often referred to would not have adopted this and more drastic measures one after the other. It has been said that the State of Nevada does not want a local option law because she cannot stand it from a standpoint of population; that New Jersey never wanted any because of Atlantic City, Ocean View, and Cape May. But God only knows why Pennsylvania does not want one. Mr. Speaker I say to you that we ought to be ashamed that in this State of Pennsylvania that has always stood firm in every crisis that we do not have at least a local option law on the statute books. The county is right under the Brooks High License Law. It is said by liquor men that at least you have got a local option law in the Brooks High License law. Then if that is so, and the licenses are distributed in county unions at the present time we take it sir, that the county units are the proper form. What excuse will they give us if we ask them to vote for prohibition. They will not want that either. I tell you, Mr. Speker, it is not the people, it is the treachery of the politicians that we have opposing us. That is where the trouble comes in. You can scoff and mock and override the wish and will of the pepole, but I would like to know, Mr. Speaker how many men in this House fought this issue fairly and squarely at the last election. I would like to know just how many were committed one way or the other, and how many were not committed. Mr. Speaker, I was told that I sang my swan song here on the floor of this House in 1915. I am singing the second verse of that to-day, and I thank God for the privilege. In speaking about personal liberty—you have passed the narcotic drug act that will prevent a man from taking a dose of morphine. What difference if I take morphine for a stimulant or if I take a drink of whiskey. One they say I cannot have, and the other they say I dare have. Is that fair?

Mr. Speaker, I shall not go into detail because for once in my life I am disgusted, thoroughly disgusted, because the liquor people have not put up one single iota of argument here to-day. I would like to meet these gentlemen where we could talk together at any place, at any time, anywhere that we might see fit and present our arguments without subterfuge. A man has a right to his conscience, and we trust that conscience and politics will prevail today. They say we are here representing districts, and I say so too. I say we are here as district representatives, but there is something else connected with being a representative of either the Republican or the Democratic party from such and such a district. Mr. Speaker, in 1914, the Democratic party declared for local option. The senators elected in that year are still bound by that pledge. This is a co-ordinate branch of this Legislature. We cannot bind them and free ourselves, and I hope Mr. Speaker, in every case those of this delegation who have not specifically repudiated that local option platform pledge and are duty bound to vote for it will do so. We do well to challenge the sincerity of the Republican party, in gubernatorial campaigns and in National campaigns, but we do help to set them an example by redeeming our pledges. Mr. Speaker, this is a serious proposition. Prohibition played a most important part in the last election. Will we read the hand writing on the wall, or will we fail to read the hand writing? Your whole West is prohibition, and there will not be any one candidate for president in 1920, who will dare say he does not favor prohibition. There is too large a vote, and Pennsylvania still holds out. Must we make Pennsylvania dry by constitutional amendment; must we amend the federal constitution? Mr. Speaker, they have told me that Pennsylvania has just as progressive laws on its statute books as there are in the West but how long after those other states did Pennsylvania adopt these progressive laws. Child Labor was adopted by many of the western states before we ever wrote it on our statute books, and so was compensation, and we tried to have initiative and referendum. As one gentleman said here at the hearing last week, in three months three elections were held for mayor. He was talking about recall and not initiative and referendum. Mr. Speaker, we are progressive, and that very fact is the very reason in my mind why we could be not only progressive, but the leading state in this Nation from every point of view. Mr. Speaker there is no reason in the world why the people in Pennsylvania should not have what they ask for. Surely if you take the vote of 1914 and look at the upwards of 400,000 votes cast for Mr. McCormick, and they were local option votes, men who at least were satisfied with their declaration surely you will see that that was not a small minority. You will see that is a sufficient body to demand this act from this Legislature.

Mr. Speaker, in conclusion I desire to make it plain that where men have stood out against this measure, and where their intentions are honest they can use their votes as they see fit, but I am speaking to the man who is non-committal, the man who has not made his fight fairly and openly, I say he is in duty bound to stand and vote for this measure. I thank you.

Mr. STADTLANDER. Mr. Speaker, I wish to say to those who will vote for this measure and those who will vote against it, buth sides are my friends. I will be very brief in my remarks for the reason that I believe that brevity "is the spice of life." The prevailing idea exists that those men who favor this bill are angels, and those who are opposed to it are on the road to perdition and damnation. I do not favor this bill and I am not ashamed to tell you so on the floor of this House to-day. That is the American right, which every one of us has the right to display on the floor of the House. No man with red blood in his veins fears any other man, and I stand here to-day to tell you that I fear no man by reason of my vote on this question. I represent a district composed of workshops, mills, factories, blast furnaces and so forth. I know this to be an actual fact that the man who earns his bread by the sweat of his brow, standing before the blast furnaces or pulling the iron as it may be, if he steps out and takes a glass of water, usually ice water, he is a sick man. The superintendents—and I am well acquainted with a number of them in my district—tell me that when a man takes a glass of beer it does not have the effect of making him sick. Isn't it right that what I do it done to meet the needs of the constituency in my district? I beg to state that the issue was fairly fought at the last election in my district, and in answer to the gentleman from York Mr. Lanius I can state that local option was an issue in my district and that my colleague and I came out victorious. I have never played the part of a hypocrite and I do not intend to play that part; but I might truthfully say with relation to the so-called dry forces that many a time I have ridden on the same train with them and they were "loaded to the brim." That is what I call a hypocrite, and of that class I would not be a member. We must consider that the brewing interests and the liquor interests are co-partners in our state government. They help to pay our taxes they help to employ our men they improve their property and are charged with all assessments. Why should we take their property without due process of law? The former speaker has stated that the due process of law will be complied with by this measure but I disagree with him. We have corporations enjoying the right of eminent domain ,where property has been taken by condemnation proceedings, and they have the right to receive compensation therefor. If we are going to have a law where there is confiscation, let us also have compensation. I believe that Barnum was right when he said that the American people liked to be humbugged. This is my first experience in the House, but it looks as though the Pennsylvania legislature is humbugged every two years by having this proposition come before the House. It is time that a halt should be called on this so that we can get down to business instead of jolting the House full each sessions will bills on this question. I will admit for the sake of argument that there are bad men in the liquor business but you also have bad men in the dry party. Rid both of you rparties of the bad men and see if you cannot get together and make a harmonious climax somewhere along the line. In conclusion, I am going to say that the experiences in dry counties throughout this State have been something terrible. I am going to illustrate by referring to the county of Mercer. That county went dry about two years ago. In the towns of Sharon and Farrell two or three carloads of beer are sent in every week to meet the demands of the people in thot county. Then you have Youngstown, which is only about sixteen miles distant. The grocers of that town have sent out correspondence to the various residents of this county, to the effect that if they would purchase ten dollars worth of groceries, a quart of whiskey would be sent as a premium. That is a condition in Mercer County. We should treat all counties alike. If you are going to make them dry, make them bone dry—a provision that this bill does not have. I thank you for your consideration, and in closing wish to say that I am opposed to the passage of this bill and will vote against it.

Mr. McVICAR. Mr. Speaker and Gentlemen of the House: The statement was made at the local option hearing Wednesday of last week, that the members of the House had misrepresented the major sentiment of the people of this Commonwealth, in voting against the passage of a local option law. The gentleman who made this statement were mistaken. I believe that the vote of the House has always been in accordance with the sentiment of the people, because in most cases, the local option question was an issue, either at the nomination or election of each member. I also believe that this House to-day will vote its honest judgment upon the bill now before us, but like "Truth crushed to earth," the question of local option will continue to be an issue for this House to determine until it is answered right.

The question which this House will pass upon to-day, is briefly this: Shall the people of each county in this Commonwealth be given the right to determine whether intoxicants shall be sold therein or not? Or to state the question in another form: Whether each county of the State shall have home-rule on the liquor question? The mere statement of the proposition would seem to be sufficient, but such it not the case. Many arguments are made against the passage of a local option law. I shall endeavor to state the principal arguments against local option and make a brief reply thereto.

It is argued that because intoxicants have been sold at all times in the past, and that several of the Presidents of the United States have sanctioned such sale, and possibly engaged in the business that such sales should continue in the future.

This argument is not tenable. Slavery was an institution in this country until recently, but it was abolished. Capital punishment was imposed in the past for the commission of a hundred or more offenses. At the present time it is reduced to a very few. We have Workmen's Compensation and Child Labor laws on our books now, placed there during the session of 1915. The necessity therefor did not appear until that time.

The fact is, that as civilization advances, the enlightened mind and heart finds that laws are necessary to meet new and changed conditions which did not exist theretofore, and to make that unlawful which theretofore was lawful.

It is argued again, that men cannot be reformed by law; that the solution of the liquor question is educational. This statement is open to attack.

The State will not permit thieves to steal, nor murderers to murder, because men cannot be reformed by law, but because it is necessary to protect society by punishing those members which violate the law. The same is true of the liquor question. The opportunity to drink should be removed for the protection of the individual and those who are affected thereby.

It is argued again, that the passage of a local option law will increase taxes, assuming, of course, that some of the counties will vote dry. This proposition is correct, but who pys the taxes; who pays for the breweries, distilleries, liquor establishments, homes (many of them palatial), and the luxuriant living of many persons engaged in the liquor business? The answer is evident,—the consumer pays the taxes and for all the other things which I have mentioned. The consumer is the public, the public, hence, would be benefited by removing the burden of such payments from it.

It is also argued that local option laws or prohibitory laws do not decrease the amount of liquor consumed. If that be true, I ask why it is, that those who are engaged in the sale and manufacture of liquors are opposed to such laws.

It is also argued, that a man has a right to eat or drink whatever he chooses, without regard to the effect upon himself or others.

The proposition is not correct. The State makes it unlawful, a crime, for a man to attempt to take his own life. The State protects the health of its people by the enactment of pure food and many other laws. The State is interested in promoting the health and longevity of all its citizens.

But man does not live alone. The effect of the use of intoxicants concerns not only the individual using the same, but the family, church, State and Nation.

It is argued again that this disturbing question of local option should not be raised at this time when the country probably is on the verge of war.

I answer that this is the very time that the question should be raised, because it is necessary that this State and Nation husband all its resources, whether of men or property. Canada recognized the correctness of this position. The Province of Ontario since the war began, enacted a prohibition law, and Russia recognized the correctness of this position in prohibiting the sale of "vodka."

But whether my position is right or wrong upon any of the above propositions; whether liquor should be sold now, because it has been sold at all times in the past; whether or not men can be reformed by law; whether the passing of a local option law will raise the taxes; whether the passage of such a law will decrease the amount of liquor sold; whether a man has a right to eat and drink that which he chooses, I contend is not for the members of this House to answer, but each of these questions is for the people to answer when they are called upon to determine in their respective counties whether intoxicants shall be sold therein or not. If the electorate consider any of the arguments made against local option good, they will no doubt vote accordingly; if they do not consider such arguments good, they will vote accordingly.

I have heretofore attempted to make an answer to some of the arugments made against the passage of a local option law. I shall now endeavor to submit a few reasons why this bill before us should be passed. My first reason is, that the government of this country is based upon that immutable principle that the government is of, by and for the people. A local option law is simply an exercise of that principle.

This bill should be passed because it furnishes home-rule for each county on the liquor question. The public policy of the State is in favor of home-rule for municipalities, and this principle should be extended to the liquor question.

This bill should be passed because the government of this State is weakened by virtue of its present liquor laws. This is true in the Executive, Legislative and Judicial Departments thereof. Many of our judges are now being selected without reference to any other quality than their attitude upon the liquor question. The same is true in the selection of members of the General Assembly, and I believe it also will be true hereafter in the selection of a Governor. This condition should not exist. It means that inferior men will necessarily be elected to office and the government necessarily weakened thereby.

This bill should also be passed because the people should have the right to stop that which is destructive to life, health and the pursuit of happiness.

Statistics given at the recent local option hearing show that the probability of life of a person of the age of 20 years, who is a non-drinker, is 64 years; that of a moderate drinker, 51 years, or 13 years less than that of the non-drinker; that of the hard drinker, 35 years, or 29 years less than that of the non-drinker; that 300,000 people die annually in this country from the use of intoxicants. Statistics also show that from 50 to 75 per cent. of crime is a result of the use of intoxicants; that about the same percentage of divorces are caused thereby; that it sends a large number of people to the poor house, and no doubt a large percentage of the 2,334 deaths and 227,887 persons injured between January 1, 1916, and December 1, 1916, as a result of industrial accidents in the State, were caused either directly or indirectly by the excessive use of intoxicating liquors. There cannot be any question but that the excessive use of liquor is harmful to the individual, the family, church, the State and the Nation, and that it is destructive of life, health and happiness.

If then the government of this country is vested in the people; if the policy of the State is in favor of home-rule for municipalities; if the present liquor laws weaken the Executive, Legislative and Judicial Departments of the government; if the use of liquor is destructive of life, health and the pursuit of happiness, why shouldn't this General Assembly grant to the people the right of local option. Twenty-five States of the Union are now under the prohibition flag; nearly all of the other States have passed local option laws; why should Pennsylvania lag further? Gentlemen, that is a question for you to answer.

Mr. SIGGINS. Mr. Speaker, reference has been made to property rights of license owners but no reference has been made to other property rights, the rights of children in their father, the rights of the wife in her husband; they maintain to argue on behalf of themselves that these property rights are far greater than their property rights, simply the possession of one bottle of liquor or a quantity of liquor. One of the speakers in oppposition to the bill, although he stated that he is for it, stated that it is evidenced that the American people like to be humbugged. I submit that we have been humbugged. We have been humbugged from year to year by the liquor forces of this State. They will argue when you go into a license court that the Brook's High License Law is not a local option law; when you come down to this House here then they will argue that the High License Law is a local option law. When you put a prohibition measure in front of them by legislative enactment they will say it is simply referred to the people; and when you put it in front of them then it should be referred to the people and they possibly don't want any legislation for it. I desire to quote from the Sunday Dispatch which I have found in my mail box practically ever since I have been elected to this House coming from some unknown source. I quote from date of January 28th, 1917, at which time a bill had been passed by Congress making the District of Columbia dry. As I understand it, this paper at least appears from the evidence to be a liquor paper. I will read a portion of it:

"If the people of the District of Columbia want drinking abolished, well and good. They are entitled to have what they want. But, at least, let the matter be referred to them. To pass a bill such as the Sheppard matter without letting the people of the district affected vote upon it, amounts to a dangerous violation of popular right."

"Let us have a referendum in order that the people whose personal liberties are to be curtailed by this measure may say for themselves whether or not they approve of such curtailment. If the Prohibition element can legislate the District of Columbia "dry" without consulting the feeling of of the people of that district, they can with equal propriety declare whole states "dry" in defiance of the sentiment of the people of those states."

The question comes to you, why a local option bill is necessary. The law in this State, the Brook's High License Law, has not yet been quoted. I desire to read that section of the Brook's High License Law which has caused so much trouble in this State of Pennsylvania and on account of which a local option bills becomes an absolute necessity.

"The said court of quarter sessions shall hear petitions from residents of the ward, borough or township, in addition to that of the appellant, in favor of and remonstrance against the applicant for such license and in all cases shall refuse the same whenever, in the opinion of the said court, having due regard to the number and character of the petitioners for and against such application such license is not necessary for the accommodation of the public and entertainment of strangers or travelers, or that the applicant or applicants is or are not fit persons to whom such license should be granted."

What is the position of the court upon that law? We will assume that the court is absolutely honest. He has taken a constitutional oath to perform, with proper regard, all the functions of his office. The courts generally throughout the State have taken the position that the Brook's High License Law is a law which authorizes the granting or requires the granting of license in a particular county and leaves only to the court the question as to where the same be granted. If that is the case, then the number and character of the petitioners for and against have no weight whatsoever with the court. In our county at the last no-license fight, as near as we could estimate, there are perhaps twenty-five hundred out of forty thousand in our county who are drinking men, a very small majority. We contended that the public were the twenty-five hundred. The courts ruled otherwise. The court was composed of all teetotalers, absolutely temperance men who would have made our country dry if they could have conscientiously done so under the Brooks High License Law. It is for that reason that I desire to speak upon this bill at this time. What is the effect upon the court? When the court by reason of its oath of office cannot make a county dry the effect then is to elect a judge to office who is pledged upon the popular issue before that issue is ever in court. It is corrupting our judiciary, one of the most important functions of our government, and if we gentlemen could realize that our people will take it into their own hands and, gentlemen, when the people of any community take anything into their own hands as against the law, it is dangerous to the community at large.

Now, gentlemen, the question has been raised as to whether the fight was raised in your recent candidacy or not. Suppose the fight were raised and the fact that some advocate came out for local option and you did not, does that mean that all those persons who voted for you and did not inquire as to your attitude on local option are against it? Don't go out and slap your constituents in the face, the men who sent you down here, by voting on this proposition as if they did not have the right and intelligence to vote upon a condition local in itself. (Applause.)

Mr. BEYER. Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House, I am not here to plead for the drunkards, nor am I here to defend the liquor interests of Pennsylvania, nor am I here to sympathize with the weak-minded families unable to govern themselves and govern their children, who fail to properly bring up their children under God's law and the righteous obedience to the good things in life and who fail by the wayside because of unholy alliances existing in this world to-day entirely apart from the drinking of liquor; but I am here to plead in behalf of that vast army of men and women who know how to use liquor and use it in moderation. The foundation of all good government is justice. In order to secure justice, governments are instituted among men who derive their power from the consent of the government. In order to secure justice constitutions are established which guarantee to men certain right and which delegate to the government certain privileges; constitutions which say to the intolerant spirit of the day, "Thus far you can go and no farther." Constitutions are made to protect men in the exercise of their rights and if this bill were a bill to regulate the traffic in liquor along modern and decent lines I would cheerfully vote for the measure that now lies before us; but the very title of the bill tells in the off-start what it is. It is an attempt to further regulate, it says, the liquor laws of Pennsylvania, referring thereby to the statute already on the books, that of 1887, known as the Brook's High License Law, which for the first time undertook to properly regulate the sale of liquor in Pennsylvania. Now, under that law we have gotten along remarkably well. In the city that I come from I remember as a boy during the first year of the session of the license court how one saloon after the other was driven out of existence simply upon the plea that it was not a necessity in the neighborhood where it existed. I am not here to stand upon any proposition of property that has been made here for the saloonkeeper, for I freely believe that when the day comes that the people get tired of drinking liquor the saloon, in a number of the sections where the people's don't want it, will automatically go out of business and you won't need to compensate the saloonkeeper; but as long as there is any number of people sufficiently large enough in number to patronize a saloon existing, I say that it does not lie in the power of a momentary majority from one year to the other to drive the saloonkeeper out of business simply by a little majority, some few men who don't want license while others do. The foundation upon which the Brook's High License Law stands is whether or not it is a necessity in the neighborhood.

And our judges have been asked in a judicial manner to determine that question. But from whence arises all this noise and all this tumult of recent years? I have seen it grow, and perhaps many of you here in the House have seen it grow, when judges have attempted in a judicial manner to perform their duties, and have attempted to listen to those who come pleading for a saloon in a particular section of the city or town, a few hand-picked agitators living nowhere near the section to be affected, but primarily opposed to liquor at any and all cost, would come into a court of justice and remonstrate against the granting of that license, and when they refuse they commence a campaign against the judge who had the courage and the manhood to do his duty. From the time that this first happened down to the present hour this agitation has grown until today in my own city and in every part of the United States where licenses should have been granted in response to the wishes of a community overwhelmingly made known to the courts and not granted, simply because some man high in the church wrote a secret little letter which the judge had in his pocket remonstrating against the granting of a license. Do you call that the spirit of fair play? Do you call that the spirit of American Democracy that should prevail? Is that the kind of courage you want in a judge? I say nevertheless that the weaknesses of our judges to-day in obedience to this hue and cry against licenses, ill founded as it is, is because they have dreaded to perform their duties, and that is the strongest evidence in favor of the law that we now have of 1887. Do you know, gentlemen, that behind this bill lurks the sinister influence of the prohibitionist who wants the entire state to be made dry? Because is the very reading of this bill you will find that once the people have voted to make a certain county dry, there is nothing in the bill that ever tells the judge that he is obligated to grant any license again, even after they make the county wet, showing conclusively that it does not settle the question at all, but leaves a county dry once the county has been made dry.

You will recall in the meeting here last week, how one sponsor after the other who spoke for this bill told you that their aim after all was to get state-wide prohibition, and they heralded in glorious vein the fact that some day they would have national prohibition. Well, now, let me tell you, my friends, whether it comes or whether it does not, that you are sowing the seed of anarchy. The pathway of anarchy is along the pathway of intolerance, never along the line of liberal and judicious treatment of the things that require justice. The pathway of all destruction for any nation has always been when one class of people undertakes with an iron hand to rule the other. I do not care, so far as the traffic of liquor is concerned, whether it automaticaly goes out of business today or tomorrow, but I do care whether or not you are going to uphold the sacred right of humanity to have what it wants as long as it knows how decently and consistently to use that which God himself has given man to use. Every possible effort is made here to talk about liquor as a poison. Why gentlemen did you ever read of liquor in the pages of your history, or in the reading of the Good Book, doing any injury to Jesus of Nazareth at the wedding of Cana, or the guests that were assembled there? No, but the spirit of intolerance did, it nailed Him to the cross. Did you ever hear of its doing any injury to Daniel Webster, or Henry Clay? Did it ever kill William Penn? Has it ever killed any member of this House, or of the sessions that have gone before? I say no. But the abuse of liquor, the same as the abuse of any other thing, has brought about death, because the written law of God has been that you are to be temperate in all things. I am reminded in this instance of a little thing that occurred some years ago when holding a banquet in connection with a lodge of which I happened to be a member. A certain clergyman and I met in an outer room of the hall where the banquet was being held. He came running out with a very pale face, with a finger in his mouth, and ran to the lavatory and emptied out what he had eaten. I looked at him and said, "What is the matter, my dear brother?" He said: "Brother Beyer, I enjoyed that ice cream. I have eaten just a bit more of ice cream than was good for me, and here is the result of it."

I said, "My good friend, the Good Book says, 'be ye temperate in all things.'"

This seems to me the principle source of trouble in Pennsylvania today. If we undertook to regulate the traffic in liquor along sound and sober lines, if we would make the traffic open, dealing with it in the open, instead of in secret behind closed doors and frescoed windows where every neighbor could see a man stand against the bar, there would be less desire to hang around such places where a man becomes intoxicated. But when you talk about this question along the lines you have been talking as something wicked, you do not reflect on any injury that may result from the abuse of it. What the liquor business needs above all things else today, is regulation and not confiscation. The people who live in one county have as much right to feel that the people in another county shall live along the same line as they do. How manifestly unjust it appears to be for some poor working man who has stood all day honestly toiling in the sweat of his brow, gets home at night, wants to go out and have a little sociable time with his friends, but he cannot find a saloon, simply because he happens to be living in a section of the city where some big millionaire resides, who belongs to some city club somewhere, who after filling their bellies drinking all sorts of booze and gambling with cards late at night then come home next day and vote for a local option law that denies the poor devil the same privilege, that he has himself somewhere else. Some one made the suggestion a moment ago that the Governor of this Commonwealth was elected upon a platform of his own, that of local option. I want to correct that statement. I remember what the Governor said, and think you gentlemen will recall, that before he was nominated, he made this statement: "If the Legislature passes a local option law I will sign it." He was perfectly safe in making that statement, for he had reason to know that the Legislature would never pass any such law. But as his campaign progressed, and he traveled from one county to the other, he met in various sections of the State people who were not favorable to liquor, and he had to make his statements a little more pronounced, and a little more decided than before, and he became more eloquent in order to impress upon them his sincerity and he finally worked himself up in a fever heat in favor of local option, but there were thousands of people in Pennsylvania who never believed he would sign a local option bill, while there may have been a few who believed that he would. Then commenced a campaign of tyranny over this chamber two years ago. Every man was summoned from time to time into the Executive Chamber and asked to sign what he considered a roll of honor to vote in favor of this local option bill. Threats were made to the various members of this House. I was told that if I did not support the local option bill, that if I voted against it, that I would never come back here to my seat in the House. I had the courage to oppose it, gentlemen. The first time I was elected I was elected by a majority of about three thousand. They tried to defeat me, and they tired to have a man against me who could be regarded as a local option candidate in that district, but they did not think that safe enough, and in order to get rid of your representative for a man who would favor the local option bill, and finding that they could not get such a candidate in my district, they tried to get a brewery owner on the ticket as a candidate against me to offset my strength in that district. That is the manner of the local optionists and the sincerity that is behind the advocates of this bill. I came back to this House with a majority of almost eight thousand as against three thousand two years ago. If that means anything it means at least that my constituents have honored me with having manhood and courage enough to stand for what I believe to be right, even though some of them did not agree with the sentiments I expressed. In the Fifteenth district of Philadelphia we had a very forcible illustration. We have in this House to-day in the person of Mr. Cummins, a representative who ran against a man named Scott, a local option candidate. Mr. Scott received twenty-seven hundred votes, while Mr. Cummins in the House here received eighteen thousand seven hundred votes. Does this look as though the people of Philadelphia at least were going wild over this local option cry, or does it look as though they wanted men liberal-minded, whole-souled and free-hearted enough to accord to every man and woman the same liberties and privileges that they ask for themselves. Why, gentlemen, it is a most unfortunate fact, but true, that this hysteria and spirit of intolerance has grown into the very hearts of some of our best preachers of the State to-day. I was talking some months ago with one of the most distinguished and noted preachers in our city, known all over this continent as a great lecturer. and the man told me in confidence, "I would be afraid to honestly speak out as I ought to on this subject; if I did I would be damned." I said, "Why don't you come out in your manhood and make that statement?" He said, "I read what you said some time ago in the Legislature, every line of it, and I want to say, Brother Beyer, that I agree with every word you said." He said, "Do you know, in a great hospital in Philadelphia, in which I am interested, that we have saved many a life by the timely administration of a little liquor?" I said, "If you believe that why don't you come out in the open and say it?" He said, "I cant, but you can," and he said, "when the time comes why don't you say to the liquor people of Pennsylvania, 'there is a solution to this great problem; hang out a little shingle on the front door with these words, "this is a temperance saloon;" that is the answer to the whole question.'" No greater injury has even been done to the cause of temperance than this unholy and untimely assault upon the rights and liberties of the men and women of this Commonwealth. If drink were a poison such as opium and other narcotics of that character there might be some excuse for the assault upon it, but it is only in the abuse or the wrongful use of liquor that any injury has ever been done. There are many other things that men and women can do that are intemperate,—you can be intemperate in eating as well as drinking; you can make a hog of yourself by doing many other things besides going to a table and taking a glass of wine or beer. I honestly believe that in this great age of efficiency, when men are seeking to bring out of themselves all the energy they can, they are gradually rising, in other words, their manhood will overthrow the vice and wrong that might be in their dispositions, and they will live more temperate lives than heretofore. They are becoming more temperate in their method of living, and when the time comes when they do not want to drink they will cease drinking without any law to stop them. But if they have not that right, if you are going to try to stop it. they will find some other way of doing it. If they cannot get it in Delaware County. they will come to Philadelphia and get it, and they will probably come back from Philadelphia drunk, whereas if they could have gotten it in Delaware in the first place, they would have taken the drink and gone home perfectly sober and perfectly contented. The experience with all humanity has always been that the thing most craved for is the thing that is being denied. I remember some years ago when riding on a train through our State to some distant point in the West, on a Sunday, when there was not a drink on the train, that some of the men wanted a drink. They were walking back and forth, asking the men on the train whether or not they had a bottle with them. Unfortunately no one had, and the first thing they did when the train reached that distant town, was to hunt up some club to get the drink that they did not need but thought they wanted, because they could not get it on the train.

Let your preachers do their part. Let us have more religion and less politics in the pulpits. Let us have more manhood and patriotism, more regard for justice, and men will rise up in their dignity and power and assert themselves as God wants them to do and they will live the lives that He alone wants them to live, without any regards to the law in Pennsylvania.

Mr. WALTER. Mr. Speaker, local option is something that has been granted to the people of almost every state in the Union with the exception of New Jersey and Pennsylvania. Therefore it should not be looked upon with suspicion as being a new thing or as an unreasonable request. Why it should be held back in this way I do not know, and no one seems to be able to tell. Now a word with respect to the legal aspect of a license in Pennsylvania. It is asserted that this is taking property without compensation. Why, every one knows, who knows anything about the law, that every license in Pennsylvania rests upon the will of the judge and if he refuses it, all the property rights in that license are destroyed once and for all.

Then for a long time in Pennsylvania the privilege of selling liquor has never been an asset for the payment of debts. If a man goes into bankruptcy it has been decided by the Supreme Court of the United States that he cannot be compelled to transfer to his trustees in bankruptcy the privilege of selling liquor; it is a personal privilege. Ever since Pennsylvania has been a province liquor and the selling of it has been recognized as something that required and demanded regulation. Now, local option as presented to you is a method of regulation. It does not fix anything for all time. The Legislature meets every two years; the time a county may be voted dry is limited by this bill to three years, and if the people of any county want to change the method of regulation at any time they can do so upon twenty-five per cent. of them petitioning for an election. Is there any particular hardship in that? Is there anything unreasonable? Is there anything fixed? My friend, the gentleman from Philadelphia who just preceded me demonstrated to the satisfaction of every man in this House that the granting or refusing of licenses is not a proper duty to attach to the judges of this State. He spoke of the back-stairs methods; that some people have used when licenses have been refused. You all know in your communities the same back-stairs methods are used by people who want licenses granted. The citizens of Philadelphia are about to present a bill, I am told by the press, to relieve the judges of this disagreeable and non-judicial duty of granting or refusing a license. That is a proper bill, if it is made State-wide, and ought to be passed by this House, and that is one of the biggest reasons for supporting this local option bill. As was said by the gentleman from Allegheny, there is a tendency of putting inferior men in the office of Judge because they are elected, possibly in some cases, with respect to one day in the year and irrespective of their qualifications for office. There is no desire on the part of those supporting this bill or a great majority of them, to coerce any county of this State. The county is a proper unit because law is administered in this State by counties. The district attorneys are elected by counties; the judges are elected by counties and if a county votes to have no license you can depend upon it that it will elect a district attorney who will see to the enforcement of that law, and that is the reason for the county unit.

There is no desire on my part or on the part of most of those who support this bill to make the Beautiful City of Reading exist without beer and pretzels; there is no desire on our part to stop the cabarets in Philadelphia where the gentleman who just preceded me lives. There is no desire for this unless the people of Philadelphia and Berks County want it and the same with the coal regions. I submit that while judges of this Commonwealth will abuse the judicial prerogative by arbitrarily refusing licenses as they have a right to do nevertheless, there are some in some of the counties being human, who go too far the other way. Where a saloon license is granted to every couple hundred inhabitants it becomes a drain on the community and is not productive of law and order. Now, Mr. Speaker, I want to mention one thing: There is said by the men engaged in the liquor business of Pennsylvania and they say it openly and above board; and they say it by placards in the front of their places of business that certain men high in political life in Pennsylvania are the friends of saloons. I say, you can gather evidence of that same thing that their is an unholy alliance between the liquor dealers of this State and certain politicians of this State, and I submit that this does not make for the public good. I submit that things are done by reason of men being elected to office by the influence of those engaged in and supporting the liquor traffic and I submit that unfit men are often elected to office. You all know that during the last gubernatorial election the men who were running for Governor, without exception, declared for local option, and you will have the same spectacle the next time and the political leaders who think they can control particular individuals who may be picked for the executive office will tip off the liquor dealers association and tell them that they will be safe and all right just the same as they were tipped off quietly with respect to the present Governor but it seems to have been a mistake. I cannot do better than close this argument by a quotation from The Anti-Prohibition Manual of 1916 of which every member of this House has received a copy. I was very much impressed by the remarks of the gentleman from Warren and I happened to remember this little publication which I had examined with some care. I found in that publication which is marked "Price 10 Cents," but is distributed to the members of the trade, free, for the purpose of educating the people of the Commonwealth and we find this quoted there as an argument. It has the O. K. of the National Wholesale Liquor Dealers' Association of America and every member here who is supporting and in accord with that association and go along, know what this little book says. Discussing the prohibition cause, Ex-President Taft's remarks are printed in this book. He says this:

"Therefore, I am opposed to either saloonkeeper rule or to the extreme of prohibition.

"Now, let's have a system of local option where in a community they will support the enforcement of law.

"Let us deal with the matter in a common sense way. Let us deal with human nature as it is. Understand what the conditions are and then adopt the laws to ameliorate them. Do not put a lot of laws on our statute books that we know in our hearts we can't enforce—just an attempt to fool the people.

"It is true that it is pretty hard to steer a medium line. It is pretty hard to recognize abuse and attempt to restrain on the one hand and on the other, to use some remedy that is impossible and an extreme and to attempt to enforce the same."

The Wholesale Liquor Dealers' Association prints that and circulates it as an argument. I hope you will all vote for this bill.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the bill on second reading?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. Vickerman and Mr. Ramsey.

Mr. VICKERMAN. Mr. Speaker, I ask for a verification of the roll.

The SPEAKER. The roll will be verified.

Legislative Journal.

Session 1917 — 122nd of the General Assembly

VOL. 4. HARRISBURG, PA., WEDNESDAY, MARCH 28, 1917. No. 30.

SENATE.

WEDNESDAY, March 28, 1917.

The Senate met at 10 o'clock A. M.

The PRESIDENT PRO TEMPORE Mr. E. E. Beidleman) in the Chair.

The Chaplain, Rev. Thomas W. Davis, offered the following prayer:

Almighty God, we have learned by experience that it is good for us to put our trust in Thee. We thank Thee for the presence of Thy spirit among us creating a spirit of good fellowship. We ask that it may be our great desire in life to live and let others live, and to create so far as we possibly can a spirit of brotherhood among all men. We pray Thee to so guide this distinguished body that they in all their deliberations may have the highest and best interests of this great Commonwealth at heart. Be with us in all the affairs of our lives. We ask in our Saviour's name. Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVED.

The PRESIDENT. A quorum of the Senate being present the Clerk will read the Journal of the preceding session.

The Clerk proceeded to read the Journal of the preceding session, when, on motion of Mr. VARE, the further reading was dispensed with, and the Journal was approved.

REPORTS FROM COMMITTEES.

Mr. SEMMENS, from the Committee on Insurance, reported as amended Senate Bill No. 315, entitled

An Act amending sections one, two, three, four, five, six, seven, eight, ten, eleven, twelve and fifteen of an act, repealing section fourteen of said act, and supplementing said act, approved the third day of June, 1911 (Pamphlet Laws 658), entitled "An Act establishing the office of State Fire Marshal; defining his powers and duties; providing for his compensation, and the maintenance of his office; giving courts the power to punish witnesses for contempt of his authority, and to review his orders; and making it the duty of officers of public instruction and persons in charge of public or private schools to instruct children as to the dangers of fire and the prevention of fire-waste;" changing the office of State Fire Marshal to the Department of Fire Prevention; providing for the appointment of a State Fire Commissioner and other officers and employes under the Department of Fire Prevention, and fixing their salaries, fees, powers and duties; authorizing the adoption and enforcement of rules and regulations concerning explosives inflammable and combustible products and substances; authorizing the investigation of fires and the making of certain reports in connection therewith, and conferring on the State Fire Commissioner and officers under him, the power of police officers and constables with the power to make arrests with or without warrants; and to issue subpoenas requiring attendance at hearings for the investigation of fire; providing a procedure for the inspection of buildings and the destruction, removal and repair of dangerous buildings, premises and property, and the collection of the cost thereof in certain cases, from the owner by liens and giving such liens priority; requiring constables and police officers to serve certain warrants and subpoenas and providing penalties for the violation of the several provisions of this act.

Mr. BALDWIN, from the Committee on Insurance, reported as committed Senate Bill No. 588, entitled

BILL RECOMMITTED.

Mr. SEMMENS. Mr. President, I move that Senate Bill No. 388 (House Bill No. 375), on third reading, entitled

An Act to amend section one thousand two hundred and ten and to repeal sections one thousand two hundred and eleven, one thousand two hundred and thirteen and two thousand eight hundred and five of an act approved the eighteenth day of May, one thousand nine hundred eleven, entitled "An Act to establish a public school system in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania together with the provisions by which it shall be administered and prescribing penalties for the violation thereof; providing revenue to establish and maintain the same and the method of collecting such revenue and repealing all laws, general, special or local or any parts thereof that are or may be inconsistent therewith."

be recommitted to the Committee on Education.

Mr. P. W. SNYDER. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

BILLS OVER IN ORDER.

Mr. VARE. Mr. President, I move that Senate Bill No. 398 (House Bill No. 493), on third reading, entitled

An Act to amend section one of an act approved the thirtieth day of March, one thousand nine hundred fifteen, entitled "An Act to promote the health and efficiency of firemen in cities of the second class by providing for a two-platoon system for firemen in the Department of Public Safety of such cities," by extending the same to cities of the first class.

be recommitted to the Committee on Municipal Affairs for the purpose of amendment so that it will go into effect on the first of January instead of the time designated in this bill, as we have no money to provide for extra firemen during this year.

Mr. JENKINS. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. McNICHOL. Mr. President, if the purpose of the Senator from Philadelphia is to have the bill amended so as to make it effective on the first of January, 1918, why not do it on the floor of the Senate now, with the permission of the Senate, and allow the bill to go through on its final passage on Monday night? The bill can be amended with unanimous consent and can retain its place on the calendar on final passage on Monday evening. I have no objection to the bill going into effect on the first day of January, but if it is for any other amendment I would like to know just what the amendments are.

Mr. VARE. Mr. President, I am not in the habit of making a statement on this floor that a bill is to be committed for one purpose when the intention is something else. I am absolutely not opposed in any way to its being amended on the floor or any other place and I stated on this floor the reasons why I asked this bill to go to a committee or be amended in any way. It is for that reason and for no other, and I resent Senator McNichol's saying that it might be for some other purpose when it is not for some other purpose and he knows better than that.

Mr. McNICHOL. Mr. President I am surprised that the Senator has misconstrued my suggestion that if there is any other purpose I would like to know, because the reference to the further amendment is just for information. I am not in the habit of charging any Senator on the floor of this Senate with misrepresenting facts either for making a motion or anything affecting any particular bill, and I only suggested it as a remedy for the purpose of dispatching the passage of this bill, a suggestion that might be followed by the Senator to save time and to permit the bill to retain its place on the calendar. If there was anything offensive in my remarks it was not my intention that they should be so, because I am not in the habit of attempting to curtail the Senator or dictate what he should do in any matter.

Mr. VARE. Mr. President, I made that motion at the request of the Firemen's Committee themselves, that this bill be amended so that it would go into effect on the first of January, 1918, because they know as well as Senator McNichol knows and as well as I know that there is no money in Philadelphia now to add to the number of firemen that have already been provided for; I have not the slightest objection to amending it here on the floor or in committee; it is horse and horse with me.

Mr. McNICHOL. Mr. President, at the request of the Senator from Philadelphia I acquiesce in the suggestion that the bill be amended. I ask that the bill go over in its order for the present to give the Senator from Philadelphia an opportunity to prepare the amendments and then ask for unanimous consent to have it incorporated in the bill.

The PRESIDENT. Does the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Vare, insist upon his motion?

Mr. VARE. Mr. President, I do not.

The PRESIDENT. Does the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Jenkins, withdraw his second?

Mr. JENKINS. Mr. President, I do.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection to the request of the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. McNichol, that the bill go over in its order? The Chair hears none.

Mr. R. E. SMITH. Mr. President, I ask that Senate Bill No. 632, on third reading, entitled

An Act to further amend section nine of an act approved the thirty-first day of May, one thousand nine hundred and eleven, entitled "An Act providing for the establishment of a State Highway Department by the appointment of a State Highway Commissioner, two Deputy State Highway Commissioners, chief engineer, chief draughtsman, superintendents of highways, and a staff of assistants and employes, defining their duties and the jurisdiction of the State Highway Department, and fixing salaries of Commissioner and deputies and other appointees, providing for taking over from the counties or townships of the Commonwealth certain existing public roads connecting county seats, principal cities, and towns, and extending to the State line; describing and defining same by route numbers as the State highways of the Commonwealth; providing for the improvement, maintenance and repair of said State highways solely at the expense of the Commonwealth and relieving the several townships or counties from any further obligation and expense to improve or maintain the same, and relieving said townships or counties of authority over same; requiring boroughs and incorporated towns to maintain certain State highways wholly and in part; requiring the State Highway Commissioner to make maps to be complete records thereof, conferring authority on the State Highway Commissioner; providing for the payment of damages in taking of property or otherwise, in the improvement thereof; providing for purchase or acquiring of turnpikes or toll roads forming all or part of any State highway, and procedure therein; providing for work of improvement of State highways to be done by contract, except where the State Highway Commissioner decides the work be done by the State; providing aid by the State to counties and townships desiring the same in the improvement of township or county roads; defining highways and State-aid highways; providing method of application for State aid in the improvement, maintenance and repair of township or county roads and prescribing the contents of township, county, borough or incorporated town petitions; providing for percentage of cost of improvement or repairs to be paid by State, county, township, borough or incorporated town, and requiring contracts by counties, townships, boroughs and incorporated towns, with Commonwealth governing same, providing for the minimum width of State highways and State-aid highways; and kind of materials to be used in the improvement; providing for payment of cost of improvement and repairs; providing penalty for injuring or destroying State highways, making appropriations to carry out the provisions of the act; and providing for the repeal of certain acts relating to Highway Department and improvement of roads, and of all acts or parts of acts inconsistent herewith; and providing that existing contracts are not affected by provision of this act" as amended.

go over in its order. This bill has not been placed upon my desk.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection?

Mr. EYRE. Mr. President, I object, unless the Senator from Crawford gives some reason.

The PRESIDENT. The Chair desires to state for the information of the Senator from Chester that the bill is not up from the printer, and has not been laid on the desk of the Senators.

Mr. EYRE. Mr. President, then I have no objection.

Mr. R. E. SMITH. Mr. President, for the information of the Senator from Chester, I will say I did make the explanation that the bill was not upon my desk. Possibly it may not have been heard.

Mr. EYRE. Mr. President, I did not hear the reason.

BILLS ON THIRD READING AND FINAL PASSAGE.

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 650, entitled

An Act making an appropriation to A. K. Cassel for services rendered as Deputy Commissioner in the Dairy and Food Division of the Department of Agriculture.

A majority of all the Senators having voted "aye" the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present said bill to the House of Representatives for concurrence.

RESOLUTION CALLING UPON THE ECONOMY AND EFFICIENCY COMMISSION FOR CERTAIN INFORMATION.

Mr. SPROUL. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to offer a resolution at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. SPROUL offered the following resolution, which was twice read:

Whereas, The General Assembly on January 29th, 1917, adopted a Concurrent Resolution directing that the Economy and Efficiency Commission of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania should furnish, not later than March 1st, 1917, full information regarding the items appropriated to the Departments, Commissions and Boards of the Executive Branch of the State Government for the appropriation period ending May 31st, 1917, together with the amount expended from such appropriations up to December 31st, 1916, and the estimated needs of each Department, Commission and Board of the Executive Branch of the State Government for the two years beginning June 1st, 1917, and

Whereas, The said Economy and Efficiency Commission of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania has not at the present time, almost one month later than the date set by the previous resolution, furnished the General Assembly or the Appropriations Committees of the Senate and House of Representatives such information as would assist in the completion of the fiscal legislation necessary to be enacted at this session of the Legislature, and the work of the Legislature and its Committees has thereby been hindered and delayed.

Therefore be it Resolved (if the House of Representatives concur), That the said Economy and Efficiency Commission of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania be and the same is hereby directed to complete its report and send the same to both branches of the Legislature not later than Monday, April 2nd, 1917, together with the facts, data and information accompanying the same upon which said report is based, and in case of the failure or refusal of the said Economy and Efficiency Commission to complete and send its report as aforesaid, that the Appropriations Committee of the Senate and House of Representatives are hereby instructed to proceed with the preparation and introduction of the General Appropriation bill without further delay, and to obtain the necessary information by public hearings or otherwise which will enable them to proceed with the work with which they are entrusted.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the resolution?

Mr. VARE. Mr. President, I hope this resolution will pass; it is just a fair request for the Senate and House to make of the Efficiency Commission. We ought to have that report.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the resolution?

It was agreed to.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the House of Representatives for concurrence.

"Where a turnpike toll-road or toll-bridge company or other private corporation shall own or control the whole or any part of a road route or bridge forming all or any portion of a State highway as hereinbefore described and defined it shall be the duty of the State Highway Commissioner for and in behalf of the Commonwealth by amicable agreement to purchase said turnpike toll-road or such part thereof or toll-bridge owned by such company or corporation and if a fair and reasonable price which shall be approved by the Governor for said road or part thereof or toll-bridge cannot be agreed upon it shall then be lawful for the State Highway Commissioner to petition the court of quarter sessions of the county in which the State highway or any part thereof owned or controlled by said turnpike company bridge company or other private corporation is located setting forth that such turnpike or toll-road or part thereof or toll-bridge is a State highway within the designation and description of this act and that no agreement as to price or damage can be reached and thereupon said court shall appoint a jury of view consisting of five reputable citizens of the county in which the road or part thereof or toll-bridge is located and the said jury having been sworn or affirmed to perform their duties faithfully justly and impartially shall after due notice to the company or corporation and the State Highway Commissioner view and condemn the said turnpike toll-road or highway or part thereof or toll-bridge as a State highway or part thereof and shall appraise and report the damages which the owner or owners shall be entitled to receive therefor And for the purpose of appraising the damages as aforesaid the said jury shall first hear evidence on the part of the said owner or owners and afterwards shall hear evidence on the part of the State Highway Commissioner after which evidence shall be heard in rebuttal and in sur-rebuttal as prescribed for trials at law Said report shall be presented for confirmation nisi at the term of said court next succeeding said appraisement and view unless by order of said court the same be continued to a later term and if no exceptions are filed thereto said report shall at the expiration of thirty days after confirmation nisi be confirmed absolutely and an appeal therefrom by the Commonwealth or the company or corporation shall lie to the court of common pleas of said county within thirty days after confirmation absolute and upon issue framed by the court of common pleas the damages shall then be ascertain as in similar cases subject to an appeal to the Superior or Supreme courts as the case may be The said court of quarter sessions may in its discretion appoint a competent stenographer to keep a faithful record of all proceedings before the viewers and to furnish a full copy of his notes to be attached to and form a part of the record And the said stenographer shall be allowed the same compensation as that paid in their respective county to court stenographers and each viewer shall be allowed the sum of two dollars and fifty cents for each day necessarily employed which together with the compensation allowed the said stenographer shall be taxed as part of the costs of the proceeding and be paid as hereinafter provided Immediately upon agreement reached or upon completion of any court proceedings and acceptance of the appraisement or verdict by the Commissioner the damages so determined or awarded shall be paid by the Commonwealth together with the costs and expenses of proceedings in condemnation and the said turnpike toll-road or part thereof or toll-bridge shall become a State highway or part thereof free from tolls Provided That if the amount of damages as finally awarded shall be deemed excessive by the State Highway Commissioner he may refuse to accept the appraisement or verdict and may then omit said turnpike or toll-road or part thereof or toll-bridge from the aforesaid route of State highway and all court costs and costs of jury proceedings shall thereupon be paid by the State Highway Department and by necessary divergence therefrom he may select and adopt the next best and most suitable and convenient route or road in order to connect up and complete a continuous State highway and thereafter such diverged route or road shall be taken and remain and be as much a part of the State highways of the Commonwealth as though otherwise particularly described in this act Provided further That at any time during the proceedings in condemnation after the filing of the original petition of the State Highway Commissioner the said Highway Commissioner with the consent and approval of the Governor may after ten days' written notice to the owner or owners of said turnpike toll-road highway or toll-bridge present to the said court of quarter sessions of the proper county a declaration of his intention to immediately enter upon and take the said turnpike toll-road or part thereof or toll-bridge and to pay or cause to be paid to the said owner or owners such amount of damages as shall be assessed in the manner provided for by this act and all costs and expense of the said proceedings which declaration shall contain a certificate of State Highway Commissioner that sufficient funds to pay all possible damages costs and expenses of said proceedings have been appropriated by the Legislature and are available for this specific purpose and upon presentation of said declaration the said court shall mark the same filed of record in said proceedings whereupon the funds in the hands of the State Highway Commissioner or in the State Treasury and specifically appropriated to the use of the State Highway Commissioner shall be pledged and deemed as security for all damages done or suffered or which shall accrue by reason of the taking of said turnpike toll-road or part thereof or toll-bridge and the said turnpike toll-road or part thereof or toll-bridge shall immediately become a State Hiighway or part thereof free from tolls and the same may then be improved and maintained by the State Highway Commissioner in the manner provided by this act and upon completion of the proceedings in condemnation the State Highway Commissioner shall accept the appraisement and verdict and the damages so determined or awarded shall be paid by the Commonwealth together with the costs and expenses and in case the said damages and costs and expenses are not paid within thirty days from the final adjudication and judgment thereon the owner or owners of said turnpike toll-road highway or toll-bridge may enforce the same by payment of the same by writ of mandamus which shall be issued by the court of common pleas of the county in which the seat of government is or may be located and shall be proceeded in as provided by law And provided further That where an existing turnpike or toll-roads or parts thereof or toll-bridges owned by turnpike or toll-bridge companies or private corporations shall be or form any part of any State highway hereinbefore designated described or defined the same are not hereby immediately taken over for improvement or repair but the purchase thereof shall be deferred by the State Highway Commissioner and the same shall remain and be operated and controlled by the owners thereof as heretofore until such time as the work of improvement of all other State highways and parts or portions thereof shall have been completed And provided further If in the judgment of the State Highway Commissioner local or special conditions of any of said turnpikes or toll-roads or any part or parts thereof or toll-bridges are such as tend to interfere with or inconvenience travel thereon and shall sooner require the purchase improvement and control thereof by the State then upon the approval of the Governor such turnpike or turnpikes toll-road or toll-roads or part or parts thereof or toll-bridge or toll-bridges so affected by such local or special conditions shall be taken over in accordance with the provisions of this act Provided however That the county or counties in which any such toll-bridge or bridges is located shall pay at least one-half of the expense of freeing such toll-bridge or bridges" be further amended to read as follows

Section 9 Where a turnpike toll-road or toll-bridge company or other private corporation shall own or control the whole or any part of a road route or bridge forming all or any portion of a State highway as hereinbefore described and defined it shall be the duty of the State Highway Commissioner for and in behalf of the Commonwealth by amicable agreement to purchase said turnpike toll-road or such part thereof or toll-bridge owned by such company or corporation and if a fair and reasonable price which shall be approved by the Governor for said road or part thereof or toll-bridge cannot be agreed upon it shall then be lawful for the State Highway Commissioner to petition the court of quarter sessions of the county in which the State highway or any part thereof owned or controlled by said turnpike company bridge company or other private corporation is located setting forth that such turnpike or toll-road or part thereof or toll-bridge is a State highway within the designation and Commissioner in the manner provided by this act and upon completion of the proceedings in condemnation the State Highway Commissioner shall accept the appraisement and verdict and the damages so determined or awarded shall be paid by the Commonwealth together with the costs and expenses and in case the said damages and costs and expenses are not paid within thirty days from the final adjudication and judgment thereon the owner or owners of said turnpike toll-road highway or toll-bridge may enforce the same by payment of the same by writ of mandamus which shall be issued by the court of common pleas of the county in which the seat of government is or may be located and shall be proceeded in as provided by law And provided further That where an existing turnpike or toll-roads or parts thereof or toll-bridges owned by turnpike or toll-bridge companies or private corporations shall be or form any part of any State highway hereinbefore designated described or defined the same are not hereby immediately taken over for improvement or repair but the purchase thereof shall be deferred by the State Highway Commissioner and the same shall remain and be operated and controlled by the owners thereof as heretofore until such time as the work of improvement of all other State highways and parts or portions thereof shall have been completed And provided further If in the judgment of the State Highway Commissioner local or special conditions of any of said turnpikes or toll-roads or any part or parts thereof or toll-bridges are such as tend to interfere with or inconvenience travel thereon and shall sooner require the purchase improvement and control thereof by the State then upon the approval of the Governor such turnpike or turnpikes toll-road or toll-roads or part or parts thereof or toll-bridge or toll-bridges so affected by such local or special conditions shall be taken over in accordance with the provisions of this act Provided however That the county or counties in which any such toll-bridge or bridges is located shall pay at least one-half of the expense of freeing such toll-bridge or bridges And provided further That in taking over toll-roads counties townships boroughs or incorporated towns in which toll-roads to be taken over by the State Highway Commissioner are located are hereby authorized to contribute such part of the purchase price of said road or such part of the amount to be paid as ascertained and awarded by condemnation proceedings as may be agreed upon between said county township borough or town officials and the State Highway Commissioner And provided further That nothing in this act shall in any way prohibit any county from paying in full the amount determined to be paid for any turnpike road forming a portion of a State highway route condemned by proceedings under any other act of Assembly now in force

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and agreed to,

And the amendments made thereto having been printed as required by the Constitution,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. EYRE. Mr. President, I have been asked by a number of members of the Senate the meaning of this bill, which has rather a formidable title, and I would like to say this is a bill prepared at the instance of the Highway Department to enable counties to join with the Highway Department in taking over toll-roads on a basis of fifty per cent. payment by the county and fifty per cent. by the Highway Department. The Highway Department entered into a contract I think in Westmoreland County taking over a toll-road by the county paying one-half the expense thereof, and the Highway Department incurring the balance of the cost. The County Comptroller found no acts of Assembly permitting counties to do this. This is simply an enabling act to permit any county to join with the Highway Department in taking over toll-roads.

And the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

The yeas and nays were taken agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, and were as follows, viz:

BILLS ON SECOND READING.

Agreeably to order

The rule requiring bills to be considered in committee of the whole being in this case dispensed with,

The Senate proceeded to the second reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 280, as follows

An Act requiring county commissioners to construct certain bridges on State highways crossing a rivulet creek or river and also a railroad track or tracks and imposing the cost of the construction and maintenance thereof on the county State and railroad company or companies in such proportions as may be determined by the court of quarter sessions of the proper county

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That whenever it becomes necessary to construct a new bridge on a State highway to take the place of an existing bridge crossing a rivulet creek or river and also a railroad track or tracks in any borough or township or partly in a borough and partly in a township the county commissioners shall construct such bridge as county bridges are constructed under existing laws at the joint expense of the county the State and the railroad company or companies owning or operating such track or tracks

Section 2 Such new bridge shall not be erected until the construction thereof is approved by the court of quarter sessions of the proper county as hereinafter provided upon application by the State Highway Commissioner or the county commissioners or the railroad company or companies affected thereby or any or all of them or upon the petition of not less than twenty-five inhabitants of the county

Section 3 Upon the petition of the State Highway Commissioners the county commissioners or the railroad company or companies affected thereby or any or all of them or upon the petition of not less than twenty-five inhabitants of the county the court shall appoint three viewers to view the premises in the manner provided for the opening and laying out of public roads of which at least ten days written notice shall be given the State Highway Commissioner the county commissioners and the railroad company or companies owning or operating such track or tracks and notice shall also be posted at three of the most public places in the neighborhood of such bridge The said viewers having been duly sworn according to law shall view the premises and make report whether a new bridge is necessary and if so the proportions in which the expense of the construction and maintenance thereof shall be borne by the county the State and the railroad company or companies respectively Provided That if the State Highway Commissioner the county commissioners and the railroad company or companies are able to agree as to the share or proportion of the cost of the construction and maintenance of the bridge to be borne by each the viewers shall so report

Section 4 Upon the filing of the report of the viewers it shall be confirmed nisi and notice thereof given to the petitioners and all the parties assessed with any of the costs of the construction and maintenance of said bridge or their attorneys of record If no exceptions are filed within twenty days after the filing of the report the court shall confirm it absolutely If exceptions to the report are filed within twenty days the court upon hearing may change or modify such report or refer it back to the same or new viewers or may confirm the same absolutely From any final order or decree any party interested may appeal to the Supreme or Superior Courts in the manner provided by existing laws

Section 5 In the decree of final confirmation if the report finds that a new bridge is necessary the court shall order that the bridge be erected and maintained by the county and that the State and the railroad company or companies pay to the county their respective proportions of the cost of construction and maintenance

Section 6 If any railroad company neglects or refuses to pay the amount assessed against it within sixty days after the final order of the court the county commissioners upon filing a certified copy of the report of the viewers together with the decree of the court confirming the same in the court of common pleas may collect such award by execution or other process against the railroad company as other judgments are by law collected and enforced

Section 7 The amount assessed against the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania shall be paid out of any unexpended funds in the State Treasury appropriated to the State Highway Department for the construction and maintenance of State highways

Section 8 The costs of view and subsequent proceedings shall be apportioned in the same proportions as the cost of construction and maintenance of the new bridge in all cases where a new bridge is ordered to be built and in all cases where it is determined that a new bridge is not necessary the costs shall be paid by the petitioner or petitioners

Section 9 All other acts or parts of acts inconsistent herewith are hereby repealed

The rule requiring bills to be considered in committee of the whole being in this case dispensed with,

The Senate proceeded to the second reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 684, as follows

An Act relating to divorce and defining the conditions under which remarriage may be lawful by husband or wife after both separation and decree a mensa et thoro for a certain time and providing the procedure in and effect of the same

Whereas The law relating to divorce a mensa et thoro creates a relationship resigned in part to induce the parties to resume marital relations but experience has shown that it often prevents the establishment of households with consequent inducement to immorality and is injurious both to the individuals and society therefore it has been deemed proper after such reconciliation shall have become improbable that either party under proper conditions shall have the right to remarry not thereby affecting any former decree giving alimony

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That whenever a decree in divorce a mensa et thoro shall have been or shall be entered in this Commonwealth that either party under oath may petition the court of common pleas of the county where domiciled setting forth First the petitioners residence in the commonwealth at least one year just preceding such new action Second the name and if known the residence of the other party Third the date and place of the former decree incorporating a copy thereof Fourth the actual separation of the parties continuously for at least five years with a decree a mensa et thoro in full force for at least three years both just prior to said application and that the said decree has been complied with Fifth that a reconciliation is improbable Sixth that during the period of five years immediately prior to making the application the petitioner has led an upright life Seventh that there exists no collusion between the parties for the purpose of obtaining a decree

The petitioner shall pray the court for a decree making it lawful and allowing the petitioner to remarry and for a subpoena to issue directed to the other party as in divorce cases and if the facts set forth in the petition are established and it shall appear that the petitioner has complied with the former decree of the court has led an upright life free from immorality and that a reconciliation is improbable the court shall make a decree allowing and making lawful the remarriage of either and both of the parties as though never married but such decree shall not affect any order for alimony in said former proceeding so long as the wife remain unmarried the power of the court therein to change or suspend such alimony under the law at the application of either party shall remain unaffected and in no case shall the decree under this act extend to allow the husband or wife found guilty of adultery in the former proceeding to marry the co-respondent

Section 2 The court may hear the evidence directly or may refer the same to a special master to take and report the depositions to the court or may award an issue to obtain the aid of a verdict in arriving at a proper determination of the case and shall make all general or special rules as shall be deemed necessary in such cases the right of appeal shall exist as in cases of divorce

Section 3 All acts and parts of acts inconsistent herewith be and the same are hereby repealed

PRAYER.

The Chaplain, Rev. S. G. Zerfass, offered the following prayer:

O God, our Father, bless us all as the beautiful brightness of a new day comes to us. Without Thy blessing life has nothing truly beautiful or good. So fill us with Thy grace and love that we shall be gentle, humble and submissive, and in all things in accord with Thee; yea, keep us from envy, jealousy, bad temper and irritability.

Help us to carry invigorating sunshine and uplifting good cheer everywhere, to be blessings all this day, making our course like the shining light.

Empower us to meet all temptations and strengthen us with spiritual strength so that we may continually go about doing good. Eradicate all evil from our lives, so that we may not fail in our obedience to Thee, and be forever saved. Amen.

RESOLUTION NO. 12.

The SPEAKER called up Resolution No. 12, File Folio 1603, on page 12 of to-day's calendar, which was twice read and agreed to as follows:

Whereas, An effort is being made throughout the United States of America to amply prepare this country against any contingency which may arise and defend it against the invasion of any foe therefore

Be it Resolved (if the Senate concur) by the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania That it is the sense of this body that one of the first steps toward the protection of this Commonwealth and the rendering of aid to the Federal Government will be the completion of those trans-Pennsylvania thoroughfares which are part of the transcontinental systems connecting the eastern and western coasts the construction of which would aid materially in the transportation of troops and munitions and war if the occasion for such transportation arose

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

On the question,
Will the House agree to the bill on second reading as amended?
Mr. STERN. Mr. Speaker, in fairness to the sponsor of this bill I do not think it is any more than just that we give him an opportunity of explaining this bill before we pass upon it.
Mr. RINN. Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House. This bill is an exact copy of the New York law which has been given a fair trial and has proven most satisfactory in the Empire State. The bill has been made the subject of considerable discussion. By some it has been called an election bill and by others a labor bill. Mr. Speaker, is it not more appropriate to call it a golden rule measure? If this bill is enacted into a law will it not tend to bring the employer and the employe closer together? The proudest heritage of the American citizen is the right of franchise. It is a right that should be denied no man, not even the humblest of our fellow citizens. Foremost in times of peace, loyal in times of war, labor has become the great means of human improvement and human happiness. The men intelligent and far-seeing of the employing classes have been brought to a realizing sense of the importance of dealing fairly with those who toil for a weekly wage. They realize that the most efficient workman is the contented workman and the most contented workman is the one who knows that he is given the opportunity to cast his ballot without being penalized by the loss of time. It is at the ballot box that we exercise the most sacred of our civic privileges. But gentlemen have we given the laboring man every opportunity to exercise this precious prerogative? Is it not a fact that while the man whose time is his own has every opportunity to cast his ballot, a large per cent. of the toiling masses is virtually disfranchised unless they take time off at their own expense to go to the polls? Such a system is wrong; it is unjust; it is not in harmony with the teachings of the golden rule, which all of us ought to incorporate in our lives. In view of all this, is it not our paramount duty, gentlemen, to see to it that no man shall be deprived of the right of franchise because it is impossible for him to cast his ballot, without losing money that he cannot afford to lose? Gentlemen, there is no mistaking the trend of the times. Labor is growing more and more intelligent; it is everywhere doing good and compelling others to do good. Labor, intelligent labor I mean, is improving society and enlarging and perfecting its means of usefulness. This bill, gentlemen, will tend to strengthen the common bond of interest between capital and labor and convince the latter element of our society that it is receiving that recognition which it deserves and convince it that in Pennsylvania tyrannical institutions do not put the reproach of ignorance and inferiority on the man who toils. Mr. Speaker and gentlemen, the eyes of the people of this great Commonwealth are on us. They look for progressive legislation from us. This bill is distinctly in line with the trend of progressive thought and progressive sentiment. The great mass of workers of the State asks the enactment into law of this bill. It asks for nothing that is unreasonable or unjust. Gentlemen, let it not be said that the great State of Pennsylvania has denied labor the opportunity to cast its ballot.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the bill on second reading as amended?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Will the House agree to transcribe the bill for third reading?

The Speaker announced the nays appear to have it,

Whereupon,

A division was called for, and 104 gentlemen, the constitutional majority of the House having voted in the affirmative the question was determined in the affirmative, and the House agreed to transcribe the bill for a third reading.

SENATE MESSAGE.

HOUSE RESOLUTION AMENDED BY SENATE RETURNED FOR CONCURRENCE.

The Clerk of the Senate being introduced, informed that the Senate has concurred in the resolution from the House of Representatives, as follows viz:

In the House of Representatives.

Whereas The National Administration has been embarrassed and hampered in the conduct of the Foreign Affairs of the Nation

Therefore Be it resolved (if the Senate concur) by the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania that it is the sense of this body that the Senators and Representatives of Pennsylvania in the Congress of the United States should cordially and heartily support the National Administration in all efforts to protect the lives and property of Americans upon the high seas from submarine attacks as now made that President Wilson is to be commended for taking a firm stand against those barbarous methods of warfare which must necessarily cause the death of men women and children and that the manhood and resources of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania are hereby pledged to the National Government to the end that the safety of the citizens of the United States

The SPEAKER. The amendment will be read by the Clerk.

The Clerk read the amendment as follows:

Amend by striking out all of line 3, after the word "Nation" and all of lines 4, 5 and 6.

On the question

Will the House concur in the amendments made by the Senate?

Mr. WALTER. Mr. Speaker, this resolution endorses the President and reflects in some manner upon the Senators of the United States who refused to concur in the passage of the "Armed Ship Bill." As I understand the amendment, it strikes out all reference to the Senators who filibustered against this bill. At the request of the members of the House I consented to the elimination of the word "unpatriotic" and the House thereupon adopted the resolution without a division and only one member of the House, if I recollect, voted no. Now, Mr. Speaker, this resolution has created some interest and has been discussed in the public press. There ought not to be at this time any hesitation of the members in this House in taking a stand firmly behind the President. It was argued that those Senators who are relieved from reflection by the amendments adopted by the Senate were sincere. I grant you that. Every man is sincere, but sometimes his sincerity is against the public interest, and when that sincerity is carried to such an extent where physical force is used to prevent the adoption of a bill, as it was in this case, which had passed the lower by an enormous majority, only ten or twelve dissenting votes, there ought not to be any hesitation on the part of anybody to express his opinion in a crisis such as now confronts the nation in the conduct of its policies. Those who remained loyal to the Crown during the Revolution were sincere. They called themselves Loyalists, but to this day Americans call them Tories. Those who remained loyal to the South during the War of the Rebellion in 1861 were sincere, but they were called traitors and rebels. Now, Mr. Speaker, since this has been made an issue, this House ought to stand up and say whether or not it agrees with the handful of Senators who prevented the action of the President in arming the ships and protecting American lives. The action of those few Senators was heralded in the German papers as a great victory for pacifists and as an indication that this nation was divided, and that we did not care to protect our rights on the high seas. Under those circumstances I think that there ought to be some reflection and condemnation upon those Senators. The tendency of their action as the resolution says embarrassed and hampered the National administration in the conduct of the affairs of our foreign relations. And I trust the House will refuse to concur in the amendments.

I move you, Mr. Speaker, that the House refuse to concur in the amendments.

Mr. COX. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. BEYER. Mr. Speaker, I want to say to the House that I am rather surprised that the resolution was not adopted in the shape in which it stood when it left the House. I regret very much that it comes back to us in an amended form and if the members wish at this time not to concur in the amendments of the Senate, after voting upon it, I propose to move that a conference of three or five be appointed to meet with a committee of the Senate and see whether the resolution cannot be amended in a manner agreeable to both the House and the Senate. It seems to me that when a great State like Pennsylvania, that has contributed so largely in the nation's history, and has been looked upon at all times, at all critical moments, with the respect, I think it puts us in a bad light in the nation to be found quibbling in these trying times. I stated to you a few weeks ago that I was satisfied with everything in the resolution but the word "unpatriotic." That word was eliminated, and I cheerfully seconded every other proposition.

I do not approve of the course they took, and I do not do so now, but I believe that in the interest of the Commonwealth after we vote not to concur, a committee should be appointed to see if we cannot amend the resolution satisfactory to both chambers of this Legislature.

On the question recurring,

Will the House concur in the amendments made by the Senate?

They were not concurred in.

Ordered, That the Clerk notify the Senate that the House has non-concurred in the amendments made by Senate.

Mr. BEYER. If I am in order I would move you that a committee of three be appointed to concur with a similar committee of the Senate.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Philadelphia is not in order until the Senate has been notified upon our non-concurrence. They may recede or they may stand on the amendments.

SENATE MESSAGE.

AMENDED HOUSE BILL RETURNED FOR CONCURRENCE.

House Bill No. 267

An Act to amend sections one, two, three and four of an act approved the seventh day of June, Anno Domini one thousand nine hundred and fifteen, entitled "An Act to amend, revise and consolidate the law providing for the burial of certain honorably discharged soldiers, sailors and marines at the expense of the counties in which they shall die or have a legal residence at the time of their death; to provide a system for effecting the burial of such soldiers, sailors and marines; to provide headstones and markers for the graves of such soldiers, sailors and marines, and to authorize the county commissioners of the several counties to purchase plots of ground for the burial of such soldiers, sailors and marines."

with information that the Senate has passed the same with amendments in which the concurrence of the House of Representatives is requested.

The SPEAKER. The Clerk will read the amendments.

The Clerk then read the amendments as follows:

In the title strike out the following:

To amend sections one and three of an act approved the seventh day of June Anno Domini one thousand nine hundred and fifteen entitled "An Act to amend revise and consolidate the law providing for the burial of certain honorably discharged soldiers sailors and marines at the expense of the counties in which they shall die or have a legal residence at the time of their death to provide a system for effecting the burial of such soldiers sailors and marines to provide headstones and markers for the graves of such soldiers sailors and marines and to authorize the county commissioners of the several counties to purchase plots of ground for the burial of such soldiers sailors and marines" and insert in lieu thereof the following:

To amend sections one two three and four of an act approved the seventh day of June Anno Domini one thousand nine hundred and fifteen entitled "An Act to amend revise and consolidate the law providing for the burial of certain honorably discharged soldiers sailors and marines at the expense of the counties in which they shall die or have a legal residence at the time of their death to provide a system for effecting the burial of such soldiers sailors and marines to provide headstones and markers for the graves of such soldiers sailors and marines and to authorize the county commissioners of the several counties to purchase plots of ground for the burial of such soldiers sailors and marines

Beginning with line 4 in section 1, strike out all of sections 1, 2 and 3, and insert the following:

Section one of the act approved the seventh day of June Anno Domini one thousand nine hundred and fifteen (Pamphlet Laws eight hundred seventy) entitled "An Act to amend revise and consolidate the law providing for the burial of certain honorably discharged soldiers sailors and marines at the expense of the counties in which they shall die or have a legal residence at the time of their death to provide a system for effecting the burial of such soldiers sailors and marines to provide headstones and markers for the graves of such soldiers sailors and marines and to authorize the county commissioners of the several counties to purchase plots of ground for the burial of such soldiers sailors and marines" which reads as follows

"Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That it shall be the duty of the county commissioners of each county in this State to appoint a sufficient number of suitable persons in each city township borough and ward in their county other than those prescribed by law for the care of paupers and the custody of criminals whose duty it shall be upon application made to them to look after and cause to be buried in a decent and respectable manner in any cemetery or burial ground other than those used exclusively for the burial of the pauper dead at an expense to their county not exceeding fifty ($50.00) dollars the body of any honorably discharged soldier sailor or marine who served or who shall hereafter serve in the army or navy of the United States during any war in which the United States was or shall hereafter be engaged or who served or shall hereafter serve in the army or navy of the United States where a state or condition of war existed or shall hereafter exist in the United States or any foreign country or territory or upon the high seas or who was in active service in the militia of the State of Pennsylvania under and in pursuance of any proclamations issued by the Governor during the Civil War and not duly mustered into the service of the United States and who was honorably discharged or relieved from such service and shall hereafter die within their county and shall have had a legal residence within their county at the time of his death And the persons who shall be so appointed shall hold their offices at the pleasure of the county commissioners and shall serve without compensation" is hereby amended to read as follows

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That the county commissioners of each county in this State are hereby authorized and directed to expend the sum of seventy-five dollars ($75.00) toward the funeral expenses of any honorably discharged soldier sailor or marine who served or who shall hereafter serve in the army or navy of the United States during any war in which the United States was or shall hereafter be engaged or who served or shall hereafter serve in the army or navy of the United States where a state or condition of war existed or shall hereafter exist in the United States or any foreign country or territory or upon the high seas or who was in active service in the militia of the State of Pennsylvania under and in pursuance of any proclamation issued by the Governor during the Civil War and not duly mustered into the service of the United States and who was honorably discharged or relieved from such service and shall hereafter die within their county or shall die beyond their county and shall have had a legal residence within their county at the time of his death

RECONSIDERATION OF VOTE ON HOUSE BILL NO. 170.

Mr. LEWIS. Mr. Speaker, I move that the vote by which House Bill No. 170, File Folio 1029, entitled

An Act to repeal part of section one of an act approved the fifteenth day of July, one thousand eight hundred

being the first bill on page 5 of the calendar of March 22, 1917, and which was defeated on final passage, be reconsidered.

The SPEAKER. How did the gentleman vote?
Mr. LEWIS. Mr. Speaker, I voted "no".
Mr. EBY. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.
The SPEAKER. How did the gentleman vote?
Mr. EBY. Mr. Speaker, I voted "no".
On the question,
Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. DEAN. Mr. Speaker, a number of the members of the House were under the impression that this measure would reduce the revenues of the state, whereas it is a revenue measure and is estimated will bring between three hundred thousand dollars and four hundred thousand dollars into the state treasury. It is a just measure. It takes away from the bankers the privilege of paying ten mills on their capital stock and paying nothing at all on the surplus and undivided profits, and this bill is to put all banks on the same basis. We are passing measures here appropriating money and also those raising revenue. The state always needs revenue, and as I said, this bill will provide between three and four hundred thousand dollars, and I think the bill ought to be reconsidered and given some discussion. It was passed by the Ways and Means Committee without objection. We fixed the date for a hearing, but not a single banker in the state appeared to object to it. I have a number of letters and many of the members here have letters, of course, not from the ones that pay on the short rate, in favor of the bill. No doubt many of the members have been solicited to vote against the bill by bankers that pay on the short rate. It is a just bill in my opinion, and I think if the members of this body will investigate the matter they will support it.

Mr. WALLACE. Mr. Speaker, I hope that the members of this House will all carefully consider this bill. Your institutions under the present law—all banks have the option of either paying one per cent. flat rate on their capital stock at par or paying four mills on their capital stock, surplus and undivided profits.

Of all the matters of unfair taxation in Pennsylvania, I think that you must agree with me that this is the most inequitable. There are banks in this state whose capital stock is worth thirty-two hundred dollars a share. There is one in the western part of the state that is worth twelve hundred dollars a share. They pay only tax on the basis of one hundred dollars par value of a share. This matter has been passed upon by almost all the tax commissions that have been appointed by the different municipalities in the state for the investigation of that question and they have, so far as I know, unanimously reported that this bill should be enacted into law. We are here doing our best, at least we should be, to raise revenue for this state. Now, if we fail to make equal and fair the taxes on the banks of this Commonwealth, how can we then turn around and add additional taxes to secure interests and other property in this state. Banks that do a great business find it to their advantage to pay one per cent. flat on their stock while banks perhaps next door that have a small surplus and have a large capitalization will find it to their advantage to pay one per cent, and by so doing pay two and three times as much taxes as the big and wealthy bank next door. I wish to state to you, gentlemen, one example: I know of a national bank that has a capitalization of one hundred and fifty thousand dollars; they have surplus and undivided profits of almost two million dollars. They pay fifteen hundred a year to this state. Right next door there is another bank that is capitalized at three hundred thousand dollars and do perhaps one-fifth of the business and their surplus and undivided profits is about one-tenth as much as the other bank, but they pay three thousand dollars and that under the same option because it is to their advantage. It has been estimated by the Taxation Commission in the City of Pittsburgh, appointed by the Mayor for the purpose of investigating this question, that upon the repeal of this option and making taxes on banks equitable and fair and just to all banks, that the revenues of this state will be increased yearly in the amount of about four hundred thousand dollars. This is a large item and we should not overlook it. I want to say to the gentlemen of this House that if we refuse to equalize the taxation on national banks we not only do injustice to a large number of the banks in this state but we put ourselves on record, if you please, so that it will be at least very embarrassing for us to turn around and add taxes to other corporations and leave these banks off in the state by paying a very small portion of the taxes that they should pay. I don't believe there in a National bank in Pennsylvania that will come out in the open and oppose this bill. It is very natural that they should oppose it because it will add to their taxes, but the proposition of repealing this option is so fair and so just that I don't believe there is a bank in the State but what would be compelled to admit to you that the bill is fair and just and should be passed. Gentlemen, I ask you to vote to reconsider this bill.

On the question recurring,
Will the House agree to the motion?
It was agreed to.
On the question recurring,
Shall the bill pass finally?

BILL POSTPONED.

Mr. DEAN. Mr. Speaker, I move that this bill be postponed for the present.

Mr. WALLACE. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

BILL ON THIRD READING.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman's name will not be recorded.

BILL ON THIRD READING.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 696, entitled

An Act amending an act approved the twenty-fourth day of July, one thousand nine hundred and thirteen, entitled "An Act to amend section two of an act entitled 'An Act authorizing and requiring county commissioners of the several counties of this Commonwealth to have the county bridges of their respective counties painted, and the bolts of the same tightened as often as may be necessary,' approved the twenty-first day of April, Anno Domini one thousand nine hundred and three," so that said bridges may be painted and the bolts thereof tightened without advertising for bids, if done under the supervision of the county commissioners.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. McPEAKE. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent to offer an amendment at this time.

The SPEAKER. The amendment will be read by the Clerk for information.

The Clerk then read the amendment as follows:

Amend section 1, page 2, line 9, by striking out "as amended."

The SPEAKER. Will the House give unanimous consent to the insertion of the amendment at this time? Is there any objection? The Chair hears none, and the amendment will be inserted in accordance with the instructions of the House.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading as amended?

Mr. BOUTON. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the sponsor to explain the purpose of the bill and the amendment.

BILL POSTPONED.

Mr. McPEAKE. Mr. Speaker, I move that this bill be postponed for the present.

Mr. MILLIRON. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

BILLS ON THIRD READING.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 879, as follows:

An Act authorizing courts of quarter sessions to commit the care of certain burial grounds to townships, supervisors of townships and requiring townships to pay the expenses in connection therewith.

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That whenever any burial ground is being neglected so as to become a nuisance even though said burial ground may occasionally be used for burial purposes the court of quarter sessions of the county in which such burial ground is situated may direct that such burial ground be placed in care of the township supervisor of the township under the direction and supervision of said court

Section 2 That upon the petition of twenty-five or more citizens residing within a radius of five miles of any such burial ground to the court of quarter sessions the said court may order and direct the township supervisors of the township to cut down in the months of June and August of each year all brush grass briars and weeds growing in such burial ground and to remove the same and place such grounds in good order and condition

The cost thereof shall be paid out of the township treasury.

Section 3 Such burial grounds shall remain open to the public according to such regulations as may be made by the said court

And said bill having been read at length the third time, considered and agreed to,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Session 1917 — 122nd of the General Assembly

VOL. 4. HARRISBURG, PA., MONDAY, APRIL 2, 1917. No. 31.

SENATE.

MONDAY, April 2, 1917.

The Senate met at 9 o'clock P. M.

The PRESIDENT (Lieutenant-Governor Frank B. McClain) in the Chair.

The Chaplain, Rev. Thomas W. Davis, offered the following prayer:

Almighty God, having exhausted almost every form of diplomacy to sustain peaceful relations between this and other countries, we are now face to face with the most serious phases of that great problem, and we pray Thee that the fullest support may be given to our President and his advisers, and that the spirit of lethargy that is no doubt brought about by wealth and prosperity may be turned into a spirit of patriotism that shall thrill the entire United States of America, not only with the duty that is before it, but with the opportunity of assisting in this great world struggle. We ask these blessings in our Saviour's name. Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVED.

The PRESIDENT. A quorum of the Senate being present, the Clerk will read the Journal of the preceding session.

The Clerk proceeded to read the Journal of the preceding session, when, on motion of Mr. BURKE, the further reading was dispensed with, and the Journal was approved.

LEAVES OF ABSENCE.

Mr. P. W. SNYDER asked and obtained leave of absence for the Senator from Crawford, Mr. R. E. Smith.

Mr. McKEE asked and obtained leave of absence for the Senator from Armstrong, Mr. J. Frank Graff.

HOUSE MESSAGE.

The Clerk of the House of Representatives, being introduced, presented extracts from the Journal of the House of Representatives, which were laid upon the table.

PETITION PRAYING FOR THE PASSAGE OF SENATE BILL NO. 498.

Mr. JENKINS presented petition from the Philadelphia Board of Trade praying for the passage of Senate Bill No. 498.

Which was referred to the Committee on Appropriations.

COMMUNICATIONS FROM THE GOVERNOR.

The Chair cleared his table and laid before the Senate communications in writing from His Excellency the Governor of the Commonwealth, filed with the Chief Clerk during the interim, which were read as follows:

VETO OF SENATE BILL NO. 14.

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.
Executive Chamber, Harrisburg, March 30, 1917.

To the Honorable, the Senate of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

Gentlemen: I return herewith, without my approval, Senate Bill No. 14, entitled "An Act to amend part of clause (d) section seven of the act approved the fifth day of May one thousand nine hundred and eleven (Pamphlet Laws one hundred and ninety-eight) entitled 'An Act to establish a county court for the County of Allegheny and prescribing its powers and duties regulating the procedure therein and providing for the expenses thereof' as amended by providing that informations in cases of desertion and none support may be made before aldermen and justices of the peace and providing for the binding over of persons arrested on warrants issued on such informations.'"

This bill proposes to permit information or complaints in desertion and non-support cases in Allegheny County to be made before an alderman or justice of the peace as well as before the county court. The present law requires that all such cases in Allegheny County be heard before the court of record (Act of May, 1911, P. L. 198). Only the parties in interest appeared at a public hearing to support this bill. All business and civic organizations protested against its approval. The record of the court now in jurisdiction indicates that these cases are now economically and expeditiously treated and that amicable adjustments and restoration of family amity have resulted in more instances than under the old system in vogue before the Act of 1911. Since the fundamental purpose in such cases is to restore the family to a harmonious unit and since the present law does this more largely than the system this bill seeks to set up it is contrary to social progress and advancing sociological ideals to take a backward step.

For these reasons this bill is not approved.

MARTIN G. BRUMBAUGH.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass, the objections of the Governor to the contrary notwithstanding?

Mr. VARE. Mr. President, I move that the question, together with the further consideration of the bill, be postponed for the present.

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

VETO OF SENATE BILL NO. 12.

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.
Executive Chamber, Harrisburg, March 29, 1917.

To the Honorable, the Senate of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

Gentlemen: I return herewith, without my approval, Senate Bill No. 12, entitled "An Act to repeal an act approved the first day of June one thousand nine hundred and fifteen entitled 'An Act regulating the disposition of dockets of justices of the peace and aldermen and providing penalties.'"

In 1915 you enacted the law which this act is intended to repeal. The law provides that at the expiration of the term of office of any justice of the peace or alderman his docket if filled shall be filed with the protonotary of the courts; if not filled, the docket shall be transferred to his successor who in due time shall file it with the prothonotary. Such dockets are a public record, accessible to any citizen of the Commonwealth. The act was held to be of great importance inasmuch as it kept such dockets as official public records. Moreover, the fact that they are so preserved increases the care with which they are kept. Since these dockets contain matters of great value, especially to the poor people who are obliged to be in official contact with the minor judiciary, they ought to be preserved and made accessible. Many concrete cases have arisen under the operation of this law that prove its merits. All judicial records should be public record. All others are. These should remain so.

For these reasons this bill is not approved.

MARTIN G. BRUMBAUGH.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass, the objections of the Governor to the contrary notwithstanding?

Mr. VARE. Mr. President, I move that the question, together with the further consideration of the bill, be postponed for the present.

Mr. SPROUL. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

APPROVAL OF SENATE BILL NO. 191.

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.
Executive Chamber, Harrisburg, March 30, 1917.

To the Honorable, the Senate of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

Gentlemen: I have the honor to inform you that I have this day approved and signed Senate Bill No. 191, entitled "An Act to amend an act entitled an act authorizing companies incorporated under the laws of any other state of the United States for certain purposes to erect and maintain buildings and manufacturing establishments and to take have and hold real estate necessary and proper for such purposes approved the thirteenth day of May Anno Domini one thousand nine hundred and fifteen and to extend the same to companies formed for the purpose of manufacturing and selling coal tar and its products or roofing felt roofing materials and building papers or products and by products of coal and asphalt."

APPROVAL OF SENATE BILL NO. 82.

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.
Executive Chamber, Harrisburg, March 30, 1917.

To the Honorable, the Senate of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

Gentlemen: I have the honor to inform you that I have this day approved and signed Senate Bill No. 82, entitled "An Act to amend section three of an act entitled 'A further supplement to an act entitled "An Act to establish a county court for the County of Allegheny and prescribing its powers and duties regulating the procedure therein and providing for the expenses thereof" approved the fifth day of May one thousand nine hundred and eleven constituting the said court the juvenile court of said county and prescribing its organization jurisdiction and powers therein and otherwise' approved the nineteenth day of March Anno Domini one thousand nine hundred and fifteen."

APPROVAL OF SENATE BILL NO. 74.

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.
Executive Chamber, Harrisburg, March 30, 1917.

To the Honorable, the Senate of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

Gentlemen: I have the honor to inform you that I have this day approved and signed Senate Bill No. 74, entitled "An Act defining optometry and relating to the right to practice optometry in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania and making certain exceptions and providing a Board of Optometrical Education Examination and Licensure and means and methods whereby the right to practice optometry may be obtained and providing for the means to carry out the provisions of this act and providing for revocation or suspension of licenses given by said board and providing penalties for violations thereof and repealing all acts or parts of acts inconsistent therewith."

In approving this bill I am not unmindful of the fact that on May 1, 1915, I withheld my approval of a bill that proposed to regulate the practice of optometry in Pennsylvania. I am still of the opinion therein set forth, but this bill now before me for action has been so drawn as to remove some of the cardinal objections to the bill. In twenty-eight states the practice of optometry is now regulated by a similar law. The uniform testimony is that the law operates beneficially. The controlling motive in the present approval of this act is my desire to drive the fakirs and scoundrels who now prey upon an unsuspecting people from the Commonwealth.

I express the hope that in the next session of the Assembly the qualifications for admission to the study of optometry may be placed upon a higher educational basis and that the courses of study leading to a license may be made dignified, thorough and adequate to the power given by the Assembly to these optometrists.

MARTIN G. BRUMBAUGH.

REPORT OF THE ECONOMY AND EFFICIENCY COMMISSION OF THE COMMONWEALTH OF PENNSYLVANIA PURSUANT TO CONCURRENT RESOLUTION.

He also laid before the Senate report of the Economy and Efficiency Commission of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, which was read as follows:

The Economy and Efficiency Commission of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.
Harrisburg, April 2, 1917.

To the Honorable, the Senate and the House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

Gentlemen: In compliance with a concurrent resolution adopted by your Honorable bodies January 29, 1917, which reads as follows:

"Whereas, The General Appropriation Bill enacted by the General Assembly of 1915 provided money in accordance with Section fifteen of Article three of the Constitution of Pennsylvania, for the ordinary expenses of the Executive, Legislative and Judicial Departments of the Commonwealth; and

"Whereas, The appropriation period covered by the General Appropriation Bill of 1915 will expire May 31, 1917;

"Therefore, Be it resolved (if the House of Representatives concur) the Economy and Efficiency Commission of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania be and is hereby directed to furnish not later than March 1, 1917, the following information:

"First: Items appropriated to the Departments, Commissions and Boards of the Executive Branch of the Government for the two years beginning June 1, 1915, and ending May 31, 1917.

"Second: The amount expended from each appropriation between June 1, 1915, and December 31, 1916.

"Third: The estimated needs of each department, commission and Board of the Executive Branch of the Government for the two years beginning June 1, 1915, and ending May 31, 1917."

I beg to hand you herewith the statistical data compiled by this Commission in pursuance of the mandate of your resolution.

This information in full was ready for submission to your Honorable bodies at the time indicated. You were not then in session. Meanwhile arrangements were made to have meetings of the Economy and Efficiency Commission, and the respective Chairman of the Appropriation Committees of the Senate and House with the heads of the several Executive and other State Departments. These meetings began on March 14, 1917, upon the return of the Appropriation Committees from a tour of the institutions throughout the State seeking appropriation. The Commission therefore, did submit this information in this manner to your responsible Chairman, and have steadily since with them sat in conference to hear the reasons for departmental appropriations and to secure such reductions as a sound economy and a due efficiency could support, based upon the revenues of the Commonwealth.

We have also prepared and will at an early date submit a report suggesting such modifications in the organization of the several departments as will promote greater economy and efficiency or both.

Your Commission has sought by careful investigation to assist you in your work and this is to lessen the laborious task of ascertaining the necessary data to guide you in making appropriations to those departments.

Our general report has been postponed by reason of the fact that we have not as yet received any information from you of the amount of additional revenue you intend to provide for the next two fiscal years, as a result of taxing measures proposed by the Revenue Commission created for that purpose by your honorable bodies.

Information of the approximate amount of such expected additional revenue would manifestly have a material bearing upon the amounts which could be profitably expended by such of our departments as have to do vitally with the welfare of our people and the conservation and promotion of wise industrial activities in our State, and such information is essential to any suggestions which this Commission may have to submit.

When this information is given us your Commission will at once make further report to your honorable bodies or to your Appropriation Committees, as you may direct, of the sums which in our judgment will secure an economic and efficient performance of administrative duties.

All of which is respectfully submitted by

Yours very truly,

MARTIN G. BRUMBAUGH, Chairman.

Mr. SPROUL. Mr. President, I move that five hundred copies of the report just read be printed for the use of the Senate and when printed it be referred to the joint committee considering questions of revenue, and that the report also be printed in the Appendix of the Legislative Journal.

Mr. VARE. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

(For report see Appendix.)

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That the head of the Department of Public Safety in each city of the first and second class shall from and after the first day of January one thousand nine hundred and eighteen divide the officers and members of companies of the uniformed fire force in the employ of such cities excepting the chief engineer and assistant chiefs into two bodies or platoons one to perform day service and the other to perform night service The hours of day service shall not exceed ten commencing at eight o'clock in the morning the hours of night service shall not exceed fourteen commencing six o'clock in the afternoon In cases of riot serious conflagration or other such emergency the chief engineer of the bureau of fire or the assistant chief deputy or chief officer in charge at any fire shall have the power to assign all the members of the fire force to continuous duty or to continue any member thereof on duty if necessary No member of either of said platoons shall be required to perform continuous day service or continuous night service for a longer consecutive period than two weeks nor be kept on duty continuously longer than ten hours in the day platoon or fourteen hours in the night platoon excepting as may be necessary to equalize the hours of duty and service and also excepting in cases of riot serious conflagration or other such emergency as above provided

And the amendments made thereto having been printed as required by the Constitltion,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. VARE. Mr. President, for the information of the Senate, I would just like to explain what this bill means to the Philadelphia firemen. At present these men work twenty-four hours a day, with the exception of meal hours, and only one day off in six. If this bill passes, they will just work the same number of hours that other men work, and be home with their families, either night or day, which is the proper privilege workmen should have. In other words, all the time they have with their families now in six days is just while they are taking their meals, they are limited as to the time they leave the fire engine house and must be back within one hour, and in some cases less than an hour, depending upon the distance they have to go to their homes. It seems to me this is a good bill, and now since it has been amended by the Senate, will not go into effect until the first of January, 1918, giving the council of Philadelphia the necessary time to raise the money to put this act into effect. I hope the Senate will pass the bill.

And the question recurring.

Shall the bill pass finally?

REPORT FROM COMMITTEE.

Mr. C. A. SNYDER. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to make report from committee at this time.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

Mr. C. A. SNYDER, from the Committee on Judiciary Special, reported as committed Senate Bill No. 750, entitled

An Act relating to motion-picture films, reels or stereopticon views or slides; providing a system of examination, approval and regulation thereof, and of the banners, pasters, and other like advertising matter used in connection therewith; creating in the Auditor General's Department a Commissioner of Amusements; and providing penalties for the violations of this act.

Agreeably to order,

The Senate resumed the consideration of Senate Bill No. 548 (House Bill No. 248), as follows:

An Act to amend section thirty-five of an act, entitled "An Act relating to and regulating partnerships," approved the twenty-sixth day of March, Anno Domini one thousand nine hundred and fifteen

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That section thirty-five of the act approved the twenty-sixth day of March one thousand nine hundred and fifteen entitled "An Act relating to and regulating partnerships" which reads as follows

"Section 35 (1) If the partnership is not dissolved because it has become unlawful to carry on the business a partner cannot after dissolution bind the partnership to third persons by any act which is not necessary to wind up the partnership affairs or to complete transactions then unfinished unless

(a) Such third person having had relations with the partnership by which a credit was extended upon the faith of the partnership has had no knowledge or notice of the dissolution or

(b) Such third person not having had business relations with the partnership by which a credit was extended to the partnership has no knowledge or notice of the dissolution and the fact of dissolution has not been advertised in a newspaper of general circulation of the place (or of each place if more than one) at which the partnership business was regularly carried on and in the legal periodical if any designated by rule of court in such place or places for the publication of legal notices

(2) The partnership is in no case bound by the acts of a partner who has become bankrupt but this provision does not affect the liability of any person who as declared by section sixteen after bankruptcy has represented himself or consented to another's representing him to be a partner of the bankrupt" be and the same is hereby to read as follows

Section 35 Power of partner to bind partnership to third person after dissolution) (1) After dissolution a partner can bind the partnership except as provided in paragraph (3)

(a) By any act appropriate for winding up partnership affairs or completing transactions unfinished at dissolution

(b) By any transaction which would bind the partnership if dissolution had not taken place provided the other party to the transaction

(I) Had extended credit to the partnership prior to dissolution and had no knowledge or notice of the dissolution or

(II) Though he had not so extended credit had nevertheless known of the partnership prior to dissolution and having no knowledge or notice of dissolution and the fact of dissolution had not been advertised in a newspaper of general circulation in the place (or in each place if more than one) at which the partnership business was regularly carried on in the legal periodical if any designated by rule of court in such place or places for the publication of legal notices

(2) The liability of a partner under paragraph (Ib) shall be satisfied out of partnership assets alone when such partner had been prior to dissolution

(a) Unknown as a partner to the person with whom the contract is made and

(b) So far unknown and inactive in partnership affairs that the business reputation of the partnership could not be said to have been in any degree due to his connection with it

(3) The partnership is in no case bound by any act of a partner after dissolution

(a) Where the partnership is dissolved because it is unlawful to carry on the business unless the act is appropriate for winding up partnership affairs or

(b) Where the partner has become bankrupt or

(c) Where the partner has no authority to wind up partnership affairs except by a transaction with one who

(I) Had extended credit to the partnership prior to dissolution and had no knowledge or notice of his want of authority or

(II) Had not extended credit to the partnership prior to dissolution and having no knowledge or notice of his want of authority and the fact of his want of authority has not been advertised in the manner provided for advertising the fact of dissolution in paragraph (1b II)

(4) Nothing in this section shall affect the liability under section sixteen of any person who after dissolution represents himself or consents to another representing him as a partner in a partnership engaged in carrying on business

MOTION TO RECOMMIT SENATE BILL NO. 620.

Mr. WASBERS. Mr. President, I move that Senate Bill No. 620, the bill just read, be recommitted to the Committee on Game and Fisheries for the purpose of a hearing.

Mr. TOMPKINS. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. STEWART. Mr. President and members of the Senate, I object to this bill being recommitted. It is a plain, simple bill. It is an agricultural bill from beginning to end. It has reference to a little bird that is one of the greatest assets of the farmer in the bird line. The object of the bill is to place him out of the range of a double-barreled shot gun. It is so plain and so clear that it needs no hearing. Anybody can read and can understand it and you well know that we cannot have our farmers come in here and testify to their desires for the passage of this bill. If these people who want a hearing will go out among the farmers they will get a hearing in very short order, and I hope my fellow Senators will not consent to any such dilatory tactics as these.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

It was not agreed to.

The SPEAKER (Richard J. Baldwin) in the Chair.

PRAYER.

The Rev. J. Bradley Markward, of Harrisburg, offered the following prayer:

O God, our Heavenly Father, help us to realize how dependent we are, that in Thee we live and move and have our being; that every good and perfect gift cometh from Thee. Grant unto us the conviction that the finest inspirations for our best thoughts, our worthiest plans, and our most affective achievements emanate from Thee. Believing this, grant that we may seek Thy wisdom and Thy guidance with respect to the duties to be done and the problems to be solved. Bless abundantly this legislative body and lift it up into the sweep of Thy divine purpose, that these men may always be found going in the direction of God. Grant that every law brought into existence here may have as its mother the eternal righteousness of God. We pray Thee, our Heavenly Father, that all these tasks of time may be wrought in the light of eternity and in the consciousness of the abiding presence of the Almighty. Bless our Commonwealth, and grant that it may be built strong and secure in the everlasting principals of truth, and of justice, and of brotherhood. We pray not only for our State, but for our country, in this momentous hour. We ask Thee that Thou will give wisdom, and guidance, and help unto the President of the United States, and unto the law making bodies. Save us from the storm of envy, and grant that if we must go to war we shall go for the right, and for the truth and for the good, that civilization with all of its best interests may be served and that the kingdom of God may be set up in the earth speedily for Thy names sake. Amen.

An Act to amend the first section of an act entitled "An Act to amend the second section of an act entitled 'An Act relative to the sale and conveyance of real estate' approved the eighteenth day of April one thousand eight hundred and fifty-three extending the provisions thereof to real estate upon which are limited vested remainders which are liable to open and let in after born children and validating sales of real estate heretofore made by proceedings under said act of lands and tenements subject to such remainders" approved the fourteenth day of June one thousand eight hundred and ninety-seven (Pamphlet Laws page one hundred and forty-four) extending the provisions thereof to real estate held by one or more persons for life and validating sales of real estate heretofore made by proceedings under said act of one thousand eight hundred and fifty-three and its amendment of one thousand eight hundred and ninety-seven of lands and tenements held by one or more persons for life

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That section one of an act entitled "An Act to amend the second section of an act entitled 'An Act relative to the sale and conveyance of real estate' approved the eighteenth day of April one thousand eight hundred and fifty-three extending the provisions thereof to real estate upon which are limited vested remainders which are liable to open and let in after born children and validating sales of real estate heretofore made by proceedings under said act of lands and tenements subject to such remainders" approved the fourteenth day of June one thousand eight hundred and ninety-seven (Pamphlet Laws page one hundred and forty-four) which reads as follows

"Such sale mortgaging leasing or conveyance upon ground-rent may be decreed whenever real estate shall be held for or owned by minors lunatics or habitual drunkards so duly found by inquisition for the sole and separate use of married women for religious beneficial or charitable societies or associations incorporated or unincorporated or for or by any other corporation or by trustees for any public or private use or trust and although there may exist a power of sale but the time may not have arrived for its exercise or any preliminary act may not have been done to bring it into exercise or the time limited for its exercise may have expired or any one or more persons required to consent or to join in its execution may have become non compos mentis or have removed out of the State or died or should refuse to act or unreasonably withhold consent also when there has been or shall be a defective appointment in any deed or last will and testament and the necessary power is not given to the executor devisee or appointee to make sale and conveyance of real estate Also whenever the owner of real estate may have been absent and unheard from for seven years under those circumstances from which the law would presume his or her death Whenever a husband shall own real estate having a wife who is a lunatic or a minor whenever a married woman owns real estate and her husband has abandoned her for two years or been absent and unheard from for seven years Whenever a decedent shall have contracted by parol to sell real estate and those interested do not think it expedient to plead the statute requiring contracts to be in writing to enable the purchaser to recover the real estate agreed to be sold Whenever a decedent's real estate is subject to the lien of debts not of record Whenever real estate shall be entailed or contingent remainders or executory devices or vested remainders which are liable to open and let in after born children shall be limited thereon Or whenever in proceedings in partition in equity it shall appear that real estate cannot be divided without prejudice to the interests of the owners And also whenever real estate shall have been purchased or any ground-rent been reserved and be held by any person acting in a trust or fiduciary capacity And such decree may be made whether such ownership or interest shall be held or enjoyed in severalty joint-tenancy coparcenary or in common with others And generally in all cases where estates have been or shall be devised or granted in trust or for special or limited purposes or where any party interested therein is under a legal disability to sell and convey the same Provided That nothing in this act contained shall be taken to repeal or impair the authority of any Act of Assembly general or private authorizing the sale of real estate by decree of court or otherwise nor to affect or impair any right or powers otherwise existing in any person or corporation to sell mortgage lease or let on ground-rent any real estate created by deed or will shall be taken to confer an authority to sell and convey reserving a ground-rent or rents in fee and the same to release and extinguish according to law and the stipulation of the deed and also to grant and convey such ground-rent or rents to any purchaser or purchasers thereof free of all trusts" be and the same is hereby amended to read as follows

Such sale mortgaging leasing or conveyance upon ground-rent may be decreed whenever real estate shall be held for or owned by minors lunatics or habitual drunkards so duly found by inquisition for the sole and separate use of married women for religious beneficial or charitable societies or associations incorporated or unincorporated or for or by any other corporation or by trustees for any public or private use or trust and although there may exist a power of sale but the time may not have arrived for its exercise or any preliminary act may not have been done to bring it into exercise or the time limited for its exercise may have expired or any one or more persons required to consent or to join in its execution may have become non compos mentis or have removed out of the State or died or should refuse to act or unreasonably withhold consent also when there has been or shall be a defective appointment in any deed or last will and testament and the necessary power is not given to the executor devisee or appointee to make sale and conveyance of real estate Also whenever the owner of real estate may have been absent and unheard from for seven years under those circumstances from which the law would presume his or her death Whenever a husband shall own real estate having a wife who is a lunatic or a minor whenever a married woman owns real estate and her husband has abandoned her for two years or been absent and unheard from for seven years Whenever a decedent shall have contracted by parol to sell real estate and those interested do not think it expedient to plead the statute requiring contracts to be in writing to enable the purchaser to recover the real estate agreed to be sold Whenever a decedent's real estate is subject to the lien of debts not of record Whenever real estate shall be entailed or contingent remainders or executory devises or vested remainders which are liable to open and let in after born children shall be limited thereon Whenever real estate shall be held by one or more persons for life Or whenever in proceedings in partition in equity it shall appear that real estate cannot be divided without prejudice to the interests of the owners And also whenever real estate shall have been purchased or any ground-rent been reserved and be held by any person acting in a trust or fiduciary capacity And such decree may be made whether such ownership or interest shall be held or enjoyed in severalty joint-tenancy coparcenary or in common with others And generally in all cases where estates have been or shall be devised or granted in trust or for special or limited purposes or where any party interested therein is under a legal disability to sell and convey the same Provided That nothing in this act contained shall be taken to repeal or impair the authority of any act of Assembly general or private authorizing the sale of real estate by decree of court or otherwise nor to affect or impair any right or powers otherwise existing in any person or corporation to sell mortgage lease or let on ground-rent any real estate created by deed or will shall be taken to confer an authority to sell and convey reserving a ground-rent or rents in fee and the same to release and extinguish according to law and the stipulation of the deed and also to grant and convey such ground-rent or rents to any purchaser or purchasers thereof free of all trusts

Section 2 All sales of lands and tenements held by one or more persons for life heretofore made by order of any court and purporting to have been made under and by virtur of said act of one thousand eight hundred and fifty-three and its amendment of one thousand eight hundred and ninety-seven are hereby ratified and confirmed

Section 3 This act shall apply to all life estates created and existing before and after its passage and approval

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. JAMES O. CAMPBELL. Mr. Speaker, this bill is an amendment of the Act of Assembly passed in 1853 known as the "Price Act," and it proposes to include within the provisions of the Price Act life estates. The Price Act was passed for the purpose of unfettering estates and it provides that the court take jurisdiction and decree sales in certain cases, cases in which there was a trust estate involved or cases in which a religious corporation held the title or cases in which there was a contingent remainder or an executory devise and an estate tail and also cases in which the holders were under some disability; in other words, they were a class of cases in which the holders of the real estate were unable to make title without the concurrence or order of the court.

This act provides that in the case of a life estate where the remainder goes over to some person in being that the court would take jurisdiction and decree a sale. I have two objections to the bill: In the first place, I consider the bill as not constitutional; and in the second place, I object to the bill because I do not believe that the court should decree sale of real estate held by two people who are under no disability and are not willing to sell that estate. As to the first objection, the constitutional objection, it is probably not wise to insist upon that question before this House as it is somewhat complicated and I do not care to have the House rely upon my opinion but I would like to quote a statement of Roland R. Foulke, Esq., of the Philadelphia bar, who has recently published a very good treatise on the Price Act. Mr. Foulke says in section 12, page 16, "The Act therefore, does not, and could not constitutionally, except perhaps in the case of remainders after an estate tail, compel the sale, etc., of an vested interest owned by persons suit jurist or authorize the divesting of such an interest against the consent of the owner."

I would also read a statement from the opinion of Justice Sharswood in Palairet's Appeal, 67 Pa. 479. He says: "It is urged that after all it is only the exercise by the Legislature of the power to authorize the conversion of land into money;"—"But this power to authorize conversion has never been recognized as constitutional by this court except in the case of the property of persons under disabilities, or where ther were contingent interests whose owners had not come into existence;"—"The cases in which such conversion may be authorized seem well enumerated in Mr. Price's valuable act of 1853. But it has been expressly repudiated and denied in the case of owners sui jurist, not consenting nor presumed from acquiescence to have consented." That opinion is referred to favorably in two cases, the first is in Van Dusen's Estate 1 D. R. 156, in the opinion of Judge Penrose in which the question arose as to the authority of the court to direct the sale of a life estate with the remainder over to a person sui jurist with no contingency. It is also referred to approvingly in the case that arose under later consideration in Kerner's Estate, 13 D. R. 311, in the opinion of Judge Ashman.

Now, Mr. Speaker, the practical import of this bill would arise under circumstances as follows:

"A" being possessed of real estate, devises or conveys the same to "B" for life, with remainder over to "C." "B" may be his wife, his daughter or some other person who is dependent upon him for support and whose support he wishes to provide for; "C" being some person to whom he wishes to devise the corpus of the estate. This amendment would provide that the life tenant "B," or the remainderman, "C," may go into court, petition the court for authority to sell, and the court granting such authority, the property may be sold and the interests of the life tenant as well as the interests of the remainderman transferred to the fund; in other words, "B," having a life estate, may be deprived of the benefit of that life estate although "B" objects to having it conveyed or having her interests transformed to the fund; or, on the other hand, "C," being entitled to the remainder, may have that remainder divested even though "C" objects to such divestiture.

I believe that where a sum holding real estate desiring to provide for some of those who are dependent upon him does so by granting such person life estate with the remainder over to a person who is not under disability, and there is no contingency with the remainder over to one under no disability and without a contingency that there should be no authority given the court to decree a sale of the same against the wish of either the life tenant or the remainderman. I had understood under the new code the decendent's estate would include some such division. That is on the desk this evening. I have examined it for the purpose of seeing if such statement is correct. I cannot find it (indicating) on page 341 of this yellow book. This is a report bounded and codifying and revising the law of decedent's estates but I find no section of the classes of cases in which the court would take jurisdiction under the proposed change of the Price Act, and I cannot find any proposition to give the court jurisdiction to sell the life estate of parties who are under no disability and who do not care to sell their interests.

MR. WHITAKER IN THE CHAIR.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

BILL POSTPONED

Mr. GEORGE J. A. MILLER. Mr. Speaker, I move that this bill be placed on the postponed calendar.

Mr. SONES. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

Mr. McVICAR. Mr. Speaker, I desire to call up House Bill No. 451, on page 11 of to-day's calendar, bills on third reading postponed.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 451, entitled

An Act exempting free from the claims of all creditors the proceeds of certain life insurance and annuity contracts bona fide taken out by any person not exceeding one hundred dollars per month.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. WOBENSMITH. Mr. Speaker ,I would like the sponsor of this bill to explain its purpose.

Mr. McVICAR. Mr. Speaker, this bill exempts from the claim of creditors annuities and insurance taken out on the life of the insured in a sum not exceeding one hundred dollars per month, providing that the person is solvent at the time the annuity is made. Under the law in many of the states life insurance and annuities are exempt from the claims of creditors. In the State of Pennsylvania life insurance and annuities in favor of the wife and children or other relatives dependent on the assured are now exempt. The purpose of this bill is to extend that provision to this extent: that where a person takes out an annuity on his life in the sum not exceeding one hundred dollars per month and is solvent when he takes it out that it will be exempt from the claims of creditors. Those who favor this bill believe that it will promote industry and thrift by giving a person opportunity to provide while young a fund for home or homes when old.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

House Bill No. 1291.

An Act making an appropriation of two million dollars to the Governor to be used by him in his discretion for the purpose of and preparation for the defense of the Commonwealth and the safety of the people and their property and to aid the Government of the United States in protecting and defending said Government and its people and their property.

Referred to the Committee on Appropriations.

REPORT FROM COMMITTEE.

Mr. WOODWARD asked and obtained unanimous consent to report the following bill:

Mr. WOODWARD, from the Committee on Appropriations, reported as committed House Bill No. 1291, entitled

An Act making an appropriation of two million dollars to the Governor to be used by him in his discretion for the purpose of and preparation for the defense of the Commonwealth and the safety of its people and their property and to aid the Government of the United States in protecting and defending said Government and its people and their property.

BILL ON FIRST READING.

Mr. WOODWARD asked and obtained unanimous consent to have the following bill read the first time:

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the first reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1291, entitled

An Act making an appropriation of two million dollars to the Governor to be used by him in his discretion for the purpose of and preparation for the defense of the Commonwealth and the safety of its people and their property and to aid the Government of the United States in protecting and defending said Government and its people and their property.

And said bill having been read at length the first time,

Ordered, To be laid aside for second reading.

BILLS ON THIRD READING.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the consideration on third reading of House Bill No. 376, as follows

An Act to amend section three hundred three of an act approved the eighteenth day of May one thousand nine hundred eleven entitled "An Act to establish a public school system in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania together with the provisions by which it shall be administered and prescribing penalties for the violation thereof providing revenue to establish and maintain the same and the method of collecting such revenue and repealing all laws general special or local or any parts thereof that are or may be inconsistent therewith"

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That section three hundred three of an act approved the eighteenth day of May one thousand nine hundred eleven entitled "An Act to establish a public school system in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania together with the provisions by which it shall be administered and prescribing penalties for the violation thereof providing revenue to establish and maintain the same and the method of collecting such revenue and repealing all laws general special or local or any parts thereof that are or may be inconsistent therewith" which reads as follows

Section 303 A permanent organization shall then be effected for the ensuing year as follows

In all school districts of the first class the school directors shall elect a president and a vice-president from their members and a secretary who is not a member They shall elect the treasurer of the city constituting such school district of the first class as the school treasurer for such school district for the ensuing fiscal year In each school district of the second and third class the school directors shall elect from their members a president and a vice-president and shall annually on the first Monday of July elect a treasurer each to serve for one year and shall on the first Monday of July one thousand nine hundred and seventeen and every four years thereafter elect a secretary for a term of four years Vacancies in the office of secretary shall be filled for the unexpired term In each school district of the fourth class the school directors shall elect from their members a president and a vice-president and shall annually on the first Monday of July elect a treasurer each of whom shall serve for a term of one year they shall also on the first Monday of July one thousand nine hundred and seventeen elect a secretary for any term not exceeding four years and shall elect successors to such secretary at the expiration of the term of such secretary for terms not exceeding four years Vacancies in the office of such secretary shall be filled for the unexpired term In school districts of the second class the secretary and treasurer shall not be members of the board In districts of the third and fourth class they may be members of the board The same person shall not be secretary and treasurer of any board of school directors

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. BIDELSPACHER. Mr. Speaker, I desire to ask the sponsor to especially explain the provision requiring certain school districts to elect secretaries for four years.

Mr. MILLIRON. Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the House, this bill was drawn subsequent to the adoption of a resolution by the Secretaries Association of this State, and approved by the Department of Public Instruction and the State Board of Education. The bill provides that in school districts of the second and third classes, secretaries shall be elected for a term of four years. The argument in favor of the measure is this: That in these larger school districts the secretary has become the financial head of the public school system. The members of school boards as a general thing, in these larger districts of the second and third classes are men who are busy with the affairs of life and are not able to give the attention to the financial end of the school administration that it should receive. It is a foregone conclusion that as a usual thing the superintendent is not a financier, his business is purely to look after the educational matters pertaining to the school. Now the object of the measure is to allow the secretaries some assurance that they will be continued in office for a certain period of time, for four years, so that they can go ahead and plan the financial affairs of the school district without any idea, or any danger, of their being interrupted at the end of one or two years.

Mr. MERVINE. Mr. Speaker, I think this bill is a good one, but it ought to be amended to read "fourth class school districts" also.

Mr. HORNE. Mr. Speaker, I believe that this bill is very valuable; I believe it has merit in it. The average secretary has a great deal of clerical work and where he handles all the business of the board, it is very necessary that he be a capable man. You cannot expect a man to stay in the office for one year and transact the business of that office with any degree of efficiency. If he stays there for a period of four years, it is a rather sure thing that he will be chosen from among those who are well fitted for that work. I think that every man in this House ought to support the Educational Department of this State in voting for this bill.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, that the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Hause Bill No. 46, as follows

An Act requiring employers to permit all employes to have a leave of absence of two hours on election day without and deduction in wages

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That any person entitled to vote at a general election held within this State shall on the day of such election he entitled to absent himself from any service or employment in which he is then engaged or employed for a period of two hours while the polls of such election are open If such voter shall notify his employer before the day of such election of such intended absence and if thereupon two successive hours for such absence shall be designated by the employed such absence shall be during such designated hours or if the employer upon the day of such notice makes no designation such absence shall be during any two consecutive hours while such polls are open no deduction shall be made from the usual salary or wages of such voter and no other penalty shall be imposed upon him by his employer by reason of such absence This section shall be deemed to include all employes of municipalities

Section 2 A person or corporation who refuses to an employe entitled to vote at an election the privilege of attending thereat as provided by the election law or subjects such employe to a penalty or reduction of wages because of the exercise of such privilege is guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction shall be sentenced to pay a fine of fifty dollars

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. RINN. Mr. Speaker and Gentlemen, I desire to make a final appeal in behalf of this measure, which has incorporated in it the greatest of maxims. It is a maxim that has travelled down to us from the ages—a proverb that was set before mankind, by the sages named in the Old Testament.

The Golden Rule—Do unto others as you would be done by—breathes the same message, conveys the same admonition to God's creatures today as it did in the days of old.

Mr. Speaker and Gentlemen, I think on a previous occasion I demonstrated the fact that if this bill is enacted into a law it will help strengthen the bond of friendship between employer and employee.

It is needless for me to further discuss that feature of the bill. However, there is another side to the question—another argument in favor of the bill which you may have overlooked. This nation is confronted by a crisis, even greater than that which confronted us in Eighteen Hundred and Sixty-one. The nation is preparing to go to war not to a mere war of conquest, not a war to extend our possessions, not a war of greed and avarice, but a war for world democracy; a war for human freedom, and human progress.

Who will have to bear the brunt of that wor? Who will have to bear the greater part of the burden of taxation which will be the logical result of that war—I mean in the comparative ability to pay that taxation? Who will have to break more sacred home ties—and practically leave their loved ones to the charity of the various communities?

I'll tell you who will have to do this—the men from the mills, the factories, the farms, will have to be the greater burden bearers, as they always have been in the past, and always will be in the future, until war shall be no more. And may I, merciful God in Heaven, hasten that happy day!!!

Gentlemen, it will be the laboring men of Pennsylvania who will form the greatest majority of the grand old Commonwealth's quota of Army and Navy in the coming conflict. President Wilson has called upon labor throughout the nation to the support of the flag. And the men in every field of industry the men who are the bone and sinew of the nation.

Reply:—

"We are coming, Woodrow Wilson. Fifty hundred thousand strong." Just as their fathers replied to Abraham Lincoln in eighteen hundred and sixty-one."

Gentlemen, to-day the blood of labor bubbles with joyous sense of exultation and patriotism. At the thought of the flag that has never known defeat. The flag that ere this has swept the seas and which again is destined to sweep the seas to carry the precious message of liberty, civilization, justice and democracy to foreign land where the poor and lowly are still being ground beneath the iron heel of despotism and tyranny. Labor will follow that grand old flag. Ever looking up to it for inspiration and turning to it for support and comfort as "The people of God turned in the darkness of night to the Pillar of Tire, which was conducting them through the perils of the Wilderness."

Gentlemen, labor is willing to do this for you and for me. Why then, should you deny labor this small concession for which it asks in this bill?

Can you vote against this measure at a time when labor is preparing to make the greatest, the noblest sacrifice mortal man can make?

When the laboring man is willing to break home ties, when he is willing to give up remunerative employment, can you, I ask oppose this measure. And with clear conscience face your home people with the knowledge on your mind? That you have refused labor a mere trifle and yet expect it to give you so much?

Is any gentleman willing to say openly that the laboring man is good enough to fight the nations battles but not good enough to vote unles he profits some of his weekly wage for the opportunity to exercise his right of franchise?

Are you not inspired, gentlemen, by the right of that glorious flag whose honor the laboring men of this Commonwealth will defend.

Does not that noble flag bid you to be just with the men who will defend it even unto death?

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

BILL RECOMMITTED.

Mr. HEYBURN. Mr. Speaker, as the opponents of this bill are desirous of having a hearing on it, I move you that it be re-committed to the Committee on Judiciary Local for that purpose.

Mr. REITZEL. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

BILLS ON THIRD READING.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 900, as follows:

An Act amending section nineteen of an act entitled "An Act relative to the supervision and control of hospitals or houses in which the insane are placed for treatment or detention" approved the eighth day of May one thousand eight hundred eighty-three so as to permit certificates of physicians as to the insanity of patients to be sworn to or affirmed before a judge or magistrate of any county in the Commonwealth

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That section nineteen of an act entitled "An Act relative to the supervision and control of hospitals or houses in which insane are placed for treatment or detention" approved the eighth day of May one thousand eight hundred eighty-three which reads as follows

"Section 19 The certificate above provided for shall have been made within one week of the examination of the patient and within two weeks of the time of the admission of the patient and shall be duly sworn to or affirmed before a judge or magistrate of this Commonwealth and of the county where such person has been examined who shall certify to the genuineness of the signatures and to the standing and good repute of the signers Any person falsely certifying as aforesaid shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and also liable civilly to the party aggrieved" be and the same is hereby amended so as to read as follows

Section 19 The certificate above provided for shall have been made within one week of the examination of the patient and within two weeks of the time of the admission of the patient and who shall be duly sworn to or affirmed before a judge or magistrate of this Commonwealth who shall certify to the genuineness of the signatures and to the standing and good repute of the signers Any person falsely certifying as aforesaid shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and also liable civilly to the party aggrieved

HARRISBURG.

Commissioners
MARTIN G. BRUMBAUGH,
Governor.
A. W. POWELL,
Auditor General.
FRANCIS SHUNK BROWN,
Attorney General.
HARRY S. McDEVITT,
Solicitor.

April 2, 1917.

To the Honorable, the Senate and the House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

Gentlemen: In compliance with Concurrent Resolution adopted by your Honorable Bodies January 29, 1917, which reads as follows:

"Whereas, The General Appropriation Bill enacted by the General Assembly of 1915 provided money in accordance with section fifteen of article three of the Constitution of Pennsylvania, for the ordinary expenses of the Executive, Legislative and Judicial Departments of the Commonwealth; and

"Whereas, The appropriation period covered by the General Appropriation Bill of 1915 will expire May 31, 1917;

"Therefore, Be it Resolved (if the House of Representatives concur), the Economy and Efficiency Commission of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania be and is hereby directed to furnish not later than March 1, 1917, the following information:

"First: Items appropriated to the Departments, Commissions and Boards of the Executive Branch of the Government for the two years beginning June 1, 1915, and ending May 31, 1917.

"Second: The amount expended from each appropriation between June 1, 1915, and December 31, 1916.

"Third: The estimated needs of each Department, Commission and Board of the Executive Branch of the Government for the two years begining June 1, 1915, and ending May 31, 1917."

I beg to hand you herewith the statistical data compiled by this Commission in pursuance of the mandate of your resolution.

This information in full was ready for submission to your honorable bodies at the time indicated. You were not then in session. Meanwhile arrangements were made to have meetings of the Economy and Efficiency Commission, and the respective Chairman of the Appropriation Committees of the Senate and House with the heads of the several Executive and other State Departments. These meetings began on March 14, 1917, upon the return of the Appropriation Committees from a tour of the institutions throughout the State seeking appropriation: The Commission, therefore, did submit this information in this manner to your responsible Chairman, and have steadily since with them sat in conference to hear the reasons for the Departmental appropriations and to secure such reductions as a sound economy and a due efficiency could support, based upon the revenues of the Commonwealth.

We have also prepared and will at an early date submit a report sugesting such modifications in the organization of the several Departments as will promote greater economy or efficiency or both.

Your Commission has sought by careful investigation to assist you in your work and thus to lessen the laborious task of ascertaining the necessary data to guide you in making appropriations to those Departments.

Our general report has been postponed by reason of the fact that we have not as yet received any information from you of the amount of additional revenue you intend to provide for the next two fiscal years, as a result of taxing measures proposed by the Revenue Commission created for that purpose by your Honorable Bodies.

Information of the approximate amount of such expected additional revenue would manifestly have a material bearing upon the amounts which could be profitably expended by such of our Departments as have to do vitally with the welfare of our people and the conservation and promotion of wise industrial activities in our State, and such information is essential to any suggestions which this Commission may have to submit.

When this information is given us your Commission will at once make further report to your Honorable Bodies or to your Appropriation Committees, as you may direct, of the sums which in our judgment will secure an economic and efficient performance of administrative duties.

All of which is respectfully submitted by

Yours very truly,

MARTIN G. BRUMBAUGH,
Chairman.

The SPEAKER. The report will be noted on the Journal of the House and with the accompanying exhibit printed in to-day's Legislative Journal.

The exhibit is as follows:

* The amount of money in this column represents the amount of money expended for vocational schools from June 1, 1915, to June 1, 1916. It does not represent any money expended from the first of June, 1916, to the thirty-first of December 1916. It is impossible to calculate the amount of money expended between the first of June, 1916, and the first of June, 1917, inasmuch as the school year does not end until the first Monday in July, 1917. However, the reports received in this office indicate that the establishment of vocational schools will have to be curtailed so that the expenditure for the two years ending the first of June, 1917, will not exceed the amount appropriated for that period.

In order to care for the vocational schools for the two years beginning the first of June, 1917, and ending the thirty-first of May, 1919, the sums indicated in the third column will be necessary if Pennsylvania is to receive from the Federal Government the amount of moneys provided for in the Smith-Huges bill.

† The sums marked † in the second column represent the appropriation made to vocational schools and departments for the first year only of the two year period, June 1, 1915—June 1, 1917. These payments are made but once a year, in the fall of the year following the annual report made by school districts to the Bureau of Vocational Education, said report being made during the month of July. These vocational schools have been in operation in Pennsylvania only a few months more than three years which means that this type of education is just in the stage of initial development. This also means that the number of such schools the first year was necessarily small and that the increase each year for a few years will be very pronounced and very rapid until this type of education becomes established generally throughout the State. This accounts for the substantial increase that is asked for and which should be made if additional schools are to be established in school districts not now enjoying this type of education.

1 This item is increased for 1917-1919 because of the necessity of employing additional architects for supervising and preparing plans in accordance with Section 615, of the School Code which reads as follows:

"Section 615. After the organization of the State Board of Education provided for in this Act, no public school buildings shall be contracted for, constructed or reconstructed, in any school district of the second, third, or fourth class, until their plans and specifications have been submitted to the State Board of Education, and any recommendations concerning the same by the State Board of Education have been paid before the Board of School Directors," And Section 616 which reads as follows:

"Section 616. The State Board of Education shall cause to be prepared and shall, at the expense of the Commonwealth, publish and, upon application furnish without charge, to Boards of School Directors plans and specifications of different kinds of school buildings."

The volume of this business has increased from a building valuation of about three millions in 1914 to five and a half millions in 1916. Furthermore, the present force, which now includes an assistant and three additional stenographers have only been in the service for a part of the period for which the last appropriation was made. The monthly expense, outside of the architects' fees, will exceed $1,500 for the coming years.

2 This item ought to have added to it $325,000 which was transferred from this fund and paid out to the high schools. An additional $325,000.00, or so much of the million as may be available, will be paid at the end of the school year.
3 On this item negotiations are in progress for the purchase of the Millersville, Shippensburg and Kutztown State Normal Schools which will exhaust this appropriation.
4 An increase in the cost of maintenance will require a larger appropriation than that of the last Legislature.

Erection of a dam at the outlet of Pymatuning Swamp,	65,000 00	27,735 32	*Unexpended balance.	*Balance unexpended.

* The Commission suggests that you re-appropriate to it the unexpended balance remaining out of the appropriation made under the provisions of the Appropriation Act of June 18th, 1915, P. L. 196, and in addition thereto, such amount as in the judgment of the General Assembly should be made for the acquisition of lands and the construction of the reservoir.

Note—The Commission requests the General Assembly to make the increased appropriations suggested for the reason that the compensation now paid its technically trained employes is wholly inadequate and very much below that paid by other Departments of the State Government for rendering like services, and for the further reason that unless increased compensation is afforded these employes, in all probability it will lose the services of several of its most valuable engineers; in fact, three of the most competent among them have recently resigned their positions with the Commission to accept employment elsewhere at greatly increased compensation.

The responsibility of passing upon the design of all dams to be erected in this State, which requires careful analysis of each and study of the suitability and adaptability of foundation for the reception of dams; of examining dams during construction, and of seeing to it that they are properly maintained after construction, is imposed upon the Water Supply Commission. The best engineering services procurable should, therefore, be at the disposal of the Commission. To make this impossible is false economy, as the failure of one large dam would cost the Commonwealth more than would be necessary to maintain a properly manned and equipped Dam Division for half a century.

If there be any further information you desire concerning the work of this Commission, or any additional reasons showing why the increased appropriations asked for should be granted, please advise the Commission and the matter will have prompt attention.

Legislative Journal.

Session 1917 — 122nd of the General Assembly

VOL. 4. HARRISBURG, PA., TUESDAY, APRIL 3, 1917. No. 32.

SENATE.

TUESDAY, April 3, 1917.

The Senate met at 11 o'clock P. M.

The PRESIDENT (Lieutenant-Governor Frank B. McClain) in the Chair.

The Chaplain, Rev. Thomas W. Davis, offered the following prayer:

Almighty God, in pursuance of the principles laid down by our Lord and Saviour, the American Government has turned its cheek again and again to the smiting of the mailed fist of militarism until their patience has been exhausted. We are now in a state of war and we have been called upon by a government that has exercised a commendable forbearance and now the entire United States is called upon to express its patriotism in defending our honor and in defending American rights and we pray that our entire people may make all the preparation that is necessary to enter into this warfare without fear, with calmness and with a courage that will be irresistible. Great God arouse us, we pray Thee, to a spirit of defense that will astonish the entire world over and may the issue be clear that we are fighting for the rights of humanity. We make this prayer in our Saviour's name. Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVED.

The PRESIDENT. A quorum of the Senate being present, the Clerk will read the Journal of the preceding session.

The Clerk proceeded to read the Journal of the preceding session, when, on motion of Mr. SONES, the further reading was dispensed with, and the Journal was approved.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

BILL ON THIRD READING AND FINAL PASSAGE.

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 216, as follows:

An Act relating to the salaries and expenses of the examiners in the Department of Banking

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That each examiner in the Banking Department from and after the passage and approval of this act shall receive an annual salary of three thousand dollars and also the actual expenses incurred in the performance of the work assigned to said examiners by the said Commissioner of Banking which salary and expenses shall be paid monthly by warrants drawn by the Auditor General on the State Treasurer

Section 2 All acts or parts of acts inconsistent herewith be and the same are hereby repealed

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and agreed to,

And the amendments made thereto having been printed as required by the Constitution,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. LEIBY. Mr. President and gentlemen of the Senate, as I am informed, there is no provision made here in this bill how this money shall be repaid to the State, or that the State banks shall in any way compensate these examiners. We all know the bank examiners are compensated by the national banks and If I am properly informed it seems to me it would be unjust and will be a discrimination if state banks should have their examinations paid for by the State, and national banks be compelled to pay for their own examining. It would mean an expenditure of many thousand dollars on the part of the State, which should not be placed as a burden on the States finances by this body, and such a discrimination made. I think, if I understand it correctly, the bill is unwise in its present form and should be referred back to the Committee on Banks and Building and Loan Associations for amendment.

Mr. JENKINS. Mr. President, I ask in the absence of the sponsor of this bill, that it go over in its order.

The PRESIDENT. This bill has been agreed to on third reading, and under the rule it cannot go over in its order. The bill must be considered, or a motion to postpone made and carried.

And the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

BILL POSTPONED.

Mr. VARE. Mr. President, I move that the question, together with the further consideration of the bill, be postponed for the present.

Mr. McNICHOL. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

BILLS ON THIRD READING AND FINAL PASSAGE.

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 227 (House Bill No. 122), entitled

An Act to amend Section 16 of an act approved the 28th day of April, one thousand nine hundred and fifteen (P. L. 178), entitled "An Act creating a division of distribution of documents defining its powers and duties; regulating the printing, binding and distribution of the public documents of this Commonwealth; and providing penalties for the violation of this act," to provide that any member or officer of the General Assembly may have all or any part of his allotment of different documents sent on requisition to his residence or business address if he shall so desire.

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and agreed to,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

The yeas and nays were taken agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, and were as follows, viz:

A majority of all the Senators having voted "aye" the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present said bill to the House of Representatives for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 346, as follows:

An Act requiring certain counties in certain instances to assist townships in the construction improvement repair and maintenance of main traveled or trunk roads other than State or State-aid highways and providing the method of procedure

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That the county commissioners of counties having a population less than eight hundred thousand inhabitants shall assist any township located within such county in the construction improvement repair or maintenance of main traveled or trunk roads other than State or State-aid highways when the revenue of such township is insufficient for that purpose as hereinatfer set forth

Section 2 Upon the petition of the commissioners of townships of the first class or upon the petition of the supervisors of townships of the second class joined in by at least five owners of property in any township to the court of quarter sessions of the proper county setting forth that a section of a main traveled or trunk township road between certain designated points giving approximate length is in a dangerous condition and in need of reconstruction improvement repair or maintenance and that the revenue of said township is insufficient to pay the cost of reconstructing improving repairing or maintaining said road in a substantial manner the said court shall appoint three viewers from the county board of viewers none of whom shall be a resident of the township petitioning whose duty is shall be to meet and view said road and make report to said court said viewers shall give notice of the time and place of meeting by publication at least once a week for three consecutive weeks in at least one newspaper of general circulation published in the county and shall also give notice thereof by handbills posted in at least ten conspicuous places along the line or in the vicinity of the road proposed to be constructed improved repaired or maintained

Section 3 The said viewers having been duly sworn or affirmed according to law shall view the road and shall hear all parties interested and their witnesses and shall file within ten days after such hearing their report with the said court of quarter sessions which report shall set forth the fact of the time and place of meeting that the road for which county aid is asked in the improving is a main traveled or trunk road between certain points the condition of said road the number of miles of unimproved roads and the number of miles of improved roads in said township the length of the road to be improved the assessed value of the real estate in the township the millage rate of tax levied for road purposes and the total amount of road tax collected the number of taxables in the township the approximate cost of reconstructing improving repairing or maintaining said road the total indebtedness of said township for road purposes together with their recommendation as to the necessity of reconstructing or maintaining said road with county aid and together with such other recommendations as they shall deem necessary for the information of the court

Section 4 The court shall within fifteen days after the filing of said report give ten days' notice in such manner as may be determined by the court of the time when the said court will examine the report and hear any objections thereto After such examination and hearing the said court shall decide whether the county commissioners of such county shall give assistance to the township which decision shall be final for all purposes

Section 5 If the said court shall decide that assistance is necessary it shall direct the county commissioners of such county to give such assistance specifying the amount to be expended by the county and the purposes for which said money is to be expended Such construction improvement repair or maintenance shall proceed at the instance of the township supervisors under the supervision of the county commissioners or an inspector appointed by them Before any work of reconstruction improvement repairs or maintenance is undertaken a careful and accurate survey and plan and estimate of cost shall be made of the section of road to be reconstructed improved repaired or maintained and submitted together with specifications and contracts to the State Highway Department for approval

Section 6 Each of said viewers shall be paid for each day necessarily and actually spent by him in the performance of his duties such sum as is now provided by law to be paid to viewers selected from the county board of viewers All costs including court costs and costs of advertising and notices shall be paid out of the treasury of the proper county in such cases wherein the viewers reports are approved by the courts otherwise to be paid by the petitioners

Section 7 All acts or parts of acts inconsistent with this act are hereby repealed

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and agreed to,

And the amendments made thereto having been printed as required by the Constitution,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. BEIDLEMAN. Mr. President, I move that the question, together with the further consideration of the bill, be postponed for the present.

Mr. DAIX. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. WARNER. Mr. President, I see no reason to postpone this bill for the present; you might just as well take a vote on it and dispose of it.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

It was not agreed to.

And the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. BEIDLEMAN. Mr. President, I am opposed to this bill because it endeavors to impose the responsibility for the maintenance of roads in some of the townships upon the county. This bill, if it would become a law, would enable any five residents of the township, where the township is unwilling to pay its proportionate share of the construction of public roads, to make an application to the proper court of the county to have viewers appointed for the purpose of determining the costs of the improvement of the highway in that particular township and then the burden rests upon the court, and the court would always be called upon to make some appropriation out of county funds for the improvement of the township roads. That is not fair to the balance of the townships in the county. In some of the townships, where a large proportion of taxes are paid for county maintenance, instead of having the money applied to the improvement of roads in the particular township, the township which is unwilling to pay any of its own money for the improvement of the public roads gets the benefit of the money that is paid by people in other parts of the county. It is not a fair piece of legislation and should not be enacted into law.

Mr. WARNER. Mr. President, in reply to the Senator from Dauphin, I am sorry that I do not have the ability to answer his remarks, but from a practical standpoint I wish to call the attention of the Senators of this body to the fact that there are conditions existing in forty or fifty per cent. of the counties of this State that require attention. Townships in a number of counties have been robbed of their resources because they have been taken away in the past and have left the people of those communities without resources, consequently they have no roads that are fit to travel and are a burden upon the counties where they are situated and by giving them some assistance by the communities that have had the benefit from those townships in the past they can be self-sustaining and have roads that can be traveled by the public in general, and the people from the larger communities or cities, they use those roads more and are benefited more than the poor people who live in those townships which have been cited here. Gentlemen, we talk about the high cost of living. Unless there are measures taken to assist those communities in the way of giving them better roads and better schools, the cost of living will be still higher than it is at present. It is a pleasant thing for us who live in cities and towns to have our ladies sit on the front porch in luxury and ease and think that the people in the townships and rural districts must work to give us a cheap living. Gentlemen, it is time that we take measures to assist those communities that cannot help themselves. If that policy had been adhered to in the past the west would be desolate and would not be supplying us and to-day we would be starving. I hope you will consider this measure on its merits and vote accordingly.

Mr. BEIDLEMAN. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the Senator from Carbon, Mr. Warner.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Carbon, Mr. Warner, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. WARNER. Mr. President, I will.

Mr. BEIDLEMAN. Mr. President, I desire to ask the Senator from Carbon, in reply to his remarks, whether the townships to which he refers have been depleted of their natural resources and whether they were not depleted by reason of the ownership of persons living in the township and having lands there who took the stuff away.

Mr. WARNER. Mr. President, no sir, in the counties that I represent, you people all know Albert Lewis, a lumber king; he had the benefit of the lumber in all of these counties and left the townships desolate.

Mr. BEIDLEMAN. Mr. President, I desire to further interrogate the Senator from Carbon.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Carbon, Mr. Warner, permit himself to be further interrogated?

Mr. WARNER. Mr. President, I will.

Mr. BEIDLEMAN. Mr. President, I desire to ask the Senator if Mr. Lewis did not own the property there at the time, or have a lease on it?

Mr. WARNER. Mr. President, yes, that is no doubt the case, but after the timber was taken off he left the lands to be sold for taxes, a great many of them, and that is about all that they have now and we use those roads for our pleasure to pass over.

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and agreed to,

And the amendments made thereto having been printed as required by the Constitution,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. WASBERS. Mr. President, this bill proposes taking quail out of the game class. Now this is very wrong. You eliminate the interest of the true sportsman and you will not have any quail. In the county that I represent during my history the quail have been exterminated two different times. Owing to deep snows; became snowed in and they were exterminated. The results was that the sportsmen of our county created a fund of over two thousand dollars and restocked the county. It is not the matter of shooting quail; that does not diminish the number of quail in the State; it is the heavy winters and the heavy snows and other natural enemies such as weasels, minks, foxes and hawks. Now if the Senator from Greene desires to have the season closed in his county he has ample law right for his own section. He can close his county. This bill affects some eight hundred thousand people in this State, people who are interested to the extent that when there is any snow they have people to go out and feed them. That is the only reason we have quail in the lower tier of this State; in Adams, York, Berks, Lancaster, Dauphin, Chester, Delaware and all those counties. These counties have an abundance of quail. We now have more quail in our county than we have had in twenty-five years and I therefore think it is a great mistake. If you eliminate the interest of the sportsmen, you will not have any quail.

Mr. STEWART. Mr. President, I regret to take any time of the Senate in defending a bill of this kind. I just have one interrogation to place before the Senate. Are the agricultural interests of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania of more importance than the sporting interests of this Commonwealth? Now I want to answer one of the statements made by my good friend in front of me. He says that if we eliminate this bird from the game list that it will become exterminated. Mr. President, I have a report right here and I will just read a little to see what they have done. "Our turkeys, quail and squirrel have not held their own." Then what service has this Game Protective Association of Pennsylvania done for that interest? And he says the gun does not exterminate the quail. Why, Mr. President, that is not true, I say it respectfully. That is what does exterminate the quail. It is the gun. Let me for a moment point you to the course or proceedings of this Protective Association, if you please. What do they do? They spend some money in stocking sections of the State with quail, not in the interest of the farmers, although it is a valuable little bird, one of the most valuable in picking up insects that are injurious to our crops of all kinds. What do they expend this money for? What does the protection amount to? Why when they get a bunch of them grown they inflict capital punishment with the shot gun and they never quit. There is no commutation of sentence as long as there is a feather in the air. What is the rule among these men? The hunter can kill eight per day, twenty-five per week or forty per season, and there is not one hundredth part or number of quail to go around among all these hunters. They are simply killed. I want to say to you gentlemen that this little naturalized quail in the State of Pennsylvania, if you put him on the song bird list will endure all the hunger and all the conditions that prevail all over this State. I have been all over the State and in touch with every county and the farmers. It has been charged we farmers have no interest in this quail. We certainly have and as long as I can remember my father instructed me place out feed and watch where these little fellows roost, because they have homes, and to feed these quail at times when possibly they might starve to death. There is no encouragement for the farmer to do that now because the shotgun simply exterminates them.

I want to tell you on my farm I have given them all the protection I possibly can. Last year I had two little coveys on my farm and while I was away last fall some hunters, and I don't say all hunters are of that kind at all, I wish to speak respectfully, slipped in and exterminated these quail, all but ten, and there were twenty in one flock and fourteen in another. Now what does the shotgun do? Now my fellow Senators, I appeal to you. And look here, there is another thing, they say these other birds in the State have increased. Then why will not the quail increase in numbers if you take the shortgun away? Why surely he will and there is no encouragement now for the farmers to take the interest he ought to take, and that he does take, to protect these quail because they are simply exterminated.

And see here. I want to say to you that there is as much melody in that "Bob White" as there is in any other song bird and it is pleasant to sit on a summer evening to hear him whistle that pleasant "Bob White" to his splendid little mate to cross the ravine or hill top. We want some of these natural creations in the bird line left to us farmers. It makes home pleasant. I want you to remember that fact. You will enjoy it if you ever come out to see us. I permit hunting on my place, I do not object to a man coming to me wanting to hunt, and I have some game on my place, that they are always ready to kill. These nasty long-eared rabbits make me wrap my trees every Fall, and I invited the boys up and I went with them, and we killed every one we could. And we have another species of game you can hunt, and that is the ground hog. I don't know whether you are fond of hog or not of that kind, but if you are, you are welcome to them.

Now we will give you the rabbit and the ground hog, but let this little quail go free, give him his life, and his liberty and the pursuit of happiness.

Mr. WASBERS. Mr. President, I have been told that monious for any argument. We seem to be both protectionists. We both endeavor to protect the quail and I want to say another word in defense to the sportsmen of the State of Pennsylvania, and I would like to ask the Senator from Greene a question.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Greene, Mr. Stewart, permit himself of be interrogated?

Mr. STEWART. Mr. President, I will.

Mr. WASHBERS. Mr. President, I have been told that the Sportsmen's Association of his county has been furnishing buckwheat to the farmers to plant for the purpose of retaining the quail in his section. Is that true?

Mr. STEWART. Mr. President, I would like the Senator from York, Mr. Wasbers, to state that question again.

Mr. WASBERS. Mr. President, it has been said that the Sportsmen's Association of his district has been furnishing buckwheat to the farmers for seed to plant for his own use purposes, simply to protect quail and make them stay there, so they have something to eat. Is that true?

Mr. STEWART. Mr. President, I said to my knowledge not at all. I bought my buckwheat seed myself. I did not get it from any sportsmens association.

Mr. WASBERS. Mr. President, my question has been misinterpreted. I did not mean to say that the Senator received his buckwheat from the Sportsmen's Association, but the farmers of his district did.

Mr. STEWART. Mr. President, I said to my knowledge the farmers of my distrist did not receive any buckwheat. The Senator is a good speaker but a mighty poor listener.

And the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

BILL ON THIRD READING.

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 676, as follows:

An Act conferring certain powers upon fire marshals in counties in this Commonwealth providing for a review by the courts of common pleas of the orders of the fire marshals and the filling of liens for the cost of removal of nuisances regulating the adjustment of fire losses and providing fines and penalties for violations of the orders of the fire marshals

Section 1 Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly met and it is hereby enacted by the authority of the same That fire marshals in counties in this Commonwealth shall have the following powers

To enter at all reasonable times and inspect all buildings within the counties in this Commonwealth wherein they are appointed and where it is found that any of the same are dilapidated and hazardous endangering life and adjoining property from fire the same are hereby declared to be a nuisance and the fire marshals of such counties shall order the same repaired if the hazardous condition can be corrected but if not then he shall order the said buildings removed within a reasonable time thereafter Said notice of removal shall be served upon the owner or occupant of said building which service for the purposes herein shall be sufficient

To enforce all laws ordinances and rules now in force or which may hereafter be enacted for the storing of all explosives oils gasolines and all inflammable and explosive materials and to enforce all laws ordinances rules and regulations now or hereafter enacted or adopted within said counties regarding the erection construction and repairing of buildings as the same concerns the elimination of fire hazards

To regulate and prevent the overcrowding of all public places where large numbers of people congregate and if any such places is dangerous and a menace to life and property to order and close the same

Section 2 If any person feels aggrieved by any order of any such fire marshals for the removal or correction of any such nuisance such person may within five days after such order is given file his petition in the courts of common pleas of the proper county praying a review of such order by said court whereupon a stay of the enforcement of said order may be granted if the court so determines but said person filing said petition shall be required by said court to give a good and sufficient bond to be approved by said court in an adequate amount conditioned for the faithful and prompt prosecution of said case and the payment of all costs that may accrue thereon whether such order is affirmed modified or reserved The court shall dispose of such petition as soon as possible either with or without a jury trial as the law in the opinion of said court requires

Section 3 When by order of any such fire marshals or upon directions of the court of common pleas as aforesaid affirming or modifying any order as aforesaid it is directed that such a nuisance as aforesaid be removed or corrected and the owner or occupant neglects and refuses to comply therewith or to actually commence correction or removal thereof as directed for a period of ten days after notice that said order has become final as aforesaid then and in such case such fire marshal shall have the right to apply by petition to the court of the common pleas of the proper county for an order directing the owner or occupant thereof to comply with said order within forty-eight hours thereafter and on default thereof the said owner or occupant as the case may be shall be considered in contempt of court for violation of the decree and order of said court and may be imprisoned by direction of said court until he is purged of such contempt On failure and refusal of an owner or occupant to comply with the said order instead of proceeding as heretofore in this section set out any of said marshals may apply to said common pleas court for an order directing and ordering that said nuisance be abated and removed or corrected whereupon the cost thereof shall be charged to and paid by the county commissioners of the county wherein said nuisance had existed

Section 4 When by any order of any such fire marshals or when an order is affirmed or modified by the court as herein set out a nuisance is directed to be removed or corrected and the owner or occupant thereof fails and refuses to fully comply therewith within a reasonable time after notice then such owner or occupant shall be deemed guilty of wilfully keeping and maintaining a nuisance detrimental to life and property and fined not more than fifty dollars and not less than twenty-five dollars for each day such refusal continues

Section 5 Such fire marshals through their said several solicitors shall file a lien in the courts of common pleas of the proper county for the cost of the removal of said nuisances as set out in section three of this act which lien shall be reduced to judgment as other liens are now reduced and when final judgment is obtained thereof the same may be prosecuted to sale and execution in the same manner as other judgments are now collectible

Section 6 It shall be the duty of all fire insurance companies doing business in said counties to report in detail immediately to such fire marshals every fire occurring in said respective counties and of which they are notified before any adjustment of said loss is made and upon failure to do so such fire insurance companies shall be liable to a fine of not more than fifty dollars and not less than ten dollars

Section 7 All fines and penalties due hereunder shall be collectible at the suit of the said respective fire marshals as other fines and penalties are collectible

And said bill having been read at length the third time,
On the question,
Will the Senate agree to the bill?

The assistants shall notify the State Fire Commissioner at his office in Harrisburg immediately by telephone or telegraphic message of not more than ten words of the occurrence of any incendiary fire

The duties hereinabove prescribed to be performed by the said assistant may be limited by the State Fire Commissioner at his discretion when requested in writing so to do

Any of the aforesaid assistants who shall neglect or refuse to report to the State Fire Commissioner or to make reports or investigations of fires as provided in this section shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction shall be sentenced to pay a fine not exceeding fifty dollars or to undergo imprisonment not exceeding thirty days or both at the discretion of the court

The fifth section of the bill was read as follows:

"Section 5 The State Fire Marshal his deputies or assistants upon the complaint of any person or whenever he or they shall deem it necessary shall inspect the buildings and premises within their jurisdiction Whenever any of the said officers shall find any building or structure which for want of repairs or by reason of age or dilapidated condition or for any other cause is especially liable to fire and so situated as to endanger other property he or they shall order the same to be removed or remedied if the same is reasonably practicable thereby lessening the danger from fire Whenever such officer shall find in any building combustible or explosive matter of inflammable conditions which are in violation of any law or ordinance applicable thereto or are dangerous to the safety of such buildings thereby endangering other property he or they shall order the same to be removed or remedied and such order shall forthwith be complied with by the owner or occupant of such premises or building If such order is made by a deputy or assistant of the State Fire Marshal such owner or occupant may within five days appeal to the State Fire Marshal who shall within ten days review such order and file his decision thereof and unless by his authority the order is revoked or modified it shall remain in full force and be obeyed by such owner or occupant Provided however That any such owner or occupant who feels himself aggrieved by such order may within five days after the same has been affirmed by the State Fire Marshal file his petition with the court of common pleas of the proper county praying a review of such order and it shall be the duty of the court to hear the same at the first convenient day and to make such order in the premises as right and justice may require

"Any owner or occupant failing to comply with such order within ten days after said appeal shall have been determined or if no appeal is taken then within twenty days after the service of said order shall be liable to a penalty of twenty-five dollars for each days neglect thereafter The service of any such order shall be made upon the occupant of the premises to whom it is directed by either delivering a true copy of same to such occupant personally or by delivering the same to and leaving it with any person in charge of the premises or in case no such person in found upon the premises by affixing a copy thereof in a conspicuous place on the door to the entrance of the said premises Whenever it may be necessary to serve such an order upon the owner of premises such order may be served either by delivering to and leaving with the said person a true copy of the said order or if such owner is absent from the jurisdiction of the officer making the order by mailing such copy to the owners last known post office address The penalties herein provided may be recovered as debts are by law collectible in any courts having jurisdiction of the parties Such action shall be brought in the name of the Commonwealth under the direction of the State Fire Marshal or any of his deputies or assistants by the Attorney General or by any district attorney or legally constituted law officer of any county city borough township or other municipality who may be designated by the Attorney General or at the option of the Attorney General he may designate any attorney to bring such action" is hereby amended to read as follows

Section 5 The State Fire Commissioner on his own motion or upon complaint in writing shall inspect any buildings premises or property which in his judgment require inspection The other officers named in this act shall likewise upon their own motion or upon complaint in writing inspect any buildings premises or property within their respective territories which in their judgment may require inspection and shall make such other inspections as are required by the State Fire Commissioner

Whenever the State Fire Commissioner or any of his deputies marshals or assistants shall find any building premises or property which for any cause or reason are especially liable to fire or in any way a menace to human life or shall find that any building premises or property are so situate as to endanger any other building premises or property or is so occupied that in the event of fire it would endanger human life or property therein the State Fire Commissioner his deputies or marshals shall order such building or buildings premises or property to be repaired and placed in a safe condition within such reasonable time as may be specified in said order

If the State Fire Commissioner or any of his deputies marshals or assistants shall find in any building or upon any premises any unnecessary accumulation of rubbish rags waste paper boxes chavings or any other inflammable material or any oil naphtha gasoline kerosene blasting powder gunpowder dynamite or any other explosive or highly inflammable or combustible material or shall find any other condition whatsoever which is a menace to human life or endangers the safety of any such building premises or property or shall find any obstruction on or about fire escapes stairs passageways doors or windows which would be liable to interfere with the free ingress or egress he or they shall order the same removed and conditions remedied within a reasonable time to be specified in said order

Whenever the State Fire Commissioner his deputies marshals or assistants shall find any building or buildings or any part thereof which for any cause or reason jeopardizes human life or constitute a fire menace and which cannot be removed by making repairs the State Fire Commissioner his deputies or marshals shall order said building or buildings or any part thereof to be demolished specifying in said order the reason or reasons therefor and also specifying a reasonable time within which said building or buildings or parts thereof shall be demolished and removed

All such orders shall be in writing and shall be made and served upon the owner life tenant lessee or occupant of such building premises or property or upon the agent of the owner life tenant lessee or occupant in the manner following

(a) By handing a true copy thereof to such owner life tenant lessee occupant or agent thereof or

(b) By posting a copy thereof in a conspicuous place on the said building premises or property and mailing a copy thereof to the said owner life tenant lessee occupant or agent thereof to their last known address In case no address is known or cannot be ascertained then in lieu of such mailing a copy of said order there shall in addition to the above mentioned posting thereof be handed a copy of said order to an adult occupant or to a person if any there be in charge of said building premises or property or to an adult member of the family

Any owner life tenant less occupant or agent upon whom any such order may be made or served by any of the deputies marshals or assistants may within five days from the service of said initial order appeal to the State Fire Commissioner by petition in writing setting forth succinctly under oath or affirmation the facts and reasons upon which said appeal is based whereupon the State Fire Commissioner shall review the facts upon which such order was made and the grounds or reason for such appeal and make his final order in writing within ten (10) days from the date of receipt of appeal by affirming revoking or modifying the original order The final order in such case shall be served upon the owner life tenant lessee occupant or agent in the same manner as the order hereinbefore provided The entire record in any such case shall be filed in the office of the State Fire Commissioner and shall be open to the inspection of the appellant or any person against whom the same may have been made

If the said initial order is affirmed or modified the same shall be complied with by such owner life tenant lessee occupant or agent named therein within the time therein specified

Any owner life tenant lessee occupant or agent aggrieved by any initial or final order of the State Fire Commissioner may appeal therefrom to the court of common pleas of the county in which the real or personal property in question is situate within five days after the service of any such order of the State Fire Commissioner Such owner life tenant lessee occupant or agent shall as a condition precedent to such right of appeal give notice in writing to the State Fire Commissioner of his intention to take such appeal Such notice of intention to appeal shall be given by mailing the same by registered mail to the office of the State Fire Commissioner in the City of Harrisburg

The appeal to the court shall be by petition under oath or affirmation setting forth succinctly the reasons for said appeal and there shall be filed with said appeal proof of service upon the State Fire Commissioner in the manner aforesaid of the said notice of intention to take such appeal A certified copy of such petition shall be mailed by registered mail to the State Fire Commissioner at his office in the City of Harrisburg on the same day upon which the said petition is presented and filed in court

Upon the presentation of such petition the court shall summarily hear and determine the reasonableness and lawfulness of the final order of the State Fire Commissioner The appellant shall give immediate notice of the day fixed for hearing in writing by registered mail to the State Fire Commissioner at his office in the City of Harrisburg The date of hearing as fixed by the court shall not be earlier than five days nor later than twenty days after the presentation of such petition Upon the presentation of such petition the court may suspend the order of the State Fire Commissioner pending the final hearing and order of the court upon the appellant filing a bond with surety approved by the court in an amount not less than one hundred dollars ($100) conditioned as the court may deem proper including however the condition that the appellant shall pay all the costs of such appeal in the event that the appeal is dismissed

The appellant at the time of the presentation of the petition shall have the right to demand by writing presented and filed with his appeal a trial by jury If the order of the State Fire Commissioner appealed from shall be of such a character that its enforcement would affect any rights of the petitioner concerning the determination of which a trial by jury is secured by the Constitution of the Commonwealth the court shall direct an issue to be framed to determine such matters and shall advance such case to the head of the next trial list of said court Pending any trial by jury and the final judgment thereon the court may enter an order suspending the order of the State Fire Commissioner in the manner hereinbefore provided in cases where no trial by jury is demanded

The judgment of the court of common pleas upon appeal affirming modifying or revoking the order of the State Fire Commissioner appealed from shall be final If the judgment is against the appellant or if the appeal is dismissed judgment for costs shall be entered against the appellant

Any owner life tenant lessee or occupant upon whom or upon whose agent any initial or final order of the State Fire Commissioner or any order of the deputies or assistants aforesaid shall have been served as aforesaid who shall neglect fail or refuse to comply with the terms of such order within thirty days after the service thereof or in the event of an appeal as hereinbefore provided then within thirty days after the final order of the State Fire Commissioner or the final judgment of the court as the case may be shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction shall be sentenced to pay a fine of not less than ten dollars nor more than fifty dollars for each day's neglect or be imprisoned in the county jail for a period not exceeding thirty days or both at the discretion of the court
